BUDGET SLASH OF $12,000,000 IS FACING CITY

Commissioners to Seek Civic Groups' Advice in Situation.

SUM OF $45,618,140 AVAILABLE FOR 1933

Estimates of $57,097,384 to Be Cut to Stay in Limit; No Raise in Tax.

Faced with one of the severest economy programs in recent years in drafting the 1933 fiscal year budget, the District Commissioners late yesterday announced that advice will be asked of Washington's trade and civic bodies as to what projects included in the departmental estimates can best be eliminated.

Executives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Trade, the Merchants & Manufacturers Association, and the Citizens Advisory Council will be asked to confer with the District heads at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the board room.

The Commissioners yesterday revealed that school, library, welfare, park and similar needs would have to be cut to the bone to keep the estimates of $57,097,384 within the $45,618,140 available for 1933 from all sources. Besides being confronted with decreased revenue, due largely to falling tax collections and to the large appropriations of the past two years, the Commissioners have also to meet a deficit of $1,700,000 in the $3,000,000 cash fund required by law.

Declined Tax Increase.

Two alternatives faced the District heads this year, Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, chairman of the board, explained yesterday at conference with newspapermen. Either the departmental estimates would have to be made approximately $12,000,000 or else the tax rate would have to be raised from $1.70 to $2.60. The Commissioners have chosen the former course.

This will mean, moreover, that there will be no step-ups in salaries, no added personnel and few salary increases during the fiscal year 1933. Improvements, or new projects, will be little more than a third that provided for this year.

The schools, which fared so well in the 1932 appropriation act, will doubtless be cut considerably by the Commissioners although their estimates of $11,213,837 exceed last year's appropriation by $907,277.

Must Make Up Deficit.

While admitting that the Commissioners are faced with a serious problem, Dr. Reichelderfer explained that the appropriations for the fiscal years 1931 and 1932 were unusually large, partly to offset the current depression, and that the 1933 appropriation would be nearer to normalcy. For the last several years the District Government has had a large surplus, and now it must not only live on its current revenues but must also make good a $1,700,000 deficit.

The current depression is reflected in the revised estimates of Maj. Daniel J. Sullivan for both the fiscal years 1931 and 1932 as of May 1, this year. For the 1931 fiscal year, which begins July 1, the estimated revenue has been cut from $50,454,143.57 to $49,722,643.67. The reduction for 1932 is from $46,902,575.55 to $44,647,595.35.

Tax collections are at present approximately $7,000,000 in arrears, according to Maj Donovan, and indications are that this amount will increase rather than decrease. A goodly portion of the taxes, with the exception of realty taxes, will probably never be collected, he predicted.

Surplus Shows Decrease.

The surplus, including the $3,000,000 cash fund has fallen from $9,469,143.67 in 1930 to an estimated $1,332,084.35 at the end of the fiscal year 1932.

Maj. Donovan estimated that there is $37,827,320 available for 1933 appropriations out of the general fund. Additions of the gasoline tax fund of $1,800,000, the water fund of $2,143,820, and the trust and special funds amounting to $3,847,000 bring the total availability to $45,618,140.

Pointing out that the total departmental estimates for general fund items in 1933 are $49,217,344, the auditor subtracted the net $37,827,320 available and arrived at $11,389,024 as the reduction that will have to be made by the Commissioners if they are to retain the $1.70 tax rate.

The estimated revenue and credits of the District for 1933, including the $9,500,000 payment by the Federal Government, is $44,452,320. The predicted slump in the District's income is reflected in comparison with the revenue and credit (estimated and actual) for the three previous years: 1930, $48,348,009.17; 1931, $49,722,643.67; 1932, $44,647,595.35.

The $37,827,320 available for general fund appropriations, which ex-

Grand Jury Indicts Rheem and Brewer

Edmund D. Rheem, left, and J. Newton Brewer are charged with embezzlement and withholding unpaid notes in indictments returned yesterday. Both were officials in the bankrupt firm of Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co.

Charges Embezzling of $162,150 in Firm's Unpaid Notes.

Indictments on charges of embezzlement and taking away and concealing $162,150 in unpaid Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. notes, were returned yesterday by the District grand jury against Edmund D. Rheem and J. Newton Brewer, executive vice president and second vice president, respectively, of the bankrupt firm.

Indictment of Brewer, who with other officers of the company was declared at recent bankruptcy hearing, a "rubber stamp" of Rheem, came as something of a surprise to creditors. Rheem already was under $25,000 bond on the embezzlement charge.

CALHOUNS TESTIFY; MISTRIAL AVERTED

Husband, Wife Occupy Full Day on Stand in Alleged Blackmail Plot.

The Calhouns, husband and wife, occupied the entire day on the witness stand yesterday in the trial of three men and two women on charges of conspiring to blackmail them.

Mrs. C. C. Calhoun was excused from the stand shortly before the noon recess after having spent two days and a half testifying. She appeared tired from the rigors of answering questions propounded to her by five defense attorneys.

Assistant United States Attorney Irving Goldstein placed Capt. Calhoun on the stand to begin the afternoon session, and he requested an adjournment at 3:20 o'clock when he said that he had completed one of the two phases of the testimony to be offered by Mr. Calhoun. Over the objections of some of the defense counsel, Justice Jesse Adkins permitted an adjournment ten minutes previous to the agreed time.

Through Mr. Calhoun, the Government is placing before the jury the events that immediately preceded the arrest of the five, W. Clark Noble, his wife, Emile B. Noble; James F. Bird, Stephen A. Armstrong, jr., and Mrs. Anna Hillenbrand. Capt. Calhoun's testimony is expected to take up all of today's session, and then the Government will place on the stand Department of Justice agents who sat in on the alleged conspiracy and dictated the procedure for the Calhouns.

Mrs. Calhoun did not leave the witness stand without a final fling. As she arose from the witness chair, she turned to the jury and said:

"They tried for three days to break down my testimony, but they didn't do it."

Charles Arth, counsel for James F. Bird, immediately moved for a mistrial on the ground that Mrs. Calhoun's remarks were prejudicial to the interests of his client.

"I'll give you a mistrial if the counsel for the other defendants will join with you in the request," Justice Adkins said.

That ended the matter, though, for none of the other counsel thought it wise to end the hearing.

Previous to the incident Justice Adkins had become somewhat irked by Mrs. Calhoun's inability to refrain from transgressing the limits of attorneys' questions. Once she answered a question over the objection of Assistant United States Attorney Irving Goldstein. "I would have ruled that out," Justice Adkins said.

POPE PIUS PLANS LABOR ENCYCLICAL

World Message Expected to Go Beyond Similar Pastoral by Leo XIII.

Vatican City, May 12 (A.P.).—The announcement that Pope Pius would issue an encyclical on labor, supplementing the famous encyclical "Rerum Novarum" of Pope Leo XIII on the same subject, aroused intense interest today owing to the world-wide nature of the subject.

The Pope is expected to issue his encyclical a few days after his radio address on Friday, commemorating the fortieth anniversary of Pope Leo's famous labor utterance. The radio address will be directed to 10,000 representatives of labor organizations of all parts of the world.

His Holiness is now working on the document, and it is expected that the encyclical will be generally outlined in the radio address.

The encyclical of Leo XIII was considered revolutionary at the time in economic thought, and it is believed that Pope Pius will carry it a long step further.

Pope Leo declared the workman's right to a living wage which would enable himself and his family to live well but frugally, to save something, and in time to own some property. He urged the formation of labor unions to secure this right and urged employers to regard workmen as more than machines. The natural law, he said, intended labor and capital to be not inimical to each other, as had been supposed, but actually friendly, because they constituted two essential members of the body of economic life.

He defended private property and urged the extension of smaller ownership, but declared the State should intervene, if necessary, to defend the rights of workers.

Pope Pius, it is believed, will say that Pope Leo's document still lives today, but it is thought he will make further recommendations.

Pope Leo protested against concentration of wealth and the means of wealth in too few hands. Pope Pius, it is thought, will make the point that this concentration has been further accentuated during the last 40 years.

It is believed that the Pontiff will supplant the pastoral to the archbishops and bishops of the United States, issued in September, 1919, in which it was declared that labor unions, though necessary, were too militant and should be supplanted by associations composed of both employers and employes, to place an emphasis on common interests rather than divergent aims.

Employes Chase and Seize Man in Cash Drawer Theft

Capture Effected Two Blocks From Scene as Motor Car Company's Workmen Overhaul Alleged Robber in Northeast Section of City.

A spectacular man-hunt staged by a dozen employes of the Northeast Motor Co. the moment a Negro raced from its building at 906 Bladensburg road northeast yesterday afternoon gripping $24.50 he had grabbed from its service department ended a few minutes later when a man charged with the crime was captured two blocks away in a clump of woods.

The man identified himself as James Rudolph West, 20 years old, of Fifth street near P street northwest. He was booked on petit larceny charges at the Ninth Precinct station, where police said the man confessed that he had been motivated by unemployment for several months and the illness of his wife.

Miss Daisy Carr, of Laurel, Md., cashier in the shop, said she noted the man walk into the large garage shed, past her office inclosure, to the stock department. Hearing the snap of a cash register, Ashby Brown, of Clarendon, Va., an employe of the department, walked from behind a stack of accessories and saw a Negro scooping money out of the till.

His shout prompted the man to forsake about $40 remaining in the register and to vault a railing and race out of the shop as Brown was joined by Leslie Bonde, of 4430 New Hampshire avenue northwest, and Earl Abigail, of Bladensburg, Md., other employes.

Other employes soon followed as the chase led westward and into the woods. Bonde, Brown and Abigail,

ARMY POST CUT IS TERMED MOVE FOR EFFICIENCY

Hoover Points Out That 20 or 30 Units Will Be Abandoned.

COMMITTEE CHOSEN TO DECIDE DISPOSAL

President Suggests Some of Stations Might Be Used as Institutions.

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

The plan to abandon between 20 and 30 Army posts is more than an economy move; it is a move in the direction of greater military efficiency, according to a statement made by President Hoover yesterday.

The President pointed out that the general staff has long insisted that the Army must be more largely concentrated if it is to be an effective military body.

In this connection, the last report of Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, the inspector general of the Army, is recalled. Gen. Drum said that whether the Army's present state of preparedness and training is adequate is highly questionable.

"The primary and vital mission of the Regular Army," Gen. Drum said, "is to stand ready at any moment to meet any emergency with the full force of the greatest possible combat power which its organization and strength may be capable of developing. * * * "

Scattered in Small Garrisons.

As it is, Gen. Drum said, a good part of the Army is "scattered in small garrisons along our extensive frontiers and in the central States." Thus, he said, no opportunity is offered for "practical training in tactical mobility and maneuverability and tactical fire power of combined arms."

"Yet," he added, "these very qualities are the essence of the combat power that a regular Army should possess in the highest degree."

The statement of President Hoover yesterday was the first that contained any definite idea as to the number of Army posts to be abandoned. The President said that the number "probably" would be between 20 and 30.

Most of these, it is understood, will be Coast Artillery posts now in a caretaker status—that is, in the keeping of a small group of soldiers.

Held Next to Useless.

In days gone by these coast artillery posts were counted on to ward off the approach of enemy ships. Now, however, many of them are regarded as being next to useless. Their task has been passed on to mobile railroad guns, big airplane bombers and submarines.

President Hoover not only was prepared to point out the efficiency aspect of the War Department economy program yesterday, but he had a solution for the political aspect of it.

He announced that he had appointed a committee, one composed of representatives of the War Department, the Department of Justice, the Department of Agriculture and the Veterans' Bureau, whose task it will be to see what can be done to make use of the abandoned forts.

The President's idea evidently is that some of the abandoned forts might be used as federal prison

BRIAND GIVEN SLIGHT EDGE OVER DOUMER

France Eagerly Awaiting Outcome of Ballot for President.

FORECASTERS AGREE RACE WILL BE CLOSE

Foreign Minister Is Hit for Opposing Man Whom He Once Indorsed.

Paris, May 12 (A.P.).—Election fever seized France tonight on the eve of the gathering of the National Assembly at Versailles tomorrow to elect the twelfth president of the republic.

The contest appeared to have narrowed down to Aristide Briand, 69-year-old foreign minister and eleven times premier, and Paul Doumer, president of the Senate.

Police tonight charged a group of 50 royalist students who were demonstrating against Briand in the Latin Quarter. Five of them were arrested and the others were dispersed.

In the corridors of the Chamber of Deputies, Briand remained the favorite all day. However, some doubt had arisen that he would carry the election on the first ballot.

Meetings of Senate and Chamber groups revealed the difficulty of maintaining party discipline in a secret ballot. As political maneuvers get under way there is increasing reticence on the part of forecasters, although many believe that the foreign minister will be the next president.

Socialists' Attitude in Doubt.

The anti-Briand element has concentrated around Doumer. The small vote which it is estimated that Jean Hennessy, wealthy distiller, will receive, is expected to come from Briand's ranks.

This may be compensated for by the Socialist support, although the Socialists have kept their attitude in doubt by postponing their group meeting until tomorrow morning.

The new chief executive will succeed President Gaston Doumergue, whose seven-year term expires June 13.

Briand was reproached by several evening newspapers, including the Conservative le Temps, for bringing an element of combat into the election by setting himself up against Doumer, whose candidacy the foreign minister previously had indorsed.

Briand also was accused of being the real candidate of the Socialists, headed by Leon Blum.

Fears Policy Failure, Is Charge.

Le Temps says that the foreign minister risks giving the impression that he is seeking to establish himself in Elysee Palace because he fears the failure of his foreign policies.

Journal des Debates declares that Briand's candidacy was secretly prepared a long time ago by revolutionary Socialists and Free Masons and "all forces of Germanized internationalism."

Versailles, France, May 12 (A.P.).—This ordinarily tranquil town today showed signs of former grandeur in anticipation of the presidential election which will take place in the castle tomorrow as deputies and senators arrived to name a successor to President Gaston Doumergue.

The president is elected by the Senate and Chamber of Deputies in national assembly without open cam-

Party Leaders State Three '32 Viewpoints

Radio Speeches of Democrats, Republicans and Independents Emphasize Economic Problems of Campaign and Suggest Candidates.

(Associated Press.)

The issues of the 1932 presidential campaign were outlined last night from three different viewpoints by senators from the Republican, Democratic and Independent Republican ranks.

Economic issues were emphasized in the radio speeches sponsored by National League of Women Voters over the National Broadcasting Co. network. Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, spoke for the Republican Independents; Senator Walsh, of Montana, for the Democrats, and Senator Hastings, of Delaware, for the Republicans.

Senators La Follette and Walsh stressed economic conditions, the tariff, power regulation, farm relief and armament reduction. Both ignored prohibition.

Senator Hastings predicted the 1932 Democratic campaign "will consist of destructive criticism," and that the campaign would be determined upon the economic issue. The Republicans, he added, would respond with a "campaign of education." Senator Hastings likewise ignored prohibition, and belittled as "absurd" talk of Republicans nominating another with President Hoover available.

Meanwhile, apart from the radio forum, Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, reported organization of a movement for the nomination next year of a "Progressive" by the Republicans. As possible candidates he mentioned Senators Borah, Idaho; Johnson, California; Norris, Nebraska, and La Follette, together with Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania.

Declaring the "existing national crisis must be squarely faced," Senator La Follette presented a nine-point platform on behalf of the Republican independents. He outlined the following issues:

1. More equitable distribution of economic benefits through Government cooperation in a program of stabilizing industry, unemployment insurance, public employment exchanges, workmen's compensation, maintenance of wage levels, shorter day and work week, antiinjunction legislation.

2. Federal aid for the unemployed.

3. Increased taxes on inheritances and big incomes.

4. Elimination of rivalry in naval construction.

5. Government provision for maternity aid.

6. Revision of the tariff downward.

7. Constructive measures for rehabilitation of agriculture.

8. Public competition and closer supervision of the profit-seeking corporations and interlocking groups of banking interests which now rule over the power industry.

9. Improvement of the machinery of government by retention of the direct primary; more thoroughgoing corrupt practices act; liberalization

SPAIN WILL ATTEMPT TO INDICT ALFONSO AS INSTIGATOR OF RIOTS

RELIGIOUS BUILDINGS ARE STILL IN FLAMES

Mob Destruction Spreads to Other Cities From Madrid's Ruins.

Cordova, Spain, Wednesday, May 13 (A.P.).—Four persons were killed and 25 to 30 wounded when a mob attempted to burn the Convent of St. Cavetano early today. The civil guards had received instructions to fire at any attempt to raid convents and they did so as soon as the mob started to storm the institution.

Madrid, May 12 (A.P.).—As Madrid and the provinces became quieter tonight, after three days of anticlerical rioting, the government moved to hold former King Alfonso and other aristocrats responsible for provoking the outbreaks. Attorney General Gallarza said that the exiled monarch would be among those against whom he would seek indictments.

The first riots occurred Sunday, when Republicans attacked a group of Monarchists who were cheering for the king. Subsequently they spread to other cities and resulted in the burning of Catholic churches and buildings.

"For me, Alfonso has not been king of the Spaniards since 1923, when the Primo de Rivera dictatorship was established," Gallarza said tonight. "We will investigate thoroughly reports that Alfonso inspired groups of aristocrats, including Luca de Tena, who recently visited him in Paris, to start antigovernment disorders."

Charges Against King.

The attorney general said that specific indictments would be asked against the former king for alleged authorship of anti-Republican literature seized by the police in a raid on Monarchist headquarters in Madrid last Sunday.

President Niceto Alcala Zamora said the government was ready to use all the force at its command to preserve order. "We intend to pursue a firm policy," he said. "We will see that our orders are enforced throughout Spain. We will protect life and property, and we will impose the severest punishment on all those found guilty of fomenting these disturbances—be they Monarchists, Communists or whoever they be."

Martial law was in operation in all affected cities. More than 200 persons, including monarchists and anarchists, were under arrest. The most prominent of these was Dr. Jose Albinana, chief of the Monarchical Legion Organization, which is controlled on Fascist lines. Another was former Premier Danaso Berenguer, rearrested after once being exonerated of charges growing out of the Jaca revolt.

Churches Still in Flames.

Flames and smoke still were rising from Catholic churches and convents in Malaga, Cadiz and Seville, but the depredations were attributed chiefly to hooliganism rather than organized destruction with political aims. The number of religious workers who have fled from these three cities, as well as from the capital, to escape the vengeance of mobs was estimated in some quarters as amounting to thousands. Cardinal Primate Pedro Segura, of Toledo, was reported to be in hiding.

In Malaga, ten Catholic buildings, including the archbishop's palace and that housing the newspaper Union Mercantil, were wholly or partially destroyed today. Bishop Garcia was injured when the mob attacked him as he was fleeing from the palace. Five churches and convents, including the destroyed convent of St. Domingo and the new Jesuit convent, were burned in Cadiz.

Among those who sought refuge were some cloistered nuns, many of them of advanced age, having been behind the convent walls for years. Some had their first sight of an automobile as they fled through the streets.

Newspaper Is Resumed.

The Catholic newspaper El Debate has been permitted to resume publication and will appear tomorrow. The paper ABC is still under suspension and two Catholic papers have

BUSINESS TO BE 1932 ISSUE, SAYS SHOUSE

Democratic Official Holds Prohibition Secondary to Economic Crisis.

Austin, Tex., May 12 A.P.).—The opinion that the business depression—and not prohibition—will be the paramount issue of the 1932 presidential campaign was expressed tonight by Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee.

Addressing the Legislature, in a State which left the Democratic fold to vote for Herbert Hoover in 1928, Mr. Shouse defended the prohibition proposals of Chairman Raskob and said his party, when it regains power, will "do the obvious things for the relief of unemployment instead of merely talking about them."

In addition, he pledged the support of himself and of Mr. Raskob to the presidential candidate selected by the Democratic convention "whether he is wet or dry."

"It would be deplorable," Mr. Shouse said, "if the selection of our Chief Magistrates and the directors of legislation who must guide the destinies of the United States should hinge forever on the question of prohibition, however grave and far-reaching that question may be."

"There would be no more justice in the imposition by a group of wet Commonwealths of their ideas upon those States which choose to be absolutely dry," he added, "than in the dry States compelling their sister Commonwealths to accept a system which they do not think wise or suitable in relation to home conditions."

Mr. Shouse said he did not see how any Democrat could find fault with the suggestion of Chairman Raskob which calls for retention of the eighteenth amendment with an additional amendment under which any State might determine by popular vote whether it desires to be bound by the prohibition law.

Explaining that Mr. Raskob "has more power than he has desire to coerce the national committee," Mr. Shouse said the chairman "simply

INTRUDER ATTACKS TELEGRAPH CLERK

Alleged Robber Then Flees; Man Later Is Arrested for Investigation.

A clerk in the Western Union Telegraph office at 708 Fourteenth street northwest was slugged by a would-be robber last night in a daring attempted holdup which was frustrated when the man fled from the building. Less than two minutes later a suspect was arrested a short distance away.

Roy A. Barnes, 34 years old, of 1909 Nineteenth street northwest, was only slightly injured when struck by the man, John L. Simmons, 27 years old, of Kansas City, Mo. Simmons, who was arrested at Fourteenth and G streets northwest by Private R. E. Cross, of the First Precinct, was booked on a charge of investigation.

Barnes was alone in the office when the intruder came in and asked about rates. As the clerk was looking up the information the man said, "Open the safe." He held his hand in his pocket as though he held a gun.

"I can't," Barnes replied, "it's locked." At the same time he stepped on an alarm button which sounds in the American District Telegraph office, just around the corner. He then ran to the door and shouted for a policeman. The alleged bandit pushed past him, striking him with his fist, and fled toward G street, where he was caught.

Private Cross said Simmons was not armed when arrested, but that he had a piece of folded cardboard in his pocket which gave the appearance of a gun. Simmons was found to be penniless when searched at the First Precinct station, where he is held.

Barnes was taken to Emergency Hospital, where his hurts were found to be slight. He was to be released after treatment. Officials of the company said there was only a small amount of money in the office, and that the safe was locked.

The attempted robbery occurred shortly after theater time when the streets were nearly deserted.

Maryland Rum Raids Yield 11 Men, Speed Boat and Cars

250 Cases of Liquor and Quantity of Arms Also Seized in Blow Against Alleged Smuggling Base at Cambridge.

Cambridge, Md., May 12 (A.P.).—Federal prohibition officers raided the base of what they described as a major Eastern liquor smuggling ring here early today, arresting eleven men and seizing two motor trucks and a passenger car, a high powered motor boat, more than 250 cases of liquor and champagne and a quantity of arms.

The motor boat, seized at anchor off Taylors Island, about 22 miles from here, was used, the officers said, to transport ashore the liquor brought into Chesapeake Bay by ocean-going vessels. With three motors generating 1,200 horsepower, the 60-foot craft has a speed of 50 miles an hour.

Seven men were arrested and the automobile, one of the trucks and most of the liquor seized at a highway bridge. The nine officers, led by Irving W. Windsor, placed a barrier across the highway.

In the automobile, which preceded the truck, were five men, armed with sawed-off shotguns and revolvers.

All the seven men arrested at the bridge gave New York and Pennsylvania addresses, Windsor said.

Later in the day the motor launch, valued at $50,000 by the dry agents, was seized at anchor, and four other men, all of whom gave New York addresses, were arrested.

The agents said they hoped to seize the ocean-going craft believed to have delivered the liquor cargo to a point near Taylors Island.

The liquor running operations at Taylors Island and vicinity, in Windsor's opinion, have been in progre-voluntarily ceased publication. Reports from provincial cities, other than Seville, Cadiz and Malaga, indicate they are under great tension, but there have been no disorders of serious proportions.

In Valencia strong patrols are guarding Catholic buildings against possible attack. Monks and nuns were said to be much excited and many have sought refuge in the homes of friends. Authorities also are taking precautions in Bilbao and many Monarchists and Communists were reported arrested there.

Police seized ten women in Barcelona after they marched through the market place shouting for the king and the monarchy. The incident caused great excitement, but the women explained their action was meant as a protest against destruction of Catholic property.

Other Men Arrested.

Others arrested today included Galo Ponte Gracia, former minister of justice, and Honorio Cornejo, former minister of marine under the Primo de Rivera dictatorship.

At Cadiz troops were patroling the streets, and were believed to have the situation well in hand tonight. The cathedral, which mobs attempted to burn eraly today, was only slightly damaged. In spite of martial law, however, hundreds of cases of looting of stores and church property were reported.

Announcement of Attorney General Galarza that he intended to prosecute Alfonso caused great interest in political circles. Before an indictment could be issued it would be necessary for a judge to go over the evidence to see if it were warranted.

Problem of Returning King.

Because the king is in exile, it was believed that even if an indictment were issued, it would not be possible to bring him back to Spain for a court trial.

At least a half dozen persons were wounded today when soldiers, on several occasions, fired into groups attempting to loot Catholic property. Three persons, carrying incendiary bombs, were arrested. Similar bombs, it is believed, were used during the riots yesterday to set fire to buildings.

The government tonight prohibited a demonstration which had been planned by Communists for tomorrow in connection with the funerals of three riot victims. Authorities explained they felt that such a demonstration might provoke further disorders. The bodies of the three have been taken in charge by municipal authorities for secret burial.

Martial Law Proclaimed.

Cartagena, Spain, May 12 (A.P.).—Martial law was proclaimed today after a series of anticlerical demonstrations. A mob, beginning an attack on Jesuit headquarters as the proclamation was issued, broke up as troops suddenly paraded into the streets.

Captain General Queipo del Llano declared tonight that he estimated there were approximately 3,000 persons, mostly former convicts, operating in Madrid in groups of about 20 each, for the purpose of looting places the rioters burned.

The soldiers, he said, have rigid instructions to shoot all persons found looting.

General Strike Declared.

Alicante, Spain, May 12 (A.P.).—A general strike, paralyzing business and communications, was declared tonight as a protest against the death of one of the members of the mob which destroyed several religious institutions last night.

The city was under martial law and troops patrolled the streets today guarding against further attacks on church property. The damage to church institutions as the result of last night's rioting were estimated at approximately $3,000,000. The plant of the Catholic newspaper La Voz was destroyed.

Granada, Spain, May 12 (A.P.). The church of the Carmelites was partially wrecked today when it was dynamited by a mob. The rioters previously had set fire to the building of Marista College after saturating the woodwork with gasoline.

Refugees Reach Gibraltar.

Gibraltar, May 12 (A.P.).—A large number of refugees from Seville, Malaga, Jerez, Cadiz and Cordova are arriving in Gibraltar, many of them telling of outrages in their communities by rioters.

Those from Malaga said that churches, convents and newspaper offices had been reduced to ashes and that there was wanton destruction of religious relics.

The Governor of Malaga reported by telephone this evening that three motor lorries, packed with Communists, carrying arms and ammunition, had left there for Algeciras for the purpose of stopping refugees fleeing from Malaga. Troops were sent in pursuit of the Communists.

Several motor cars carrying refugees were reported burned near Torremolinos, 10 miles from Malaga. Some of the occupants were injured.

(Associated Press.)

The first official communication received by the Washington embassy concerning the recent disorders in Spain last night, indicated the trouble had ended with the government in complete control. "Order is absolute in all Spain," a cable from the minister of state said. "The government is in complete control of the situation."

The communication said the situation grew out of activities of both Monarchists and Communists. It was pointed out that groups of the former met for discussions preparatory to the elections and that some disturbances followed, with the communistic elements causing additional trouble.

The embassy was informed that leaders of both factions had been arrested.

Morgan to Submit Spanish Loan Note

Government Plans Steps to Prevent Decline of Stocks.

London, May 12 (A.P.).—A Reuter's dispatch from Madrid late tonight said that it was officially announced that the Morgan banking group of New York would shortly submit to the Bank of Spain a note regarding the granting of a loan to the Spanish government.

The minister of finance announced the government was preparing measures to prevent any sharp decline in government stocks and that it was arranged that the stock exchanges at Madrid, Barcelona and Bilbao would remain closed until May 18.

Before the revolution out of which the Spanish republic was born a month ago, several international banking firms, of which the Morgan group was one, had arranged to grant a credit of $60,000,000 to Spain. This was canceled after the founding of the republic.

A testimonial dinner in honor of Mrs. Charles E. Roach, retiring president of the Woman's Democratic Club of Montgomery County, was held yesterday at the Hungerford Tavern, Rockville, under the auspices of the executive board of the club.

Following a tribute to the abilities and graciousness of the retiring president Mrs. Ernest Offutt made the presentation of a silver basket, filled with flowers, which was the gift of the executive committee. A handsome suitcase was presented to Mrs. Roach on behalf of the Glen Echo branch of the club by Mrs. Fred Bolduc.

The tavern was decorated in pink and white dogwood and pink honeysuckle. The committee in charge included Mrs. Ernest Offutt, Mrs. Roger Shaw, Mrs. George L. Edmonds, Mrs. Charles Maddox and Miss Naomi Bogley. Miss Roach will be succeeded by Miss Ruth Shoemaker.

J. Forest Walker, county treasurer, was qualified again yesterday as county treasurer. He appeared before the county commissioners and executed two bonds totaling $275,000, both of which are carried by the Fidelity & Deposit Co. of Baltimore. The bonds then were filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, Clayton K. Watkins, and Mr. Walker was given the oath of office. He reappointed John R. Lewis, of Damascus, as chief deputy.

Progress being made in the construction of the new Montgomery County Courthouse at Rockville is quite satisfactory, the architect in charge, Delos H. Smith, of Washington, reported to the Montgomery County Commissioners at their meeting yesterday. He conferred with the commissioners on details of the building work.

The commissioners granted the request of the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission to officially retire out of its sinking fund the $52,000 assumed when the commission purchased water bonds of the local water plants at Hyattsville, Kensington and Mount Rainier as one of the steps in assuming control of the water supply in those towns.

The commissioners approved permits for the operation of a miniature golf course at Chevy Chase Lake and a poolroom at Bethesda. There were no objections raised to the issuance of the permits. Reimy Springirth was reappointed as a constable for Section 2, Chevy Chase.

The Police Court at Rockville collected a total of $1,522.50 in fines and costs in the month of April, according to the report of Judge Charles W. Woodward. The clerk of the Police Court collected dog taxes totaling $5,227.50 in the same period.

VAST DESTRUCTION SUFFERED BY SPAIN

Damage in Madrid Alone Is Set at $4,000,000; Seven Cities Worst Hit.

Madrid, May 12 (U.P.).—Extremest rioting since Sunday has caused vast destruction of property and many casualties in various cities of Spain.

In the seven cities most severely affected, 22 convents, 7 churches, 1 bishop's palace, 1 newspaper office and 1 store have been burned completely, or almost beyond repair.

Damages are estimated at about $4,000,000 in Madrid alone.

Various convents have been stoned, religious relics have been destroyed and several minor bombing attacks have occurred. A score of buildings have been saved from destruction by civil guards. Attempts to fire two convents and the palace of the archbishop at Saragossa were frustrated.

In Madrid seven convents were burned. In Malaga a newspaper building, the bishop's palace, four convents, five churches and a large store were burned.

At Murcia two convents were burned. At Seville a convent and a church were destroyed. At Cadiz a convent and church were burned. At Granada a convent was damaged by a bomb and attempts to burn two convents were frustrated.

At Alicante seven religious institutions were burned, and at Cordova various convents were stoned and church property destroyed.

Child, 5, Is Burned As Dress Ignites

Injures to Arms and Face Suffered by Vctm of Other Mshaps.

Elizabeth Crawford, 5, was slightly burned on the arms and face yesterday when her dress became ignited while she was playing around a stove in the kitchen of her home at 725 Twelfth street southeast. Mrs. Anna Crawford, her mother, beat out the flames with blankets. After treatment at Casualty Hospital, Betty was returned home.

Allen Lloyd, a lieutenant in the schoolboy patrol at Cranch School, heard the screams of the mother and child and left his traffic duties at the corner of Twelfth and G streets southeast to summon the rescue squad. Then he went to the assistance of the pair.

Elizabeth seems to be the child of misfortune. She is suffering from a heart ailment and last uly she received a fractured skull in a fall down the steps at her home. Mrs. Crawford, who is nursing her invalid husband, lost her son, Wirtley, jr., who was burned to death in Richmond 10 years ago.

State Policeman Is Shot to Death

Alleged Insane Assailant Wounded and Jailed in Posse Fight.

McConnellsburg, Pa., May 12 (A.P.). A man believed by authorities to be mentally deranged, today shot two State policemen, one fatally, as they attempted to arrest him for carrying concealed weapons.

Sergt. T. C. McCarthy, 35, was killed when he entered the home of Marshall Lodge, 30, at Crystal Springs, to serve a warrant on Lodge. Bullets grazed the head of Private Russell Knies.

Lodge, his arm shattered by a shot, was captured in the dwelling several hours later when reinforcements arrived to assist county officers, who had gone to the place with the two troopers. The man was taken to the Franklin County Jail, Chambersburg, after his wound had been treated.

The posse left McConnellsburg at daybreak to arrest Lodge, after complaints were made by neighbors that he had been wantonly shooting firearms and had threatened their lives.

WESTERN DOCTORS URGE CANCER CLINIC

Plead for Right to Operate Own Establishment in Metropolitan Area.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Their plea for their own clinic to treat human beings in New York with adrenal gland extract for cancer was renewed in person today by Doctors Walter B. Coffee and John D. Humber, of San Francisco, before the State Board of Social Welfare.

The board took the application under advisement after a four-hour hearing.

Organized medicine of New York City and State was present and the discussion boiled down finally to a question whether these Eastern savants were shutting out cancer sufferers from a chance for possible relief.

"A Chinese wall is erected against Doctors Coffee and Humber," said their counsel, Herbert L. Satterlee, of New York. In reply city, county and State authorities offered to take the Wester nextract and experiment with it in their own hospitals under supervision of Doctors Coffee and Humber.

Offered Aid In Hospitals.

Dr. John A. Hartwell, president of the New York Academy of Medicine, offered the official cooperation of the academy for research in visiting New York hospitals and laboratories.

But Doctors Coffee and Humber said they could not accept, because they believed they should have also the privilege of treating a certain number of cancer patients in their own hospital.

Neither side would yield on the question of a clinic for the California doctors.

Property worth nearly $750,000 at Huntington, Long Island, has been offered Drs. Coffee and Humber by Mrs. W. J. Conners for conducting cancer experiment work with their extract.

Dr. Hartwell insisted that establishment of a special clinic would be interpreted by cancer patients as indorsement by the State of New York of a new cancer remedy.

Do Not Claim Cure.

Dr. Humber said he believes cancer comes from injury plus some contributing cause in physical condition. The adrenal gland extract, he said, corrects this contributing cause.

He showed onlantern slides nearly a score of cases which he said physicians had pronounced hopeless. In every case the concer disappears.

"We do not claim cure," Dr. Humber said. "We do claim cleared-up cases."

Dr. Coffee said, "We think it cruel that we are credited with a cure. We don't want a large hospital. All we ask is 200 or 300 cases for a month or two, cases that X-ray and radium failed to cure."

Ill Fortune Again Hits Home Where Boy Died

Ill fortune struck again yesterday at the eGorge M. Wall home, 1205 Thirtieth street northwest. On Monday 3-year-old Junior R. Wall was fatally injured when he fell from a fire escape. His cousin, Nealie Hurdle, accompanied the child to Georgetown Hospital, where he died several hours later.

Yesterday Elsie Wall, who is 10 and Junior's sister, was playing in the yard when she stepped on some glass. At Georgetown Hospital it was necessary to take six stitches in her left foot. Nealie again fulfilled her duty of going to the hospital with the victim.

Suspended Newspaper Denies Having Arsenal

Madrid, May 12 (A.P.).—The editors of the newspaper ABC, which was suspended by the government and attacked by a mob Sunday, today issued the following statement:

"It is important for us to make clear what actually happened in our offices. When the authorities examined the members of the staff they found five pistols, all of which the men had legally.

"The cartridge chambers were found to be intact, proving that the guns had not been discharged. This was the entire 'arsenal' which was called 'a fortress.' No machine guns were found, nor was there any poison gas, as was charged."

SCHOOLS ESTIMATE LARGEST IN BUDGET

$11,213,837, or Increase of $907,277, Is Sought for 1933 Fiscal Year.

By far the largest estimate, included in the $37,097,384 total announced yesterday by the District Commissioners, is that submitted by the school administration. This amounts to $11,213,837, and represents an increase of $907,277 over the 1932 appropriation of $10,306,560.

Street and road improvements and repair come second with an estimate of $4,933,290, which is an increase of $760,690 over the last appropriation.

Both the Police and Fire Departments are asking more money this year. The police request $3,676,181, an increase of $187,281, while the firemen ask $2,645,020, an increase of $61,100. The Health Department's estimate is more than double its last appropriation, largely because of the inclusion of a request for a contagious-disease hospital, which would cost approximately $600,000.

The other estimates, together with their increase or decrease over the 1932 appropriations, follow:

Salaries of Offices.

Salaries of offices, $3,850,475, increase of $425,553; contingent and miscellaneous expenses, $328,474, reduction of $31,928; Municipal Center, $3,000,000, double the appropriation; sewers, $1,786,617, gain of $402,617; city refuse, $2,081,720, cut of $5,200; playgrounds, $209,420, decrease of $9,400.

Electrical department, $1,271,160, increase of $17,615; Juvenile Court, $76,940, gain of $11,280; Police Court, $154,650, increase of $4,400; Municipal Court, $87,000, gain of $4,950; Supreme Court, &c., $726,805, increase of $35,814.

Public welfare, $586,300, gain of $39,220; jail, $167,010, addition of $9,740; workhouse and reformatory, $1,163,570, jump of $166,520; National Training School for Boys, $20,000, the same; National Training School for Girls, $84,440, gain of $880; medical charities, $110,000, increase of $12,000; Tuberculosis Hospital, $470,910, gain of $37,330; Gallinger Hospital, $873,320, addition of $317,680.

District Training School.

District Training School, $327,180, reduction of $42,300; Industrial Home School for Colored Children, $97,400, decrease of $49,920; Industrial Home School, $118,860, increase of $61,360; Home for Aged and Infirm, $190,440, gain of $52,540; miscellaneous public welfare, $1,984,215, addition of $112,924.

Militia, $63,500, gain of $2,750; Anacostia flats, $180,000, increase of $480; parks, $3,427,495, jump of $921,650; National Zoological Park, $538,600, increase of $278,560; Washington aqueduct, $617,000, addition of $167,000; water department, $1,526,820, decrease of $377,400.

The trust and special funds, amounting to $3,847,000, bring the total to $37,097,384.

Subtracted from this total are the following items, which leave the general fund of $49,217,244:

Gasoline tax, $1,800,000; water fund, $2,143,820; United States' share in improving Constitution avenue, $89,320; trust and special funds, $3,847,000.

LEADERS PROCLAIM VIEWPOINTS OF 1932

of House rules; elimination of the "lame duck" session of Congress.

Senator Walsh said the Republicans in a general way represent wealth and influence, the Democrats the mass of the people. He predicted the Democrats would declare in favor of the following program:

Tariff reduction and "further relief measures" to aid "the common man, and particularly the farmer."

Legislation to forestall widespread unemployment in slack business times, in general as proposed by Senator Wagner (Democrat), New York.

Opposition to railroad consolidations by common stock ownership or otherwise except under conditions just to the communities affected and laborers employed.

Inauguration of the five-day week for labor to recognize the effect of the mechanization of industry in displacing laborers.

Denunciation of abuse of the process of injunctions in labor disputes and legislation to suppress it.

Strict regulation of public utilities furnishing power and light and disposition of power in connection with Government projects "in such manner as to afford a just basis for the determination of fair rates by private corporations."

Increased taxes on those best able to bear the burden, if needed to meet the Treasury deficit.

Generous Government participation in movements to solve international controversies by peaceful methods and to reduce armaments.

Senator Hastings said the Democrats, "like a disease, will select what they believe to be the weakest spot." The chances for either side "will rise and fall," he added, "just as the economic condition remains depressed or improves. An improvement, of course, will be to the advantage of the Republicans."

"When our opponents complain of the condition that is unsatisfactory to the people of the Nation," he continued, "we shall not permit them to place the blame upon us without at the same time pointing out some specific remedy. And when they detail their remedy we shall analyze it, and I have no doubt we shall be able to show that it is either impracticable or dangerous.

"If they blame us for lack of leadership, they must be able to point out what a Democratic leader would have done under the circumstances. If they complain about the failure of Congress to do certain things which they think ought to have been done, we shall show in answer their own efforts to obstruct and delay.

"If they complain about the deficit we shall bring forth bills introduced by them, which, if enacted, would have increased the deficit by several hundreds of millions of dollars. If they complain of the tariff we shall be able to show that nearly every member of the United States Senate on the Democratic side voted to increase the tariff on some articles. We shall not permit them to escape by showing that upon the final passage of the tariff act they voted in the negative."

Hastings concluded that "when President Hoover's construction program is fully understood it will be appreciated by the American people" and that with his reelection the country would "return to its former prosperous condition."

MRS. M'HIE ELUDES GUARDS AT HOSPITAL

Mother Seeks Custody of Daughter Famed for Tribute in Court to Dog.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Mrs. Isabel D. McHie, who came into prominence some years ago during a lawsuit in which she repeated the quotation, "The More I See of Humans, the better I like dogs," has escaped in disguise from a Baltimore hospital and fled here, it was revealed today.

William J. Rapp, an attorney, filed a petition in Supreme Court today asking that Mrs. Susan J. Mulhall, of Washington, D. C., be appointed special guardian of Mrs. McHie, her daughter.

The petition was for the purpose, it was explained, of setting aside a Baltimore court order of last December, in which Dallas S. Townsend, New York attorney, and Stewart S. Janney, Baltimore lawyer, were appointed members of an ancillary committee to have charge of the estate and person of Mrs. McHie, who had been adjudged incompetent.

The Sun today says a woman, muffled in a high-collared coat, entered the Baltimore Hospital last Saturday, and that shortly afterward a woman wearing the same coat emerged and was driven away. The latter woman was Mrs. McHie, the Sun adds.

It was not clear for what purpose the December proceedings to have Mrs. McHie declared incompetent were taken. Mrs. McHie for many years has been active in charities, giving anonymously. She is the widow of Sid McHie, well-known several years ago in Chicago, where he lived, and in the Midwest as a bookmaker.

Greece Decides to Junk Veteran U. S. Warships

Athens, May 12 (A.P.).—Two old American warships, now serving in the Greek navy, are to be scrapped.

The ships are the Kilkis, formerly the U. S. S. Mississippi, and the Lemnos, formerly the U. S. S. Idaho. They are 13,000 ton craft carrying 12-inch guns and were purchased from the United States in 1914.

Under an agreement with Turkey, Greece is entitled to replace these ships with 8 destroyers and 2 minelayers. Construction of the new ships is to be spread over a period of years, however.

GANG CASE LINKED IN ALCOHOL PROBE

125 Conspiracy Indictments Predicted by U. S. Men in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., May 12 (A.P.).—A Newark, N. J., gang shooting was brought into a Federal grand jury investigation of an alleged Nation-wide alcohol diversion ring here today with the appearance of a Newark detective with papers found in the possession of a man shot down there last year.

Ritchie Bioardo, now serving a sentence of from two and a half to five years in the New Jersey Penitentiary for carrying a concealed weapon, was found with eighteen bullet wounds and in his possession a satchel containing documents.

These papers were subpenaed for the inspection of the current grand jury.

What connection Bioardo's shooting and documents had with the present inquiry, which opened May 4, Federal officials declined to state. They said previously that the records of thirteen concerns manufacturing or dealing in industrial alcohol products and approximately 200 witnesses would be subpenaed and predicted that 125 conspiracy indictments would be returned.

The inquiry followed Federal investigations in New York, New Jersey, and other Eastern States and in the Middle West, started upon the seizure of three alcohol plants here in 1929. The plants, officers said, were used to convert lacquer thinner and paint solvents into beverage alcohol.

Twenty-four witnesses from a number of cities were here today, but only three were examined.

Labor Department Aid Asked in Coal Mine Row

Morgantown, W. Va., May 12 (A.P.).—Officers of the United Mine Workers of America today sent a telegram to the United States Department of Labor asking that a conciliator be sent here to adjust differences between coal miners and operators of Scott's Run.

The officials of the union said 1,000 men were on strike because they refused to work under a new wage scale. Four mines of the Pursglove Coal Mining Co. and the Jere Mine of the Scotts Run Fuel Corporation were closed, according to officials. Union officials said wages had been reduced by both companies to 20 cents a ton for loaders.

ADAMS TO REPLACE HOOVER AT ACADEMY

President Unable to Attend Commencement Exercises at Annapolis.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 12.—President Hoover will be unable to attend commencement exercises at the Naval Academy June 4, it was announced today, and in his stead the principal address to the midshipmen graduates will be delivered by Secretary of the Navy Charles F. Adams, who will also award diplomas.

Rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart, superintendent of the academy, and Mrs. Hart tonight entertained 60 guests at dinner in honor of the board of visitors now here conducting the annual inspections of the institution to determine its needs.

That additional housing facilities should be provided for the large complement of commissioned officers assigned to the local station was among the recommendations made to the board at its business session by Admiral Hart. The administration officials propose an apartment house erected at some point within the Government reservation. Many officers have for years been compelled to rent houses in the city and suburban areas, it is pointed out.

Continuing its investigations, the official board today inspected several other academic departments, saw the midshipmen at work in their classrooms and engaged in practical exercises, and sampled the fare served the nearly 2,000 students by taking lunch with them in the messroom of Bancroft Hall.

Action on the granting of a permit to the Villa Roma, night club, on the Rockville pike, was postponed yesterday until next Tuesday by the Montgomery county commissioners at their meeting in Rockville. The application for a permit to operate this season had been filed by Frank Abbo, proprietor.

Mr. Abbo is a veteran of the World War, having served with the A. E. F.

Mr. Abbo told commissioners that his entire savings are invested in the club, amounting to approximately $90,000, all of which he will lose if the permit is not granted.

CITY SEEKS PARLEY OF CONFEDERATES

Capital Has Good Chance to Get Reunion Next Year, Camp Is Informed.

Washington stands an excellent chance of winning the 1932 Confederate Veteran reunion, with the commander-in-chief of that organization among various other individuals and groups pledged to back Washington at the forthcoming reunion in June in Montgomery, Ala.

This declaration was made to Camp No. 305, Sons of Confederate Veterans, at its meeting last night at the Confederate Memorial Home, 1322 Vermont avenue northwest, by Arthur C. Smith, division commander of the Sons in the District of Columbia and Maryland.

Delegation to Attend.

Mr. Smith said that a delegation of about 50 members would go to the convention to present the invitation, which he said had received the hearty indorsement of many leading Washingtonians, prominent among which are Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant, III, director of Public Buildings and Public Parks.

Accompanying the delegation also will be Col. Robert Lee Longstreet, son of the famous Confederate general. Col. Longstreet last night summitted his application for membership in the camp and was unanimously elected immediately.

Camp's Action Lauded.

Dr. S. M. Johnson, general director of the Lee Highway Association, as a principal speaker, lauded the camp for its action 11 years ago in being the first unit to donate funds for construction of the Lee highway, which he said will be completed as a continuous paved stretch across the continent to San Diego, Calif., in a year or slightly longer.

In reviewing what he termed the remarkable progress of work on the highway, he declared that the association held steadfast to its hope to make "the finest mile in the world" on a mile stretch adjoining Fort Myer on the Lee Memorial boulevard. He said that if necessary $500.000 would be spent on this single mile.

Upon his offer to receive from the camp the first funds as a "nest egg" for construction of this mile, members immediately donated to launch formally this proposed project.

HALF DAY REMAINS IN AD COMPETITION

Last-Minute Entrants Still Have Time to Turn In Prize Winners.

One-half day to go! If you start right now you can still be a winner in the fifth week of The Post Zain ad-writing contest. Remember each day suggestions about five or six of these 35 participating concerns are published to help you write prize-winning ads. Here are some more daily suggestions that may give you a prize-winning idea.

Write about the Washington Building. This building, ideally located in the heart of Washington's financial district, has two entrances. It is equipped with six high-speed elevators. Windows throughout the building are very large and provide exceptional light and air and an excellent view of the Treasury, White House, State, War and Navy Building. It is a ten-story and basement fireproof modern structure. Weave into your ad that only tenants of the highest character are accepted in this building that has acquired a national reputation. Their well-trained employes give 100 per cent efficient service.

Jordan Co. Is Good Subject.

The Arthur Jordan Piano Co. offers splendid opportunity for that $1,000 prize-winning ad. Their famous Brunswick radio department is an ad in itself. These radios, on the first and second floors, are displayed in all types of beautiful cabinets. Jordan's budget plan of payments is perhaps the best-known slogan of this nature in Washington. They have made it possible by this easy payment plan for every home to have a Brunswick radio. Their Chickering and other fine pianos also lend themselves to excellent ad writing. Recently the store has been redecorated and a whole floor has been given over to the showing of period models in fine stands.

Another concern about which to write ads is the P. J. Nee Co. In housefurnishings one must seek bargains without sacrifice of quality. P. J. Nee Co. have enjoyed the reputation of giving the highest quality furniture for the lowest price. These dealers in fine furniture have simplified the problem of furnishing the home. Their guarantee of satisfaction is nationally known. This fine furniture house caters to particular folks who prefer the best materials. Go in and see for yourself, and, while you're there, you might get that $1,000 prize winning idea.

Write About Sweets for the Sweet.

Avignone Freres specializes in "sweets" for the "sweet." Drop in this store at 1777 Columbia road for a quart of their delicious ice cream and some of their rich, wholesome candy. This Palace of Sweets offers the best in candy and ice cream. The rich, pure ingredients have earned for Avignone Freres the name of the Home of the Candy-Ice Cream King. Call at this beautiful store, and let this delicious candy and ice cream tell their own story.

In writing about the Starlight Dry Cleaners, feature their exceptionally low prices. This concern delivers at cash and carry prices. Promptness and efficiency is their slogan. Their cleaning services are unequaled. There are so many things to feature in an ad about this concern—personal appearance, cleaning services save buying new clothing and other interesting facts. Remember that, while the fifth week is almost ended, you still can be a winner. It's up to you.

Two Bankruptcy Pleas List Assets at Zero

Two voluntary bankruptcy petitions were filed yesterday. Frank Boonis, owner of a lunchroom, of 918 Eighth street southeast, and John J. Byrne, a lunchroom employe, residing on Newton street near Sixteenth street northwest, were the two.

Boonis filed a schedule showing debts of $56,876.49 and no assets. Byrne likewise had no assets. His debts were $1,435.75.

Wife Burner Pleads Insanity.

Greeley, Colo., May 12 (A.P.).—James V. Foster, who confessed burning his wife and three children to death May 5, pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity when he was arraigned today on murder charges. C. C. BRIAND FACES TEST IN BALLOTING TODAY paigning. Any one may enter the contest except members of the royal family which once ruled France.

Debate Is Prohibited.

The election assembly meets at 2 p. m. in Congress Hall, a chamber built in one wing of the Louis XIV chateau in 1875 to house the Chamber of Deputies. The hall now is used only for the national assembly which elects the president.

The election takes but a few hours. There is no debate.

Sergeants at arms call off alphabetically names of assembly members who then file to the front depositing their ballots in a large urn. The urn is opened in an adjacent room and the ballots counted.

The position of the French president as head of the nation differs greatly with that of the occupant of the American White House.

Chosen not by vote of the country, but by the National Assembly, he must be above parties and must do nothing to cause suspicion that he favors one side or another.

Powers Delegated to Cabinet.

The constitution gives him a number of powers, but in practice these are carried out by the cabinet. Among them is the right of negotiating and signing treaties. Actually this is done by the responsible ministers.

The president is a sort of arbiter, especially during cabinet crises when party factions can not get together to form a government. He must be a thorough Republican, conscious that he holds his office under a constitution which he is charged to protect.

All plenipotentiaries are accredited to the president and before they are officially recognized they must have an audience at the Elysee Palace. He also welcomes in the name of France all foreign dignitaries and, in a sense, has to keep his hand continually shaking and a smile on his face.

The length of his term is seven years. He is eligible for reelection but only one man ever was renamed and he resigned two years later.

MODERN PRINTERY OFFERS AID TO AD WRITERS

Never will you see such modern equipment and such an up-to-date composing room and bindery as you will find located in the Gibson Brothers, Inc. at 1312 Eye street northwest. No printing job is too small nor too large for them. You may have color printing. Any commercial job done at this up-to-date print shop from large commercial work to the smallest printing job will be delivered to you by their own delivery service immediately after the job is finished.

The Gibson Brothers, Inc., are printers for such high class clientele as the National University Law School. In fact, they printed the Senior Class Year Book this year for the university. If you have printing to be done why not call one of their salesmen and let him go over the matter with you.

Quite a few of the illustrated monthly magazines, such as the Art Archeology Magazine, also the Nation's Capital Magazine will illustrate to you the high quality of their printing. This should enable you to write that idea for the grand prize of $1,000 for the best amateur ad that will be submitted during the seven weeks of the Post-Zain Ad Writing Contest.

Write Post-Zain Ads, Win Prizes in Amateur Contest

Valuable Awards Awaiting Competitors; Numbers Will Aid Chances.

Only one-half day left to try for this fifth week's $100 first prize, the $165 ABC Washer, three strands of Triple X Richelieu Pearls and the 175 Merchandise Prizes which will be given for the best ads written in The Post-Zain amateur ad writing contest.

Many a clever idea no doubt has been buzzing about in some busy head ever since the contest started which will be wasted unless put on paper and sent to the contest editor at The Washington Post. The time is growing short. Twelve o'clock noon Wednesday will mark the end of the fifth week.

Those of you who have not written ads in this contest start right now and rush your ads to the contest editor before noon today so they will be considered in this week's judging. Those of you who have written ads send in more and more. Those last ones written on the spur of the moment may be the big prize winners.

A number of persons who have entered ads in the past four weeks have won prizes on more than one ad, which makes it well worth their while, even if they did not win one of these $100 awards.

Remember this week The Washington Post will give, in addition to the five big awards, five prizes for the five best ads written about each concern totaling 175 merchandise awards. Be sure and write about each of the 35 participating concerns. This not only gives you greater chance to win but makes you eligible for the $1,000 prize which will be given at the close of this contest May 27. The whole set of ads about the 35 is not judged. It needs only one good idea in that set of ads about the 35 concerns to carry off the "big prize of $1,000" for you.

Many letters have come in from persons who have won prizes, expressing their surprise and gratification at being in the list of winners. Some of these letters have been published. Several have said they have entered contests of various kinds, but never before won prizes. Many housewives, while cooking meals or making beds, are thinking up ads and many are winning prizes with their ideas. Every one can enter, there is no age limit and no elaborate work is necessary.

The rules are simple and few, but should be read carefully by all contestants. One sheet of paper should contain only one ad and if a dozen ads are entered each should be printed, typed or written plainly so that it will be easily read and each page should bear the sender's name clearly inscribed on the back. The name of the concern about which you are writing the ads should be in the upper left-hand corner.

Now, let's see who really wants the $100 prize. Those who really want it will put forth every effort to win. The more ads you write the greater your chances for winning.

Town Selectman Is Shot to Death

Raymond Gilyard's Death in Connecticut Laid to His Prosecutions.

Seymour, Conn., May 12 (A.P.).—Raymond A. Gilyard, first selectman and executive of this town, was shot and wounded by one of three men who entered his office this morning. He died a few minutes later, after he had called the telephone operator and said that one of three Negroes had shot him.

The shooting was the climax of warnings and threats Mr. Gilyard had received arising out of his prosecution of several Negroes who, he believed, were among those who had committed various offenses, including a holdup. Six Negroes were arrested. Two were sent to State Prison and four discharged.

After the trial Mr. Gilyard received an unsigned letter warning him that "they would get him" for his activity in the case.

Last Tuesday night while returning to Seymour from a meeting in Ansonia, he was fired upon from the roadside. The bullet missed him, but its mark was found on his car.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Oscar, of the Waldorf, internationally known maitre d'hotel, who has ushered countless millionaires to the groaning board and presided at thousands of epicurean feasts, is on a diet of lowly spinach.

"It's my liver," he explained.

A newspaperman, seeking some "inside dope" on good things to eat, asked:

"Oscar, if you had all the world's edibles at your disposal, including truffles, what kind of a meal would you order right now?"

"Spinach," said Oscar with a sad shake of his head.

He was forced to take his bed again, however, and slowly sank into unconsciousness, ended without suffering. The public will be allowed to view his body Friday and the funeral will be held Saturday.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—The death today at Brussels of Eugene Ysaye, one of the world's greatest violinists, canceled his long anticipated visit to this country.

At home anywhere. The unvarying better taste of Chesterfield has won millions of smokers and continues to win millions more. And here's why . . . Only the choicest cigarette tobaccos are used in Chesterfield, carefully selected for their mildness, for satisfying smoothness, for fine aroma and flavor. Blending and cross-blending gives to them an added smoothness, and brings out their best smoking qualities. More and more smokers are proving this for themselves every day.

FOR NINETEEN years, our Research Department has kept intimate touch with every new development of Science that could be applied to the manufacture of cigarettes. During this period there has been no development of tested value or importance to the smoker which we have not incorporated into the making of Chesterfield cigarettes.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT TO OPEN TOMORROW

Contestants Are Urged to Be at Shoreham Hotel at Proper Hour.

Bridge fans, the big event for which you have been waiting and preparing, starts tomorrow. It is the first annual bridge tournament of Washington players, sponsored by The Washington Post.

It will be the largest assemblage of lovers of the popular game ever brought together, but there will be comfort and convenience for all, for the management of the new Shoreham Hotel, where the tournament takes place, has spared no effort to provide adequate facilities to accommodate the players. The spacious new salon, never before used for any purpose, has been placed in readiness and is large enough to allow for 120 tables.

Owing to the division of the tournament, whereby contract and auction team contests will be played at different sessions, not more than 110 tables will be playing at any one time. Of the more than 750 entrants, 440 have listed for contract, which means that on Friday and Saturday evenings 110 will be playing at one time. The auction players will provide approximately 80 tables on tomorrow evening and Saturday afternoon.

High Social Importance.

The luxurious surroundings and the representative classes of people including those in Army and Navy, diplomatic, congressional, official and business circles, will make the occasion one of the highest in social importance, as well as one affording an opportunity for testing the skill of bridge enthusiasts.

The tournament will open at 2 p. m. tomorrow with the first session devoted to the pair contests in both contract and auction and in both classes. Any one entered in the tourney either in teams of four, in pairs or single, may participate in the pair events tomorrow and Friday afternoons.

Those who can not participate in the afternoon pair contests will play either in the auction team matches tomorrow evening and Saturday afternoon, or in the contract team matches on Friday and Saturday evenings. Those entered as individuals or as pairs have had teammates assigned to them by the committee on arrangements for these events. Regardless of how they entered all players will have opportunity to take part in the evening games. It is optional with them whether or not they elect to play also in the afternoon pair contests. These were arranged for those who wished to play in the afternoon as well as in the evening, and separate prizes will be awarded to the winners of tomorrow and Friday afternoon matches. These players, however, are not barred from winning also in the teams of four matches.

Committee to Be On Hand.

Players upon arriving at the Shoreham will be met by members of the reception committee and assisted in obtaining the cards which will indicate their assignment to section, table and direction. When players are seated, which should be promptly at 2 o'clock for the afternoon games, and 8 o'clock for the evening games, R. E. Needham, manager of the tournament, will explain the movements and give the necessary instructions for play preceding each event. For this reason promptness in attendance is urged. It is estimated that each event will call for approximately three hours of playing.

The 32 handsome trophies to be donated to the winners by The Washington Post were delivered by R. Harris & Co., jewelers, at the New Shoreham, yesterday, and will be on exhibition there today for the inspection and admiration of prospective champions and others.

"Believe It or Not"

Our Supports for

RUPTURE

—are different from all others; different in principle, construction, material and application.

We do not use steel bands, elastic belts, understraps, adhesive plasters nor anything to interfere with free circulation. We do not give ANY pressure on hips or back. Our supports stay in place, give the patient entire freedom of action and permit him to do anything he is otherwise physically able to do.

They are so constructed and fitted to each individual case that the most delicate child or woman can get comfort and security. They also give immediate relief in the most severe cases.

Whree Others Fail We Succeed

These supports can now be seen and tested right here in Washington. A local man, whom we helped last week said, "If the people in Washington knew of these supports you would sell thousands of them here."

For over sixty years we have made and fitted these supports in Boston. Patients have come to Boston from all parts of the country for treatment. Only recently we decided to establish sales and service rooms in the larger centers throughout the U. S. and a local aged lawyer patient on learning of this fact, shook his finger in the writer's face and said, "Mr. Baker, if you don't carry this to the public you are criminally responsible."

I can not here tell you the vast difference in feeling in comfort between hernia supports which compress all parts of the lower body and ours, which gives relief to the affected parts without injury to circulatory or nervous systems.

No Two Ruptures Are Alike

The material used in our "Common Sense" supports is such that we can properly fit any patient, hold any rupture which can be reduced. We make no charge, accept no money until patient is satisfied.

Wednesday and Saturday of this week we will give informal talks at 2 P. M. in our reception rooms at 1424 Mass Ave. The cause and cure of rupture will be explained in plain, simple words that all may understand. These talks will be interesting, instructive and helpful to both sexes. Please consider this your invitation to attend.

We have treated many physicians in various parts of the country and our supports are endorsed by all who have become familiar with them.

Outbreak of War Theratens China

Provisional Constitution Is Adopted by Troubled Nationalists.

Nanking, China, May 12 (A.P.).—Threatened military activity in northern Honan Province, where last year's revolt was crushed, and rebellion reported breeding in South China, troubled the Nationalist government today as it adopted a provisional constitution.

Irregular troops which began extensive trench digging north of the Yellow River caused anxiety in Kaifeng, Honan Province. The government garrison started building an aerodome there in preparation for possible repetition of the insurrection in which 500,000 men fought last year.

Field hospitals of the provincial military were set up along the Haichow-Tungwang Railway and country folk were disturbed at prospects of renewed destruction of crops and homes.

Deposed Khedive Recognizes Fuad

Hilmi, in Exile 17 Years, Renounces Claim to Egyptian Throne.

Cairo, Egypt, May 12 (A.P.).—A political sensation was caused today by the announcement of Abbas Hilmi, deposed Khedive of Egypt, that he had renounced all claims to the Egyptian throne and formally recognized King Fuad.

Hilmi ruled Egypt for 22 years. He has spent the last seventeen years in exile, in Constantinople and Switzerland.

The renunciation was due to negotiations conducted by Premier Sidky Pasha, who said that he had explained to the former khedive how much to Egypt's interest it would be if he would recognize the present regime.

73 of America's leading business concerns have bought 27,605 Chevrolets

CHEVROLET

The next time you see a Chevrolet business car or truck, notice the firm name on the side! More likely than not, it's a concern you know, and whose business judgment you respect. A great tobacco corporation. A famous public utility. A nationally-known manufacturer of household products. Or an oil company, with stations everywhere.

Prominent among the thousands of concerns using fleets of Chevrolets, are many of the recognized leaders of American industry. And their continually growing preference for Chevrolet is shown by this significant fact: 73 of these outstanding business firms have purchased a total of 27,605 Chevrolet cars and trucks!

If you were to examine the automotive cost records of many of these firms, the reason for their choice of Chevrolets would be quickly apparent. These records show, in cold figures, that Chevrolet actually costs less to operate than any similar type of motor vehicle on the market.

Twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline is nothing unusual for a Chevrolet Six. Drivers often remark about the low oil consumption. They frequently comment, too, on Chevrolet's ability to keep running, continuously, without need for repair. And many reports show speedometer readings of 50,000 miles or higher, on cars that are still giving dependable, economical service.

Naturally, an automobile with such a splendid record in the service of American business represents an extremely wise investment—whether the equipment contemplated is a personal car, a salesman's car or a truck. This is particularly true, when you consider all the advantages that Chevrolet offers above and beyond economy: the superior performance of a 50-h.p. six-cylinder engine; the dependability assured by modern design and careful manufacturing; and the long life resulting from the use of fine materials.

Before you make any investment in low-priced transportation—be sure to investigate carefully what Chevrolet has to offer. And the more carefully you do investigate, the more quickly you will agree that today's Chevrolet Six—at the new low prices—is the Great American Value!

BORAH'S SOVIET CONFAB.

Senator Borah bewails the failure of the national and international chambers of commerce to solve the depression enigma. He fears that neither conference got down to realities, because both were dominated by political interests. He suggests that an "unfettered" conference of business and industrial leaders be called together for the purpose of expressing the views of business and industry on economic problems.

Taking the Soviet, which has always held a warm spot in his heart, as a pattern, Senator Borah would have representatives from each business and industry decide on what is necessary to lift the country out of depression. Their findings could be transmitted to Congress and there enacted into legislation, and all would be smooth sailing ahead.

Only two difficulties stand in the way. One is the possibility of disagreements among business men as to what is the best way out, and the other is the certainty of disagreements in Congress.

Senator Borah has failed to read from the outcome of all economic gatherings since the depression began the unmistakable conclusion that there is no panacea for the depression. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States outlined no sure-fire scheme of reviving prosperity because no such expedient is known to even the most successful leaders of industry. Delegates to the international gathering tried to cover up their dearth of constructive ideas by advancing plans to reduce the United States to the economic level of Europe. It is possible that even a "Soviet" conference called at the request of Senator Borah would not be able to devise means of lifting the country out of the depression by the bootstraps.

Apparently the Idaho senator is clinging to the antiquated notion that Congress can legislate the country out of hard times. He takes note of the fact that business is unanimous in its plea for no governmental interference, and yet he completely misses the significance of that fact. Business and industry do not expect to have Congress legislate them back to prosperity. That is the reason why they did not waste time talking about legislative remedies at their national gathering.

With an unusual display of confidence Mr. Borah announces that Congress will act on these problems at its next session. There will have to be legislation concerning oil, the railroads and utilities, he says. It is unthinkable that the senator should fail to mention his pet project—a bounty on wheat exported abroad. How can the farmer ever hope to escape from the calamities of overproduction unless Congress pays a bounty on wheat?

Of course, industry is interested to know that the efforts of the insurgents to put the Government into the power business will be renewed. Delegates would flock to the proposed "Soviet" conference from all parts of the country to express their views on that subject. The vigorous opposition of business and industry to socialism has been forcibly expressed hundreds of times, but it has made no impression on the insurgent bloc in the Senate, which is endeavoring to put the Government into competition with private enterprise.

Projects of legislative panaceas on which Senator Borah's hopes are based serve only to darken the clouds of depression. Business men know that there is no legislative cure-all for their problems. They ask Congress not to make a bad matter worse. It is inconceivable that any gathering of industrial representatives could agree upon legislation of an economic nature that would operate for the general welfare of the American people. The best thing Congress can do is to attend to its own business of running the Government efficiently, so that greater tax burdens may be avoided.

PROTECTED FARMERS.

One element in the population which will not be apt to join the internationalists in their cry for a lower tariff is the American farmer. Representative Purnell reports widespread resentment at the move to deprive agriculture of the protection that it was given in the Smoot-Hawley bill. The farmer is, of course, distressed by the sharp decline in the prices he receives for his products, but he is not fatuous enough to think that his problems can be solved by admitting more foreign foodstuffs.

A report from the Department of Agriculture on imports and exports for the nine months since the tariff bill was enacted indicates that farmers have ample ground for standing for protection. For the first time in five years farmers of the United States sold more agricultural products abroad than the United States purchased from foreign countries. Since 1926 imports of farm products have exceeded exports of similar commodities by an average of $300,000,000. But since the Smoot-Hawley bill became law exports have exceeded imports by more than $11,000,000.

This should be particularly comforting to farmers of this country, because during the same time the favorable balance of trade in industrial commodities has become steadily smaller. For industrial products the foreign market has shrunk more drastically than the American market. If the present trend continues, the world will soon be selling to the United States as much as it buys from this country. But the trend of international trade in farm products runs in the opposite direction. In spite of the tremendous loss in wheat exports, American farmers were able to turn the balance of trade in their favor.

Unquestionably this is a result of the increased protection which Congress allowed agriculture in the 1930 tariff act. While exports have declined in the aggregate volume, farmers have enjoyed a larger share of the great domestic market. They have been able to withstand foreign encroachment better than industry because Congress gave them a greater degree of protection. In fact, a large percentage of the increased duties in the Smoot-Hawley bill were on agricultural products. The findings of the Department of Agriculture substantiate the claims of the administration that the tariff act was revised chiefly in the interests of agriculture.

TRADE WIND STRAWS.

Depressions never last forever, though the present one is breaking the record for longevity. There have been seven business slumps in the last 50 years, in which the average period of progressive curtailment of industrial production has been about twelve months. According to the Federal Reserve index this recession of production for all industries has now continued for nineteen months.

The fact that this exceeds the average by more than 50 per cent can not in itself be taken as evidence that the limit has been reached, but there are some incidental evidences to that effect. The graphs of former depressions show a usual curve from normal production to low-water mark of about a year, with another year required to get back to normal again. Production is already seven months behind on this schedule, but the department of business that first feels the impulse of upward reaction, retail trade, shows improvement.

The Federal Reserve Board's report on retail trade for April, as reflected by 563 department stores in 257 cities, shows that sales were but 2 per cent under 1930 sales, compared with a 10 per cent decline in the preceding month. For the first four months of this year sales were down 8 per cent. On the other hand the Reserve Board's index on production shows a recession of 20 per cent. In brief, better business has begun for the retailer, but the change has come only in the last few days, and his new orders have not yet reached the manufacturer.

The April report as quoted even makes statistical allowance for the natural increase attendant upon an early Easter trade. The figures lend encouragement to the belief that the prolonged depression has touched bottom and that if the hoped-for spring recovery is not as strong as it promised to be early in the year, the traditional up-grade turn will be distinctly visible this summer and well under way during the fall months.

FRANCE VOTES TODAY.

The eleventh-hour announcement of candidates for the presidency of France that they will enter the contest in today's election is somewhat confusing to Americans who are not familiar with the French system of electing a president. The chief executive is not named by direct, popular vote, but by the combined membership of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies sitting as the National Assembly. This joint meeting will take place this afternoon at Versailles, in the palace where the peace treaty was signed.

Announcement of candidacy is a matter of individual action on the part of the various aspirants for the presidency, and may be made at any time up to the opening of the sessions of the assembly. By the time the voting begins there may be from six to eight candidates before the meeting, although only three had made formal announcement yesterday morning, that of Foreign Minister Briand, one of the most prominent, being made known on Monday, though it has been expected for some time that he would enter the race.

The total membership of the National Assembly will number about 900, allowing for vacancies in the Senate roll of 312 and a nominal strength in the Chamber of 612. For election an absolute majority of the combined vote is required. With numerous candidates and the membership divided by possibly as many as fifteen different political parties, a long-drawn-out battle of ballots might be expected, but such is rarely the case. After the first scattering vote among the candidates, party combinations are quickly arranged, and election usually follows upon the second or third ballot.

M. Briand is the strong Left candidate, with the Right combinations against him, because of the feeling that, as foreign minister, he has been too lenient in his international policies. Paul Doumer, president of the Senate, also is a Left candidate, but one who is not so strongly opposed by the Right. Senator Jean Hennessy, the third avowed candidate, counts upon Left Center support. It is anticipated that the Right strength will go on the opening ballot to the present Minister of War, Andre Maginot, who is expected to announce his candidacy.

The French method of presidential elections and the multiplicity of parties which makes it necessary for any successful candidates to receive group support also leaves the selection in doubt, as a rule, until the "Elysee race," as it is called, is over. M. Briand is in the midst of the most important and delicate foreign negotiations and plans for the league meeting at Geneva, but many Frenchmen consider him too much of a pacifist. M. Doumer is less pacific, though, of course, not as militant as M. Maginot. M. Hennessy has the support of the Radical Socialists. Among others prominently mentioned as probable last-minute candidates are Leon Berard, minister of justice, and Paul Painleve, former premier.

Until initial ballots are taken it usually is futile to speculate upon the outcome of a French presidential election. Today, however, the indications point strongly to the success of M. Briand. The man who has been eight times premier and eleven times a cabinet member, and who entered the lists only after receiving unprecedented assurances of support from elements of nearly all parties except the extreme radicals, is the strong favorite at Versailles today for president of France for the next seven years.

Since the International Chamber of Commerce passed its innocuous resolutions every one admits that there was no reason to get excited about its onslaught against everything American. It's well to remember the old adage about the barking dog.

Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown. But Spain is beginning to learn that those who upset a crown may be still more uneasy.

CALVIN COOLIDGE SAYS:

Northampton, Mass., May 12.—All through the ages people have been seeking some material security outside themselves. It has not yet been found. There is a possibility that the quest is a delusion.

Great nations have arisen and sought safety in mighty armaments, great men have sought safety in riches. Alliances among nations and combinations among men have striven for the same goal. Always some other nation, man, alliance or combination has arisen that was stronger. No temporal power, no riches can boast of much antiquity. Neither men nor nations have found permanent security in material power.

The nations of Europe are now attempting to apply this same system in their search for security. The same thought is working down among individuals the world over. They all want some assurance that no matter what happens, some power outside themselves is to protect them from all evil consequences. A league is to be a guaranty for nations and some obligation of society is to furnish support for individuals. While much could be done, the plans proposed appear very doubtful. In the end the security of nations and men must be sought within themselves by observing the command to do justice, love mercy and walk humbly.

PUSHING OUT THE GOLD

From the Christian Science Monitor.

The lowest central bank rate the modern world has ever seen, put into effect last week by the New York Federal Reserve Bank, when it cut its rediscount rate to 1½ per cent, may establish a definite starting point from which business and industry can begin to gather momentum for that improvement which many trade authorities predict will be evident this fall.

Bank rates have been cut eight times by the same institution since 1929 in response to the slower pace of business, but the present action is regarded as having a peculiar significance. It is not made with an eye to cheapening credit; credit is already superabundantly cheap. The move is rather to serve notice that gold is no longer so welcome under the parental roof, and had better seek its living out in the world.

The new rate is tantamount to saying to banks in the United States that they can no longer depend on short-term investments to fatten their income account. It is believed that the yield on these will now become so low that leading banks will be forced into long-term capital investments which offer better returns, and so money will be distributed where it will create work, be used for improvements or placed in enterprises developing new products.

There is a surfeit of lending money in the United States. But there is no such surfeit in South America, Central America, Europe, Australia or Asia. Undoubtedly many projects throughout the world lack but the beneficent influence of available credit to gain a new vitality. It is apparently the belief of American banking authorities that the export of capital into foreign investments is one of the chief requisites to the return of normal trade exchange.

Not only will the lower bank rate, along with the cut in bill rates and consequently a lower acceptance market, help to propel money overseas, but there is behind the move another international consideration—the desirability of preventing a further flow of gold to America. Gold has been pouring into the United States this year despite the fact that other nations need it, while the American yellow metal reserve stands around $3,350,000,000. Seemingly only one factor—now absent—can counteract this result of America's "favorable" trade balance—namely, resumption of foreign borrowing on a big scale.

THE FISH THAT GETS AWAY.

Some mourn the fish that gets away
And boast his size and weight,
They stop their friends at night to say
How sorry was their fate.
Almost unto the net they'd brought
This beauty superfine,
It seemed to them they had him caught
And then he snapped the line.

Oh, yes, they had some fish to show
For all the time they'd spent;
Some luck they'd been allowed to know,
But they were not content.
The ones they'd caught seemed rather small
When put upon display,
And could not be compared at all
With that which got away.

He broke but once where sunbeams dance
Upon the waters blue,
And though at him they'd but a glance
His weight and size they knew.
Not one in all their splendid catch
Which came to them that day
For beauty could begin to match
The fish which got away.

Perhaps against us one and all
Could lie the self-same charge;
The joys we catch seem very small,
The ones we lose seem large.
We pass our many blessings by
As though no worth had they,
And dolefully we magnify
The joy that gets away.

If Natural Emotions Prompt the Hero, Can His Heroism Be Unnatural?

By ROBERT QUILLEN

VENTURE the assertion that the compassion of modern men is natural and a few listeners may agree. But go further and declare that the tendency of rich men to regard themselves as stewards of civilization is equally natural and you will be called a foolish idealist.

That the American of great wealth or great ability does feel the responsibility of being his brother's keeper and makes unselfish effort to serve his race is beyond dispute.

And if he does feel and act thus of his own free will and accord, how can his altruism be unnatural?

Critics made wise by reading outlines of science will argue that man is by nature a selfish and cruel creature who must learn morality, ethics and fair play as he learns the alphabet and table manners.

That is in some measure true, but it overlooks the fact that the fruit of a tree is no less natural than the seed from which the tree grew.

Each new-born child must learn the art of walking as the first one did, and each in turn must learn to talk, but it does not follow that walking and talking are unnatural.

Since the first man had within him the capacity for development, and the exercise of that capacity through ages of trial and error led at last to the ethical standards of modern decency, the nobility of the best of men today is no less natural that the cruelty of the cave man.

It is merely the fruiting of a tree now mature.

We do ourselves too little honor and excuse our faults too easily when we assume that the evil in us is natural and the good a trick we have learned.

It would be nearer the truth to say that evil was natural to the primitive and good natural to the modern.

The race is still natural, for by natural development it became as it is.

When men lived in what is now called a "natural state," there doubtless were some who violated the accepted standards of the times, low as they were.

Were these the only natural men? And was the little decency of the other primitive artificial?

It is the virtue in the tree that gives flavor to the fruit, and the tree and the fruit are one.

The evil man and the good one are equally natural, their difference serving only to prove that a fruit tree developed to perfection still bears some fruit that is faulty.

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

Calling It Chumley.
Chicago Tribune.

The protective tariff has been an American policy from almost the first days of the republic. It has been opposed by politician and economist, but it has prevailed. If it is the fundamental error which the free trade school thinks it is, it is also true that the country had no industries and now has dominant ones and that a farming and fishing people have established the highest level of living conditions based on factories and transportation. The tariff is something which will not be determined by the reconciliation of various trade doctrines, but by use and experience.

Oddly, just now it is less a domestic controversy in the United States and more an object of criticism from abroad. At the international convention of chambers of commerce foreign advisers, chiefly British, sought to convince Americans that the tariff prevented a world economic recovery largely by making the payment of international debts impossible. Of this argument it may be said that the natural inclination of the debtor is to find that the most reasonable settlement of his debt is out of other resources than his own and by other efforts.

The Attack on the Tariff.
Minneapolis Journal.

The effort to persuade the country, and particularly the farmer, that present economic ills are due largely to the passage of the Hawley-Smoot tariff act by the last Congress continues unabated. Whether the effort is inspired by the political foes of President Hoover—whose campaign for reelection must include a defense of the tariff act he signed—or whether it is inspired by international bankers and manufacturers engaged in mass production, more interested in Europe's paying power and Europe's buying power than in anything else just now, makes little difference. The campaign is particularly harmful to the country as a whole at this time. For it can succeed only by persuading business and agriculture that their own attempts at self-help will continue futile until there is another tariff revision. Obviously, any such widespread belief as that would measurably postpone the country's recovery from the current depression.

But the attempt to convince the the farmer that, if the going is tough for agriculture just now, the tariff act is to blame, is opposed by the farmer's own leading organization, the American Farm Bureau Federation, which has no private ax to grind, and which therefore views the revised tariff structure calmly and with a business eye. Chester H. Gray, accredited spokesman for the federation, has just reasserted that organization's satisfaction with the tariff rates as they now stand. Mr. Gray even goes so far as to urge that all tariff tinker[illegible] at least so far as it affects the [illegible], cease for a period of from two and one-half to five years.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

British Idea Is That High Standard of Living Should Apply Only to Upper Classes.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Sir Arthur Balfour, British free trader, recently advanced one of the strongest arguments, unintentionally, of course, in favor of Republican protective tariff policy in the United States.

"You started out," he told Americans at a session of the International Chamber of Commerce, "with the idea of using the tariff to protect industries you wanted to build up. That was all right. But then you built up the industries and at the same time established a very high and somewhat fictitious standard of living."

It is here that Sir Arthur finds the protectionist policy objectionable, and to his way of thinking such policy should stop at least short of building up and maintaining that very high standard of living. But it is his objection that emphasizes the justification of that to which he objects.

Sir Arthur Balfour is a member of the British aristocracy, a class that has fought more or less successfully to retain its class distinction through many centuries, and it is the theory of the British aristocrat that a very high standard of living is its special privilege, and that the privilege is very much safer so long as "the lower classes" have no share in it. Admittedly, the standard of the British masses is considerably lower than that of the average American, and British free traders are cold to any policy that might tend to raise it.

Protected by that tariff policy which first made possible the building up of American industries, the working masses of the United States do, as Sir Arthur says, enjoy a very high standard of living, a standard that goes hand in hand with the high wages these masses receive for their labors. The standard is just as much higher than that prevailing in England as these wages are higher than those of British workingmen. It would be difficult, however, for an American workman to see anything objectionable in this. Nor does the American wage earner find his standard of living fictitious. He can scarcely be convinced, for instance, that taking the family on a week-end motor trip to some resort is a fiction and not a reality.

Curtis and Al Smith the Two Sphinxes Who May Make Political History.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Two men, one in the Republican party and one in the Democratic party, occupy strategic positions and focus the attention of party managers and rank and file as well. This general interest in them is largely because they are silent with regard to what their several courses of action will be next year relative to nominations for the national tickets. The quiescent ones, of course, are Charles Curtis and Alfred E. Smith.

Both gentlemen could answer a few questions today and retire to comparative oblivion for a year undisturbed by inquisitive politicians and reporters. Both of them are too wise in the game of politics to throw down a hand that has all the rest around the table making new guesses all the time as to what the showdown will be when it comes. There are several things no one can be sure of until the last bid is made.

If Vice President Curtis decides to stand for renomination on the ticket with President Hoover the political world will take it to mean that one of the shrewdest sages of the party is convinced that Republicans have a good chance of carrying the country. If he should decide to reenter the congressional races in Kansas, where, regardless of the fate of the national ticket, he doubtless could resume his seat in the Senate, such a decision from Charley Curtis will not bode well for Republicans in the big fight.

If Alfred E. Smith would come out tomorrow unequivocally for Gov. Roosevelt, pledging his fullest support in the convention and giving assurance that he himself would not be a candidate, it would only be necessary for the Democrats, also, to worry about the second place on the ticket. Al Smith could settle things in favor of Roosevelt now. There is also a strong feeling that if he doesn't want Roosevelt nominated he will always be strong enough in the convention to prevent Roosevelt being named. Roosevelt has placed Smith in nomination three times, and many think Smith can not avoid reciprocating this time whether he wants to or not. But whether Smith wants to or not only Smith knows today.

If there be many "Democrats" with such strange and novel ideas as those possessed by this "Democrat," the Republicans should win in 1932 without the necessity of even writing a platform on carrying on any campaign.

Although he offered no suggestion as to who should be chosen as Mr. McAdoo's running mate, it is assumed Mr. Armstrong would readily select Gov. Charley Bryan of Nebraska for this important place.

AIR DEVELOPMENT SLOW, SAYS JOYCE

Builder Holds Development Is Dependent on Army and Navy Aviation.

Baltimore, Md., May 12 (A.P.).—Responsibility for future development of the airplane industry rests with the Army and Navy Departments, and this development depends on the departure from the present set methods of aircraft, Temple N. Joyce, Baltimore airplane manufacturer, told the fifth annual meeting of the Aeronautic Division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The Berliner-Joyce official outlined the future developments of the aircraft industray in an address at the opening session of the technical meeting, attended by 200 engineers of the air industry from all parts of the Nation.

Joyce declared but little progress had been made in the aviation industry in the last five years. He blamed the desire for added horsepower, more gasoline, more weight, more wings and more drag as being responsible for the failure of aviation engineers to do necessary work in improving the present-day plane.

These developments have brought about a resultant "increase in performance at a sacrifice to landing speed and safety of operation, and we are today at a very critical point in development of aircraft—not only from a standpoint of meeting tactical requirements, but also commercial demands," he declared.

Development of the light plane for individual use was urged by J. Henry Reisner, of the Kreider-Reisner Aircraft Corporation, of Hagerstown, Md. Problems growing out of the steadily increasing use of planes for pleasure and individual business needed early solution, he declared.

Bernt Balchen, Admiral Byrd's Arctic pilot, was the principal speaker at tonight's banquet meeting, at which Senators Bingham (Republican), Connecticut; Tydings (Democrat), Maryland, and Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, also spoke.

Geneva Interested In French Voting

Possible Effect on League of Nations Is Seen in Balloting Today.

Geneva, May 12 (A.P.)...The result of the French presidential election tomorrow is awaited with interest at Geneva for its possible effects upon France's attitude towards the League of Nations.

As a result of the candidacy of Aristide Briand, French foreign minister and delegate to the league, the question has been raised whether, if elected president, he would come to Geneva, for the meeting of the European union commission May 15 and the league council session May 18.

M. Briand's presence is more important perhaps for the Pan-European meeting, for he is father of the union movement. The session which begins in three days has an important agenda.

Big Navy Guns Rain Tons Of Shells on Mimic 'Enemy'

Adams Witnesses "Battle" More Terrific Than Ever Seen in Actual Conflict, With Planes, Destroyers and Submarines Adding to "Destruction."

Aboard U. S. Flagship California, off Nicolas Island, Calif., May 12 (A.P.).—Great guns roared today, simulating a terrific naval battle such as the world has never witnessed in actual warfare. Eight superdreadnaughts rained tons upon tons of huge armor-piercing projectiles from mighty turrets upon moving targets ten miles away.

Secretary of the Navy Adams witnessed the titanic demonstration of the main battle strength of the United States sea power in the biggest gunnery event of the annual fleet force firing practice.

For 33 minutes these giant fortresses of the sea with their 14 and 16 inch guns fired broadside after broadside at a phantom foe as they sped along at more than 18 knots (approximately 20 miles an hour) zigzagging to avoid the dummy torpedoes of an harassing fleet of 20 destroyers.

One moment the battleship fleet moved majestically along over a five-mile front, the Pacific placid and peaceful. Then from the mast of the U. S. S. Maryland appeared the flag "commence firing."

Almost as a unit the superdreadnaughts swung into formation and the gigantic guns belched forth their carriers of destruction. The huge vessels reeled and bounded from the recoil.

Meanwhile hundreds of airplanes wheeled and turned overhead, radioing ranges, correcting rangee and reporting the effectiveness of the shells which dropped at the targets.

Then, when the greater guns left off, 5-inch weapons burst forth, simulating fire on the destroyers which a few minutes before had swarmed the waters like hornets, firing their dummy torpedoes at the dreadnaughts.

Their less terrific bombings came almost as quiet following the thundering salvos from the heavy artillery.

The battleship battle force was under command of Vice Admiral Richard H. Leigh, aboard the U. S. S. Maryland. Secretary Adams observed the action from the bridge of the U. S. S. Argonne. Admiral John V. Chase, commander of the U. S. Fleet, was aboard the U. S. S. Texas, flagship of the naval forces, while the battle force commander, Admiral Frank H. Schofield, was aboard the U. S. S. California, flagship of the battleship battle force.

For the first time the U. S. S. Lexington, and the U. S. S. Saratoga, airplane carriers, participated in the maneuvers, sending out planes from their decks to assist the scouting work of the aircraft catapulted from the dreadnaughts. Four of the large "V" type submarines also took part as scouts for the fleet.

Nineteen of the55 member nations of the International Labor Conference already have ratified the convention, and in nine others it has been recommended for approval by national authorities.

Clergyman Made Policeman at Reno

Mayor, Advocate of Rum, Assigns Parson to Park Patrol Duty.

Reno, Nev., May 12 (A.P.).—Mayor E. E. Roberts, advocate of whisky and "dippers at each street corner," has appointed the Rev. E. P. Jones State superintendent of the Antisaloon League, as a regular member of the police department.

The mayor, who was reelected last Tuesday on a platform which included the advocacy of a municipal liquor program "to drive bootleggers out of business," announced the appointment last night.

Officer Jones' special duty, the mayor said, will be to patrol Wingfield Park, the city's recreational and garden spot by the Truckee River. It is a popular rendezvous of divorce seekers. The new officer, a Methodist clergyman said: "The laws will be strictly enforced."

CALHOUNS TESTIFY; MISTRIAL AVERTED

"but inasmuch as she has now answered, I shall permit it to stay in."

The evenness of her temper gave way on Mrs. Calhoun when Mr. Arth questioned her concerning talking to her husband about the case. "Certainly I talked to him. Why shouldn't I? We are on speaking terms." At another point, Mrs. Calhoun, asked if Mr. Noble, one of the defendants did not say he would refuse to accept "one red cent" not honestly his, remarked that "those were noble sentiments, but I didn't hear him say them."

She testified that the Department of Justice actively directed the plan for trapping the departments. Officials there, she said, suggested that Capt. Calhoun issue a $30,000 check to tender to the defendants "when he did not intend to pay them one penny—not one stamp"—Mrs. Calhoun said.

President Vincent Moves to Form Government Immediately.

Port au Prince, Haiti, May 12 (A. P.).—It was reported today that President Vincent had accepted the collective resignation of his cabinet and was preparing to form a new government immediately. No official announcement of the resignations was made.

The cabinet and the Legislature have been in dispute since shortly after the present government was established last November. Recently the cabinet disputed the right of the Legislature to summon cabinet members for questioning and the Legislature threw out two bills sponsored by cabinet members.

There is nothing in the present situation to affect relations with the United States.

BUY-IN-WASHINGTON GROUP MAPS ACTION

Council, in Meeting, Backs President's Efforts to Extend Business.

Plans for expanding and strengthening the Buy-in-Washington Council with a view to recruiting the interest and cooperation of business men throughout the city, including a number that are understood to be opposed to the organization, were discussed at a meeting of the council yesterday in the Fairfax room of the Willard Hotel.

The membership agreed to devote the summer months to "selling" other business men and concerns on the council, pointing to the benefits that such an organization can be to business as a whole.

An educational program, outlining just what the council stands for, was conceded to be the greatest need to push the organization forward.

President Gains Support.

E. J. Murphy, president of the council, elicited the sturdy support of the members present when he declared, at the outset of the meeting, that the time has come "to make something out of the council or let it go up in the air."

As an impetus to the coming campaign, the council will prepare a survey showing what other organizations, similar in aim to the local council, are doing, and also showing the number of contracts on local jobs that have been let to outsiders.

Plans will also be made to send a delegation to the next Congress to ask for legislation that will rectify many problems detrimental to local business, it was announced.

$15,000,000 Trade Lost.

Mr. Murphy asserted that approximately $15,000,00 worth of business has been taken from Washington in the past year, and expressed the opinion that it is about time something was done about such a situation. The other members echoed his attitude.

Members expressed surprise that every business man and concern in the city has not taken advantage of the council as it presents a forum where problems may be ironed out to the general benefit of local interests, it was pointed out.

The school essay contest on buying in Washington has been postponed until fall because of the lateness of the school year, and also because there are a number of other contests in progress, it is announced.

Shoppers Jam Streets At Chicago's Jubilee

Chicago, May 12 (A.P.).—The Chicago Jubilee, which opened Sunday, bore fruit today in crowded shopping streets that bolstered the spirits of business men.

Designed as a stimulant to mercantile affairs and as a display of what the city has to offer, the week-long celebration was said by the newspapers to have attracted unusually large numbers of persons from out of town.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

HE was born in a covered wagon—not meaning a Hispano Suiza limousine—lived as a boy in a little Oklahoma town 100 miles from a railroad, saw his first train when he was 12 years old, became a circus roustabout at 14, never studied music in his life, yet today is one of the most popular radio and phonograph artists in the country.

Such, in some 50 words of Ed Waite's and a dozen-odd of my own, is the life story of Johnny Marvin, the celebrated crooner and ukulele twanger who comes to the Fox stage on Friday of this week, May 15, for a special engagement.

Marvin—who, by the way, was a working mate of Kate Smith's in Eddie Dowling's production of "Honeymoon Lane"—even to this day can't read a note of music. But that doesn't cramp his style. He knows what it takes to make music without having gone through the formality of a scholastic training, and, knowing that, and having the facile ability to translate his intuitive knowledge into actual melody, he experiences little difficulty in maintaining his position as one of the real entertainers of the land.

He served in the Navy during the war, then, when that engagement was over, went into vaudeville. There he was "discovered" by scouts for one of the phonograph companies and he has been making records ever since. His act at the Fox, presented to the Washington public for the first time, although Johnny has played here before, is called "Dr. Cheer."

It is to be hoped he will bring his two brothers with him, making three Cheers for the engagement!

Speaking of the Marvins, Jack Marvin and Ruth Edell, costars of "The Rap," now running at the Avon Theater in New York City, hopped on an Eastern Air Transport plane yesterday and flew down to Washington to congratulate Stephen Erlanger Cochran on the success of his National Theater Players. They breakfasted at the new Airport Inn, gossiped ravenously with Uncle Steve, sent their best wishes, kindest regards and love and kisses to Clifford Brooke, and as nonchalantly as if they had been smoking that kind of cigarets plopped themselves into the Condor and took off in a cloud of what would have been dust if it hadn't been rain for Gotham, whence they came.

That's taking "The Rap" in a big way, if you know what I mean!

Today at 1:30 o'clock the special Washington Bicentennial scenario committee, appointed last month by the Washington Chamber of Commerce, will meet in the Fairfax room at the Willard to hear Jacob Wilk, head of the story department of Warner Bros., Inc., outline the rules and regulations necessary to secure a scenario suitable for the type of talking motion picture of Washington and its environs his firm has agreed to make as its contribution to the Bicentennial celebration in 1932.

If any of the members of the committee have sold themselves the utterly fallacious idea that they have an easy job on their hands, I suspect that Mr. Wilk will disabuse them of THAT notion. I once tackled the making of a two-reel subject, back in the old silent days, and, oh, boy! oh, boy! oh, boy!

Silk hats and spangles will predominate at Warner Brothers' Metropolitan Theater tonight, when Government officials, dignitaries of the Diplomatic Corps, high ranking officers of the Navy, Marine Corps and Army will review privately, but in a glamorous setting, Columbia Pictures' epic of the skies, "Dirigible."

With much ado, "Dirigible" will be projected for the select audience, and considerable formality will mark this private premiere. Word comes to this desk that the Hon. David S. Ingalls, Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics, will deliver a brief preliminary address following his introduction to the assembled guests by the Hon William P. McCracken, jr., former Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics.

With the completion of the famous Navy melody, "Anchors Aweigh," which is scored to the main and credit titles of "Dirigible," the gathering at the Metropolitan then will have unfolded on the screen the sequences which it took Hollywood, with the generous cooperation of the United States Navy, fourteen months to "shoot."

Could I maybe borrow the loan of those pearl studs again?

If Eddie Melcher's suggestion that it is Hope Williams that she looks so much like fails to satisfy your curiosity as to that haunting resemblance, I might go back a few years farther to the days of Wilton Lackaye and Hilda Spong and the early Columbia Theater Players and offer the hint that at times Nancy Sheridan, of the present National Players, looks a great deal like the Charlotte Walker of those old days—only more so.

Miss Sheridan even promises to match Miss Walker's local popularity—something that has rarely been achieved in the annals of Washington stock.

And will Miss Roberta Beatty please accept our assurance that only the early morning rush of "getting the paper to bed" permitted her name to appear in yesterday's review of "The Royal Family" as Robert? The identity of so charming an actress is by no means so nebulous a matter in this department as the misspelling might lead one to believe.

It looks a little as if the foreword to "The Public Enemy" might have been written by one. Unless you merely skimmed over it, you probably noticed that it split an infinitive so wide open that you could drive a beer truck through it and then used "strata" as a singular noun.

Or perhaps my dictionary is wrong. I've never had much confidence in it since I bought it second-hand in '78.

But don't try to tell me that "strata" is singular noun then!

Famous Stroganoff Art Collection Being Sold

Berlin, May 12 (A.P.).—The sensation of the first day of the auction of the famous Stroganoff art collection, conducted under the auspices of the Soviet Government of Russia, was the sale of two Van Dyck paintings, "Nicalaus Rockox" and "Bathazarine von Linick," for approximately $168,000 to the Amsterdam art dealer, Goudstikker.

Rembrandt's "Christ and the Samaritan," recently restored, brought $52,000; Ruysdael's "View of Haarlem," $15,000 and Romney's "Countess of Woronzof," $12,500.

$47,000,000 Loaned For Drought Relief

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover said yesterday that of $67,000,000 appropriated for drought relief, $47,000,000 had been loaned to 380,000 persons. This sum, he said, probably would consummate the drought relief program.

Of the $10,000,000 set aside for the stabilization of agricultural credit corporations only $471,000 had been called for, he said. A total of $39,000,000 was loaned for seed and fertilizer and $5,140,000 for rehabilitation purposes.

This Woman In 4 Weeks Lost 17 Pounds of Fat

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

"Gentlemen: I started taking Kruschen every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give 'Kruschen Salts' a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better. Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity.

"May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in any easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince anyone."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 85c at any drug-store in America. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning. To help reduce swiftly cut out pastry and fatty meats and go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

The Kruschen way is the safe way to reduce—Try one bottle and if not joyfully satisfied—money back. Peoples Drug Store knows all about Kruschen.—Adv.

Eugene Forker Chosen Publisher in New York

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—William Randolph Hearst, jr., president of the New York American, announced today the appointment of Eugene Forker as publisher of the newspaper. Mr. Forker, who last January was appointed advertising director of the International Magazine Co. Inc., joined the Hearst organization in 1917 as a member of the staff of Harper's Bazar. He became business manager of that magazine, and in 1925 was appointed general manager of Cosmopolitan.

In his early career he was connected with the Hearst newspapers and with the Associated Press.

cludes trusts and special funds, for 1933, while below the 1931 and 1932 figures, is higher than the amounts available for the five previous years, Maj. Donovan pointed out. This, he explained, was indicative that the District's income is just being brought back to normal.

Only about $6,000,000 of the 1933 budget will be available for capital expenses or improvements, such as new buildings, new street work and the like, the remainder being required for operating expenses. This contrasts with the $15,000,000 appropriated for such work in the present fiscal year and $12,500,000 included in the 1932 bill.

The operating expenses of the District average about $31,000,000 a year, Maj. Donovan said.

Commenting on this, however, Maj. John C. Gotwals, Engineer Commissioner, pointed out that Washington has no huge bonded indebtedness such as hangs over cities of similar size which can anticipate their taxes.

Dr. Reichelderfer, during his discussion yesterday, also said that the Commissioners are further embarrassed in drafting the 1933 budget by the uncertainty of what the report of the Mapes committee on fiscal relations between the District and Federal Governments may be when it is submitted next winter.

RHEEM AND BREWER INDICTED BY DISTRICT GRAND JURYMEN

Examined by creditors, he assumed complete responsibility for operations of the defunct concern.

The first count charges that both Rheem and Brewer in January of this year took 138 unpaid promissory notes of the Shoreham Hotel Corporation and deposited them with the Washington Loan & Trust Co., then trustee of the estate of Clarence B. Rheem, of which Rheem was a beneficiary.

This was done, according to the indictment, "with intent on their part to defraud and injure the Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co.," and "to defraud and injure" the persons who were owners of the notes.

The indictment declared that the Washington Loan & Trust Co., as trustee of the Clarence B. Rheem estate, was put in a position to sell the notes "to innocent third parties." It was charged that both the estates and rights of Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey and of the noteholders, by reason of this, "might have been defeated, injured and altered."

In the second count it was charged that both Rheem and Hensey "unlawfully and feloniously" converted to their own use the 138 unpaid Shoreham Hotel Corporation notes.

It is alleged the Washington Loan & Trust Co. about January 13 discovered that $162,150 in notes comprising part of the Clarence B. Rheem estate had been released; that Rheem was notified, and that subsequently he replaced the released notes with the unpaid Shoreham Hotel notes.

The indictment charged that Rheem and Brewer both knew these notes "were the property of divers other persons."

Through an authorization, signed last week by Rheem, beneficiary under his father's will, and his mother, Mrs. Eulalie Rheem Rowe, executrix, directing the bank to return the notes to the trustees of the defunct company, creditors do not stand to lose because of the transaction.

Other indictments may be returned by the grand jury as the aftermath of the bankruptcy, which already has resulted in a maze of civil suits by creditors. Tomorrow afternoon creditors will resume their examination of Rheem before Referee Fred J. Eden, at the company's offices.

Owners of the Shoreham Hotel notes which the indictment alleges were deposited to the credit of the Clarence B. Rheem estate at the Washington Loan & Trust Co. were listed as follows:

Mary M. Baily, Evelyn H. Barnette, Ella R. Bates, Caroline M. Blackburn, Florence R. Boyd, Alice V. Bunker, Mary A. Chute, Elizabeth Clapp, Emma O. Clark, J. A. Claxton, Mary Colgan, Harry F. Conover, Sue E. Crump, Florence Cutcheon, A. C. Daniel, Elizabeth S. Davis, Irma M. Davis, Virginia I. Davis, F. A. Denison, Marie D. Dill, H. M. Dodge, H. C. Donohue, Robert L. Ettinger, Richard T. asked the members of the national committe to consider the advisability of a change in the present unsatisfactory conditions of prohibition."

"I do not consider prohibition the paramount issue of the coming campaign," he added, "but I do believe that ascertainment of the sentiment of a majority of our party should be had on this as on every other question of importance within the party.

"I have stressed it here merely because it has been the subject of variant opinion in our party in the past, to the profit of our opponents, who, as a matter of fact, are more divided on the subject than we ever have been."

Describing the business depression as "transcending all other things in importance in this country today," Mr. Shouse said the Democrats must "present to the country a real program of progress," and that their platform "must meet every question that is plaguing the people."

CONFEDERATES PAID TRIBUTE IN VIRGINIA

Slabs Placed Over Graves by Government Are Presented to Cemetery.

Spotsylvania Courthouse, Va., May 12 (A.P.).—Tribute to the armies of the North and the South was paid here today by Col. Frederick H. Payne, Assistant Secretary of War, in presenting to the Confederate Cemetery markers erected over the graves of Confederate soldiers by the Federal Government.

"Within view and earshot of this God's acre there was exhibited a desperate valor that, in duration and in intensity, has never been surpassed in the history of the world," Col. Payne said. "Today we write an epilogue to that drama, so instinct with tragedy, courage and devotion."

"Here has been gathered reverently all that is mortal of a great assemblage of Confederate soldiers, men whose patriotism bade them fight, men whose valor placed them in the forefront of the battle, men whose steadfastness knew no flinching in the face of death.

"The Congress of the Unted States, representing every far-flung acre of our country, has taken special action to permit the tombs of these gallant men to be preserved as deathlessly as their memories. The marble headstones stand in serried ranks. Just as the wearers of the Gray beneath them would have them stand, a perpetual and ordered gathering of the Army of Northern Virginia.

The markers were accepted by Attorney General John R. Saunders, of Virginia, on behalf of the cemetery and the State. The graves are those of soldiers principally from Georgia, Texas and Carolina regiments.

CUT IN ARMY POSTS TERMED MOVEMENT FOR EFFICIENCY

camps, as agricultural experiment farms or as veterans' hospitals.

The President also suggested that some of the abandoned forts might be taken over by the States and used for institutional purposes—educational or otherwise.

Realization of President.

The President realizes that unless something is done to make up for the loss of revenue that would follow the scrapping of an Army post in a particular community, the member of Congress representing that community, most certainly would start a fight. It always has been thus.

The President's statement follows:

"About a month ago I requested the general staff, through Secretary Hurley, to make a renewed study of the whole question of Army posts from the point of view of gaining the maximum efficiency through the concentration of the Army, and the important purpose of economy in the War Department.

"The staff has insisted for great numbers of years that the Army must be more largely concentrated if it is to be the most effective body, and it becomes even more necessary now in viw of the very large mechanization of the Army and the number of subsidiary mechanical services, such as aviation, and so on.

"We have actually abandoned 13 posts during the past two years. The staff will probably report between 20 or 30 more posts that should be abandoned if we are to have the most effective Army and if we are to accomplish some very considerable economies.

"With view to the maximum public use of this equipment I have appointed a committee representing the Army, the Department of Justice, the Department of Agriculture, and the Veterans' Bureau to study these proposed abandonments and see which of them could be used by other departments of the Government with view to saving of construction and other economies in those departments, as those agencies must expand from time to time.

"There are some of these posts that might be of very great value to the States for institutional purposes—educational or otherwise. It would relieve the feeling of deprivation of the local communities if these posts could be adapted to some other public purposes. We are, therefore, endeavoring to work out the program in such a fashion as to create as little hardship as possible and will effect economies in many directions."

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

New Orleans Queen Coming To Live Here

Mrs. Hastings Reigned as Supreme Beauty of Mardi Gras.

PRESIDENT HOOVER having appointd Mr. George A. Hastings, of New York, to succeed Mr. French Strother on the executive staff at the White House, a most attractive couple will join the ranks of Capital residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hastings will not be strangers when they come to Washington the end of this month, as they visited here earlier in the season, when they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Wadden, the latter a daughter of Representative and Mrs. Edward W. Pou, of North Carolina.

Mrs. Hastings was here for the reception given by the Congressional Club for the late Speaker of the House and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

As Miss Rose West, Mrs. Hastings, a native daughter of New Orleans, was queen of the Mardi Gras, for the great day of masquerade in the Crescent City a few years ago. A reigning beauty at the time of her victory over the other "club queens," Rose West Hastings is one of the loveliest women Washington has seen in many a long day. One glance at her tells the "why and how" of her victory.

Mr. Hastings will have the title of executive clerk, instead of administrative assistant, as Mr. Strother was known, as the duties of the latter have been partially placed in the hands of Mr. Theodore G. Joslin, private secretary to the President.

Mr. Hastings will handle principally the outside social welfare interests of Mr. Hoover, including his contacts with the quasiofficial White House conference on child health and protection.

Mr. Joslin and Mr. Hastings will be rather closely allied in their work at the White House and will find a common bond in the fact that both have been newspaper men for many years. While Mr. Joslin came to Washington fresh from the fields of journalism, Mr. Hastings, who was, for some time, on the staff of the Syracuse Post, has more recently been in New York, where he took a course at the New York School of Social Work and also at the New York School of Philanthropy.

HOW IT BEGAN

By Russ Murphy and Ray Sennsky

Lifting A Bride Over The Doorstep

THE ANCIENT ROMANS WERE VERY SUPERSTITIOUS ABOUT THE MANNER OF ENTRY INTO A HOUSE. IF ONE STUMBLED OR STEPPED IN LEFT FOOT FIRST, IT MEANT BAD LUCK. THEREFORE, THEY WERE ALWAYS CAREFUL TO CARRY A BRIDE OVER THE DOORSTEP TO PREVENT HER STUMBLING OR CARELESSLY PUTTING THE WRONG FOOT FIRST. MANY PEOPLE STILL OBSERVE THE SUPERSTITIOUS PRACTICE OF CARRYING A BRIDE OVER THE DOORSTEP

Back Stairs Influence

IN ROYAL PALACES OF EARLY DAYS, THERE WERE ALWAYS TWO STAIRWAYS, ONE USED BY PERSONS ENGAGED IN AFFAIRS OF STATE AND THE OTHER USED BY ASPIRANTS WITH PRIVATE ENDS IN VIEW. THAT'S WHY WE USE THIS EXPRESSION TO INDICATE INFLUENCE SECURED BY INTRIGUE.

TOMORROW—Delirious; "Up Salt Creek;" How Fish Stories Began.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

NEW PREVENTIVE FOR RINGWORM ON FEET.

THE onset of ringworm of the feet does not await the warm weather. As soon as the trees began to bud the letters asking about this trouble began to come in. There are a few promising developments since the close of the last season.

Dr. H. Goodman suggests the use of a preventive dusting powder. The one he recommends is a mixture of 2 parts salol, 2 parts chloral hydrate and 100 parts of a sterilized powdered silicious earth. Any other inert powder should answer as well for a base for the salol and chloral, provided it is sterilized. Heating will do this. The heating must be done before the salol is added, since heating that drug destroys its power to kill ringworm fungus.

The advice is to wash the feet well with soap and water often enough to keep them clean. After drying thoroughly, dust this powder between the toes, around the nails and on the thick skin of the soles. Persons who walk barefooted around gymnasium floors and around swimming pools and beaches should dust their feet preliminary to dressing.

There is no objection to adding this powder to the long list of cures for ringworm of the feet. If it is used as a cure, discretion must be exercised as to washing the toes. If the surface is raw and oozing, a cream is better than soap and water as a cleansing agent.

Since ringworm of the feet is now recognized as our most popular disease, there is a surfeit of remedies on the drug store shelves. Any person can keep a case well in hand by a reasonably near proper use of any one of a half dozen remedies now available. Those that contain salicylic acid should not be used on raw surfaces.

The purpose of this acid in such a combination is to cut away the piled up skin cells and let the fungus killer get at its prey. Therefore, it there is no thickened skin salicylic acid does more harm than good. Many of the remedies are somewhat irritating for some other reason. Irritating applications should not be overdone.

There is some evidence tending to clear gymnasium and swimming pool floors of the charge that they spread ringworm of the feet. Experience is teaching that there are varieties of pomphylax that are not due to ringworm.

"NERVOUS HEART."

Mrs. A. S. W. writes:

1. What causes the heart to palpitate after meals and on very slight exertion and to jump suddenly and seem to turn over? I am 48 and have leakage of the heart, secondary anemia, and am very nervous.
2. Would my age have anything to do with my heart?
3. Would dieting help any?

REPLY.

1. Among the possible causes are organic heart disease, goiter, change of life, nervousness, excessive use of tobacco. Since you have a heart leakage the first of these is the probable cause.
2. It might.
3. Have your physician decide what is the cause of your "nervous heart" and advise you what to do based on what he finds. This applies to dieting, exercise and personal hygiene even more than to the use of medicine.

New Tariff Quiz Begun On Tomatoes, Cherries

(Associated Press.)

The Tariff Commission announced yesterday that a new investigation of rates on cherries and tomatoes has been undertaken at the request of President Hoover. This action was ordered, the commission said, in response to the request of the President that "the commission should include in these investigations additional information based upon the forthcoming crop."

Mr. Hoover returned without his approval the recent recommendation of the commission that duties be lowered on cherries, sulphured or in brine, and canned tomatoes. The commission said it would not be able to complete the new inquiry until the harvesting and marketing of the two crops are complete.

YOUR NAME — WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFERRARI, Ph. D.

THE family name "Lynn" (also spelled "Linn") has come down to us from several sources. In many cases this name is of Celtic origin. It may be traced back to the Welsh "llyn," the Gaelic "linne" and the Irish "linn," all of which names mean "the pool" and "the stream." In such cases the family name indicates an original place of residence. There are several parishes called "Lynn" in County Norfolk. There is evidence that a former residence in one of these parishes has frequently given rise to the family name. The above mentioned Norfolk place-names all mean "the pool," their source being the same as that mentioned above for the family name. However, in some cases "Lynn" is derived from the Northern English word "hlynn," meaning "the torrent" or "the cascade," and indicates an original place of residence near a rapid stream. As a family name "Lynn" and "Linn" are sometimes corrupted forms of "Lynd" and "Lind," and therefore mean "he who lives near the lime tree." In Ireland some families have adopted the names "Lynn" and "Linn" as the supposed English equivalents of the original Irish "O Loinn." "O Loinn" is a variation of "O Floinn," which means "the descendant of Flann." The personal name "Flann" means "red," and was originally given as a nickname to persons with red complexions or red hair. Thirteenth century instances of this name in English documents are Cecilia de Lynn and Reginald de Lyn. A certain John de Lynne was bailiff of Norwich in 1396.

The family name "Lindale" (also written "Lindall" and "Lindell") is of English and Scandinavian origin. It means "the lime tree valley," and indicates an original place of residence.

Wives of Tomorrow

FRANCES M'DONALD

The Boy Friend Speaks.

DEAR Frances McDonald—As you have always seemed to me to be absolutely fair I am writing to present the man's side of this question raised by those two girls—Lou and Dorothy—as to what a man should spend on a girl. It seems pretty awful to think they are counting up what you are spending instead of feeling that you seek them to spend what little you may have. However, I think you once remarked quite sagely, that the men were the real romanticists and the real sentimentalists, swayed by music and moonlight as the woman calmly sits wondering when the poor idiot will come to the point.

So in the matter of the spending. Everything costs so frightfully today that a man must almost choose between being a hermit and being labeled cheap. I am 30 and would dearly love to marry. I have even picked the girl. Does she know it? I will say not. How can I even dare start going with a girl when I earn only enough to pay my way and provide for possible illness. I took this girl out quite some. But grew so fond of her I had to quit to save my peace of mind. It was hopeless and I had sense enough to know it.

But while going with her I was not able to save one cent. Now, do not say "tightwad." It is necessary to save enough to see you through an emergency. And after paying for two theater tickets at $2.75 each, a light supper at $1 each, a taxi home at $1, you can see $10 gone. And this is only one evening. A girl does not consider a man very serious when he comes only once a week. And very few men have the nerve to simply sit in the girl's home instead of taking her somewhere. Certainly I have not such cheek. So some one else will get my dear little star-eyed lass, for I had not even enough to go with her much less to marry her. I am not the good loser you may think. There are times when I am bitterly disheartened at the thought that I should have found the perfect girl, realized that my feeling might be rewarded—only to have to pass up happiness as many a better man has done before me. I live at the "Y" and the fellows often talk of their experiences, and you would be surprised if you knew how many who seem self-satisfied bachelors are pretty badly hit by their lot. But the girls are entitled to their break and to all the good times and pretty things they so naturally desire. A woman loses her beauty when she has to skimp and worry and slave. My sister married a poor devil for love and she looks as old as mother now. And he isn't even true to her. She does not know that, thank Heaven. But her experience has a lot to do with my feeling that Star-eyes is better without me.

PETE.

Now girls, think it over. If you were "Star-eyes" would you want things settled quite this way? Do you think "Star-eyes" really got what Pete calls a "break?" Or do you think she might have wished a voice in all this muddle? Theater tickets, suppers. What are they for anyway except to fill empty hours—and here they are making more empty hours and empty years, and empty lives. Are we all crazy—or do I just imagine it?

New York, May 12.

JUST a little difference makes all the difference in the world, doesn't it? particularly between things smart and those somehow just not right. A little detail like stockings of not quite the chic color will just do ruinous damage to what would otherwise have been an awfully stylish appearance. Ah, me, it's a difficult life and you have to know if you want to cramp your "style" all about just those little differences (and sometimes they're very small, indeed) between what's right and what's "just too bad!"

To begin with, this spring stockings in general are darker—which means that they are as much darker compared to those of last spring as your winter ones were to those of last winter. In other words, quite a bit darker! None of the gay, pinky beiges will do at all for daytime wear. As a matter of fact, almost all the smart daytime stocking colors are about the same—a sort of indeterminate "mothy" shade. And it's just the overtone, or glint, which determines what color goes with that costume. A brownish glint—with your warm green, wine red or brown costumes and a slight grayish cast with navy blue and the cold greens, &c. If you go in for dark gray, and it's a very smart color this spring, you must wear very dark beige stockings. And if you can afford to go in for the sheerest of the sheer in hose, a smoky gray beige goes with almost every daytime costume. But of course, you must use discretion in this sheer stocking business, for too much sheerness isn't in the very best taste, I don't think, with the costumes that are obviously morningish.

Many smart Parisiennes like the very wide mesh stockings for morning wear, and when I say very wide I mean it, because sometimes the stitches are all of an eighth of an inch apart.

And for evening some couturiers, Worth among them, still advocate the stockingless mode, with Grecian sandals and bright, bright toenails!

Is there any woman, anywhere, who doesn't like plaids in some form or other? 'N' if there was such a woman, wouldn't she change her mind if she met the gay and youthful Lucile Paray frock I sketch for you today? For plaids are interesting, and especially so when they are printed to simulate hemstitching. The plaid is red on white crepe de chine. Can you think of anything smarter than the white hip yoke and lower sleeves appliqued with red squares. And to make it just the youngest frock in the world, the white linen petal-like collar and cuffs were tied with black velvet ribbon, and the narrowest black velvet encircles the waist!

Would you like a coat that is just the thing to wear around these evenings that are still cool? 'N' would you like a coat to wear when you go motoring to the shore and the mountains later on? 'N' who doesn't need a coat for the fall—one that you can wear right up to the day when you slip into your furry winter one? And the thrilling thing is that I have found a chic coat that will fit all three purposes! So I wrote careful directions on this coat in this week's illustrated leaflet, which you may have by just sending your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post. You'll be simply delighted when you find how easy and inexpensive it all is!

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

IF MAY 13 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a. m. to 1:15 p. m., from 3:45 p. m. to 6 p. m. The danger hours are from 7:45 a. m. to 9:10 a. m., from 2 p. m to 3:30 p m, and from 8 p m. to 9:25 p. m.

The planetary aspects of May 13 denote negative conditions during the day. After sunset, however, the atmosphere becomes stimulating and extremely favorable for all social efforts. It will also strengthen those who are faint-hearted, and give them the necessary courage to put their fate to the test.

A child born on this May 13 will be kind, loving, sweet-tempered and extremely patient. It will not excell along the usual standardized line of study, but will be at its best in the open, where it will learn readily to appreciate the beauties of nature, and understand them.

Born on May 13, you are sincere and very thorough. Your feelings are not variable and you stick to your friends through thick and thin. You are very frank and never adopt expediency to further your ends. You are, however, frank in a nice way and, though others may not agree with you, they are always willing to concede that your opinions are based on honest conviction and not advocated merely for the sake of stubbornness. You are not a quick worker, but are a very diligent one. Nothing you attempt is done in a slipshod way; everything is done to the best of your ability.

You are fond of travel for a change, but not for a steady diet. You always long, when away from home, for the pleasures of your own family circle and for the presence of familiar household gods. You possess personal magnetism, and your ruggedness of character, combined with your charity of mind, attracts and charms.

Your horoscope denotes a fairly successful life and, most assuredly, a happy one. You will always strive to live up to the high ideals that are continually urging you onward. Your nature is a forgiving one and your outlook extremely tolerant.

Successful people born May 13:

Johnson M. Mundy, sculptor.

Frank Woolworth, five and ten cent store merchant.

William Boyce Thompson, capitalist.

Rev. Percy Stickney Grant, clergyman.

Thomas Rees, newspaper publisher.

Arthur Rotch, architect.

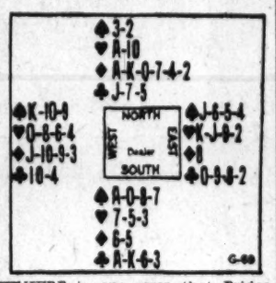
WORK ON BRIDGE

SAFETY FIRST.



THERE is one error that Bridge players make more frequently than it would seem reasonable to expect. These articles have warned against it repeatedly, but reports from all over the country show that players are continuing to make the mistake The latest is an Auction Bridge example from Reno.

The bidding was: South, one Club; West, pass; North, one Diamond; East, pass; South, one Spade; West, pass, and North, one No Trump.

At Contract Bridge North and South probably would bid three No Trumps.

In the Auction play, the other three suits having all been adversely named, East led the Deuce of Hearts, and North's Ace captured the trick. Declarer then attempted to run the six Diamonds in his own hand and was bitterly disappointed when the shortage of East in the suit limited the number of his Diamond tricks to three. He next lost a Spade finesse, and consequently his trick-taking stopped two short of his contract.

THE CORRECT PLAY.

This Declarer apparently had not grasped the idea that it is better to take a sure three No Trump than to try for a doubtful four when the attempt endangers game. When North won the first trick, he could count from the lead of the Deuce of Hearts that each adversary had three remaining. Therefore he could not lose more than three Heart tricks. He probably could make six Diamonds, two Clubs, and at least one Spade, in addition to the Heart already taken; but he should not have bothered with extra tricks. Game could be practically cinched by losing the first Diamond; if that play were made, only a 5 to 0 split of the adverse Diamonds would interfere.

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

COMBATING INSECTS.

EVEN so early in the season I am beginning to receive letters regarding cut worms and other insects.

I think the cut worm is one of the garden's worst enemies. All we can do to get rid of this pest is to use a poison bait. There is a proprietary preparation which really does kill these crawlers, but if you prefer to make your own poison bait, mix an ounce of lead arsenate with one-half pint of molasses and as much dry bran as can be stirred into the liquid. This should be scattered over the infested area. The advantage of the commercial preparation is that it is permanent or at least nearly so. The formula I have just given is soon disintegrated by the rain and sun; therefore has to be redistributed from time to time. Also, it must not be used where children or animals can get at it.

A good garden spray for general garden use for all insects such as the rose bug, an insect with a chewing mouthpiece, or the aphis, known as a sucking insect, demanding a contact insecticide, is as follows:

Arsenate of Lead Spray.

3 teaspoonfuls of arsenate of lead powder.
1 ounce of any liquid soap.
1 teaspoon of nicotine sulphate
A gallon of water

Some persons think it is easier to use a dust than a spray, so for their benefit I shall give a formula in dry form.

Arsenate of Lead Dust.

1 ounce of powdered lead arsenate
4 ounces of air-slaked lime
4 ounces of powdered sulphur
½ ounce of 40 per cent liquid nicotine sulphate

These ingredients must be thoroughly mixed and then sifted several times. To apply any dust, use a blower gun or place the material in a cheesecloth bag and shake the contents over the affected plants. As both the above formulas contain poisons, they must be kept out of the reach of children or other irresponsible persons.

Why the GAS REFRIGERATOR

is the only

kind to have

A tiny gas flame takes the place of all moving parts

LET'S get down to facts on this question of which automatic refrigerator is the best investment.

Electrolux is as far ahead of other automatic refrigerators as they were once ahead of the good old icebox.

Electrolux is far in advance of the others, because it works on a simpler principle.

Others have machinery. Electrolux has only a tiny gas flame and a trickle of water. By this simple means it circulates the refrigerant, makes the cold, freezes ice cubes.

Electrolux is silent when you buy it, and remains silent as long as you have it. There are no moving parts to wear, to vibrate and make noise as time goes on.

The refrigerant is 3½ pints of ordinary ammonia, little stronger than the household kind. The refrigerant is hermetically sealed in a rigid steel unit, and need not be renewed. The gas flame is completely protected by an automatic shut-off. The gas must burn, or the gas shuts off.

Instead of alternately stopping and starting as other refrigerators must, ELECTROLUX WORKS ALL THE TIME. Therefore the cold is constant, steady.

And this refrigerator costs you less to use than any other kind. Six cents a day is the average operating cost in this city. Think of the saving that means on ice bills!

Free Lifetime Service

BECAUSE of the unique way the Gas Refrigerator works, it is exceptionally free from trouble. Therefore we can guarantee FREE LIFETIME SERVICE. Think that over. Not free service for a couple of years, but for the life of the refrigerator. You can depend upon this service. Our special staff of service men is always at your call.

You might think because of all these advantages, that Electrolux costs more to buy than other makes. But not so. Prices are no higher. $235 to $775 installed in your home. You make a considerable saving because on this refrigerator there are:

Quick Facts

1—Free lifetime service.
2—Permanently noiseless.
3—6c a day average operating cost.
4—Automatic without moving parts.
5—Works continuously, no stopping and starting.
6—Maintains constant, steady cold.
7—Freezes plenty of ice cubes.
8—Refrigerant hermetically sealed in rigid steel . . . never needs renewal.
9—Dependable . . . no machinery to get out of order.
10—More than 150,000 already in use.
11—Two years to pay—no finance charges.

ELECTROLUX
THE Gas REFRIGERATOR

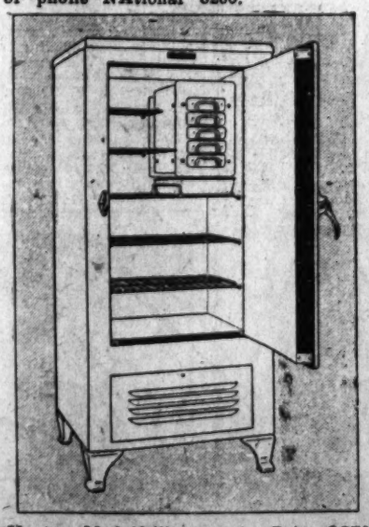
No Finance Charges 2 Years to Pay

YOU pay nothing but the cash price of the refrigerator, even on deferred payments. No finance charges at all added on. That means money in your pocket. And for a limited time, if you buy for immediate installation, you have two whole years in which to pay the balance, after a small down payment. The initial purchase price can not be a barrier with terms like these.

Why put in another summer with an old-fashioned refrigerator, when it is so easy to have this modern automatic kind? You have eleven different models to choose from—3 cu. ft. to 20 cu. ft. capacity. There are displays at all our showrooms. If you buy now you get a $3 Hydrator free. It will pay you to come in today, or at least to write us for complete information, or phone NAtional 8280.



Hostess Model (illustrated). Price, $270, installed. Ideal for families of 2 to 6 people. Makes 46 large ice cubes. One of the eleven beautiful models.

FALLS CHURCH LETS WATER MAIN AWARD

Early Completion of Work Is Required in Contract; Survey Men Praised.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST,
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

The Falls Church Town Council at its monthly meeting awarded contract for laying water mains, surface connection and cross arms along Washington street in the corporation limits to Thomas DeLashmutt, of Arlington County, provided he can give suitable guaranty to complete the work promptly so as not to delay the paving program of the State highway department.

It was announced that the State would start preliminary grading work on the Lee highway or Washington street in the town before the end of the week, details to be decided upon by the mayor, officials of the State Highway Commission and the contractors. The pipe and other supplies are being delivered and the laying of water mains and connections to the homes along Washington street will be started immediately. Resident State Engineer R. I. Mount has asked the town not to lay the new curbing along the highway until after the State has completed laying the new highway through the town.

A resolution was adopted by the council governing the work on the streets of the town. The new ordinance makes it unlawful for any person or firm to open any street without a permit from the town clerk; a separate permit is required for every excavation. Bond must be deposited with the clerk sufficient to cover the cost of repairing any underground construction; all public and private property must be restored to as good condition as before. The open trenches must be guarded day and night to prevent accidents and no trench can close more than half the road at any one time. Where the proposed work seems likely to cost $500, the application must be approved by the mayor or chairman of the town road board. The permits will be issued at a fee of $1 until it becomes necessary for the town to employ an inspector. In the meantime the duty of inspection will be taken care of by the mayor and councilmen.

A resolution was adopted addressed to the State Highway Commission declaring a dangerous condition will exist on the Lee Highway in Falls Church on the completion of the present program of the State, in widening the highway as far as Broad street. It asked the Commission to continue widening the highway to the corporation limits at Tripps Quarry. The council passed a resolution of thanks addressed to the United States Geological Survey for its cooperation in making a ground water survey of the town. This report, which has been turned over to the town engineering subcommittee, summarizes geological conditions in the vicinity of the town and recommends a portion north of Broad street and east of Noland street as a favorable location for a town well.

Mayor Daniels has been notified by the director of survey that the town will be called upon to pay only half of the costs of the investigation.

Town Clerk J. C. Parrott was instructed to notify the electric company that because no detail plan for the new location for light poles along Washington street had been submitted that the new poles have been erected at the company's risk and are liable to condemnation if the plan is not approved by the council.

Chief E. M. Ward, of the Falls Church Volunteer Fire Department, asked the council for assistance in paying the department's electric bills.

The quarterly meeting of the Home Demostration Agents' advisory council will be held today at the home of Mrs. George R. Bready at Herndon. Plans will be made for the women's camp in August and a delegate elected to attend the club leaders' short course at Blacksburg, Va., this summer.

ALEXANDRIANS GIVEN EXTENDED TAX DATE

Limit Set at June 1, November 1 by Council; Bills Are to Be Mailed Today.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 323.

The city council at a special meeting yesterday enacted an ordinance extending the final date for payment of the first half of 1931 taxes on real, personal and mixed property, from May 15 to June 1, and the second half from October 15 to November 1. All penalties and interest for nonpayment remain the same as before, except that the date of payment in each case was extended for fifteen days. Mayor Edmund F. Ticer, who presided, announced that some 4,100 tax bills will be placed in the mails tonight.

Benedict Weil, elected a member of the council last Thursday, was administered the oath of office yesterday by Judge William P. Woolls, of the Corporation Court. He cast his first vote for the tax ordinance, which was introduced, placed on its first and second readings, and passed, each step requiring a separate vote.

In reference to the lighting of the Mount Vernon boulevard, being constructed by the Government, Mayor Ticer stated that the Government intends placing lights on iron pedestals on the north side, while on the south side, or below Alexandria, cedar posts, 16 or 18 feet high, will be used as more in keeping with the surroundings. The pedestals and poles will be about 150 feet apart and will carry lamps of 10,000 watts.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mayor Ticer stated the council would then go into conference with the company which furnishes current for the Alexandria lights, in reference to the lighting of Washington street, from First street to Jefferson, which will be traversed by the boulevard.

The lights at present on this portion of Washington street consist of 16 of 6,000 watts, 4 of 4,000 watts, and 2 of 1,000 watts, the total annual cost of he ciy being $1,036. Carrying out the scheme of the Government, the lights for Washington street would consist of 47 of 6,000 watts and four of 1,000 watts, at a total annual cost of $2,657.

A resolution was offered by J. William May, vice president, at the monthly meeting of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce Monday night, to the effect that the chamber indorse the present form of city government and the recent proposal of Mayor Edmund F. Ticer to ask for a special act of the legislature to permit Alexandria to increase the number of councilmen from five to seven or nine. The resolution was referred to the public relations committee for a report at the next membership meeting.

Mr. May later criticized management of the Mount Vernon, Alexandria and Washington Railway before it came into the hands of the present owner, R. L. May. Gardner L. Boothe, counsel for the company for the last ten years, took exception to the remarks, whereupon Mr. May changed the statement to which Mr. Boothe objected. Mr. May explained that his remarks had to do with the time when neither the present owner, Mr. Boothe, or a firm of engineers which operated the property, were connected with it.

Dan S. Hollenga, business manager of the chamber, in his monthly report, told of progress on the project for building near Alexandria what is to be known as the George Washington Memorial Atheneum, in which it is proposed to have produced a local pageant similar to the Mission Play of California. Several Cabinet members, governors of ten States, and a number of other distinguished persons have signified their acceptance of appointment on the Alexandria bicentennial commission.

While fleeing from the home of Councilman Arthur Herbert, 116 Walnut street, Rosemont, early yesterday, a man was wounded by Policeman George Roberts after disregarding orders to halt. The man, who gave his name as Joe Mardo, 20, stated he was hitch-hiking to New York.

Mr. Herbert awoke to see the man standing by his bed and ordered him to leave. The intruder struck Herbert a resounding blow on the chest, which aroused Mrs. Herbert, in an adjoining room. She screamed, whereupon the man jumped out of a window and ran.

The Rev. E. V. Regester, D. D., presiding elder of the Alexandria District of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, will be the speaker at the annual Confederate Memorial Day exercises to be held May 25, in Lee Camp Hall, at 6 p. m. The fact that Washington street is torn up for the construction of the Mount Vernon boulevard prevents the exercises being held at the Confederate Monument at Prince and Washington streets as usual.

The program was agreed upon at a meeting of the Sons of Veterans Monday night in Lee Camp Hall, presided over by Commander R. Samuel Luckett.

The committee on monuments and grounds, composed of members of the Confederate Veterans, Sons of Veterans and Daughters of the Confederacy, also met Monday night and approved plans for changes to be made around the monument in connection with the construction of the Mount Vernon boulevard.

Gen. Edgar Warfield, James G. Graham, Charles W. Duffey, Harvey W. Selecman, Nelson E. Duffey and Courtland L. Warfield were named delegates to represent Lee Camp at the thirty-fifth annual general reunion of the Confederates to be held in June, at Montgomery, Ala.

Oxygen administered by the Washington rescue squad failed to save the life of Henry Koffler, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koffler, who was seized with convulsions Monday, and died early yesterday morning after seven hours of unremitting work on the part of the rescue squad.

Andrew Jackson Council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, will unveil a flag at the Alexandria High School at 8 o'clock this afternoon. The student body, the corps of cadets and the drum and bugle corps of the American Legion Post will take part in the exercises.

The weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club will be held at 12:30 p. m. today in the George Mason Hotel, instead of on Thursday, due to the fact that there will be a convention held at the hotel on Thursday. The program, in charge of Harry B. Caton, will be a Mother's Day observance.

Reports will be made by Roger C. Sullivan and Everett Hellmuth, delegates who attended the convention in Miami. The alternates were J. Randall Caton and the Rev. Emmette C. Spencer.

Virginia U. Plans To Build Theater

Randall Hall to Be Taken Over and Remodeled for Players.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., May 12.—For the first time since the birth of the Little Theater idea at the University of Virginia, a plan is on foot to erect a theater within the college grounds.

Randall Hall, for years used as a nurses' home, will be vacated during the summer, and the university authorities have notified the Virginia Players that they might secure the building for a playhouse, provided they could raise the $15,000 necessary for remodeling the interior.

The site selected is an excellent one, close to Cabell Hall, the McIntire open-air theater, and only a step from the heart of the university. No alterations are necessary on the exterior. The building can be cleared to provide for the auditorium, proscenium arch and stage. The ell pointing toward East Range will remain as it stands, providing for dressing rooms, class rooms, library and property rooms, with accommodations upstairs in which assistant directors or instructors could live.

According to the architects, the building, plus $15,000, would give a finer and more roomy theater than could be obtained new under $75,000, along with a much better site than any available at present.

EDWARD PHELPS, 70, DIES AT ANNAPOLIS

Former Mayor of Laurel for Seven Terms Succumbs to Heart Attack.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 12.—Edward Phelps, 70 years old, seven times mayor of Laurel, Md., and for more than a dozen years a deputy clerk in the State land commissioner's office here, having been first appointed by former Gov. Emerson C. Harrington, died suddenly at his residence in Gloucester street, Annapolis, today of a heart attack. Though his health had been failing, he was at his office yesterday.

Mr. Phelps is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Helen Shaughnessy, of Bryn Mawr, Pa.; five sons and four daughters. The children are: Harry S. Phelps, of Baltimore; Arthur P. Phelps, of Washington; Charles E., Alan and William Phelps, of Laurel, and four daughters, Mrs. George Dan, of Baltimore; Miss Edna Phelps, of Washington; Mrs. Norris Beall and Miss Lillian Phelps, of Laurel. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

A native of Laurel, Mr. Phelps, since early manhood, was actively identified with political and other affairs of Prince Georges County. At the age of 21 he was elected to the city council of Laurel, and for several years after that he was associated with the late United States Senator Arthur Pue Gorman in real estate activities. It was when he was 34 that he was elected Mayor of Laurel, and was reelected for six consecutive terms. He was at one time a member of the board of county commissioners, and was one of the organizers of the Citizens National Bank of Laurel, and credited with laying the plans for the first high school in Prince Georges County.

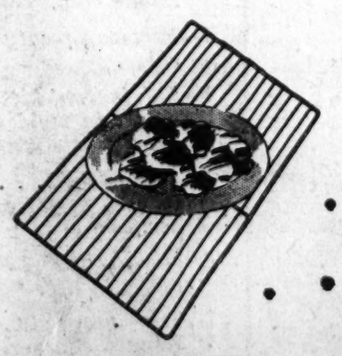
On smooth steel rails foods slide in and out of Frigidaire!


Push a heavy bowl of soup-stock into a Frigidaire—it doesn't stutter its way to the back of the shelf—slopping over as it goes. It doesn't ask to be lifted into place, either. It slides along as smoothly and silently as a Cadillac on a concrete road! . . . And when you want it again it doesn't have to be coaxed to come out . . . it seems absolutely eager to obey your guiding hand . . . This is because Frigidaire Food Shelves are made of smooth steel rails all running one way—from front to back. There are no crinkly cross-bars for dishes to stumble over and stub against . . . Now, in themselves, easy-riding rails on food shelves are small things. But they are one of the many things that go to make Frigidaire Convenience, which (millions of women will tell you) is a Very Big Thing, indeed!
Easy-riding, one-way rails on all food shelves are one of the very real advantages of Frigidaire Advanced Refrigeration. There are many others. It is these major improvements, developed by Frigidaire, that have made household refrigeration so healthful, convenient and economical. We invite you to come in and learn all about them.

BANNING OF MISSAL AVERTS CHURCH ROW

Bishop Manning Holds Book Is Not Authorized for Use by Diocese.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Bishop William T. Manning, of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, forestalled possible conflict within the 148th diocesan convention, which opened in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine today, by barring use of the service book known as the American Missal. The book was characterized by liberal Episcopal clergymen as "extremely Anglo-Catholic."

Services in the morning marked the tenth anniversary of Bishop Manning's episcopate.

In his opening address the bishop termed the present time as one of "grave spiritual and moral uncertainty." He pleaded with clergy and laity to strengthen in the face of what he called "the most concerted attack on the Christian religion" since the beginning of the Christian era.

Bishop Manning mentioned the Soviet government specifically as seeking to impose on its people a "Godless faith." Only through adherence to the teachings of Christ and a recommitment to His ideals, the bishop said, can Christianity hope to carry on its work.

"The pagan system of easy divorce is reducing marriage to the level of a temporary relation terminable at the will of either party," the bishop said. America shows a greater proportion of divorces than any country except Russia, he added.

The bishop's order condemning the use of the missal follows:

"The publication of an unauthorized service book for use in our churches, bearing the title of 'The American Missal,' having come to my knowledge, I find it my duty as the ecclesiastical authority of the diocese to give public notice, as I do hereby, in accordance with the provision of canon 46, of the general convention, that the said book is not of authority in this church and that it is not authorized for use in this diocese."

The Rev. Elliot White, minister without a church, who has been criticized by fellow clergymen for his interest in companionate marriage, asked Bishop Manning to appoint a committee to consider his case. After brief argument the minister's plea was referred to the committee on miscellaneous business.

Mexican Accepts Post On Arbitration Court

Paris, May 12 (A.P.).—Former President Francisco de la Barra, of Mexico City, today accepted the appointment of the Permanent Court of International Justice to become the neutral member of the mixed arbitration tribunal seeking to solve the Hungarian-Roumanian property question.

The problem involves the property rights of Hungarian nationals whose estates were located in the territory allocated to Roumania by the peace treaties.

Baker's Son Takes Father's Bank Post

Financier and Yachtsman Made Board Chairman of First National.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—George F. Baker, jr., modest, middle-aged son of the late dean of American bankers, was called to the chairmanship of the powerful First National Bank of New York today, to fill the vacancy left by the death of his father ten days ago.

Mr. Baker, who is 53 years old, and a prominent yachtsman as well as financier, prepared for his new duties by 29 years as an officer of the bank, the last nine of which have been as vice chairman of the board.

Beyond the mere announcement of the change, no statement was forthcoming from the First National Bank, nor from the new chairman, and Wall street presumed the policy of reticence that made the elder Baker known as "the Sphinx of Wall Street" was to be continued.

Georgetown Records Moderate Earthquake

(Associated Press.)

An earthquake of moderate intensity was recorded yesterday at Georgetown University.

It began at 8:49:18 a. m., reached maximum intensity at 9:21, and subsided at 10:20 a. m. Director Sohon estimated its center was about 5,000 miles from Washington.

Bible Instruction Decision Appealed

Washington Residents Ask State Constitution Be Held Invalid.

(Associated Press.)

George I. Clithero, of Seattle, Wash., and 36 other residents of that State yesterday appealed to the United States Supreme Court from a decision of the State supreme court that under the State constitution the reading and teaching of the Bible in the public schools there was prohibited.

Clithero and his associates asserted that the decision was contrary to the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, the Magna Charta, the Mayflower Compact, the Articles of Confederation and the Northwest Ordinance of 1879.

Their suit in the State courts sought to compel the State superintendent of public instruction and the State board of education to require the compulsory teaching and reading of the Bible in the State public schools and all other State educational institutions. They insisted that if the State constitution prohibited such instruction it must be declared contrary to the Federal Constitution and invalid.

Superbank Proposed To Remonetize Silver

Ottawa, Ontario, May 12 (A.P.).—The Ottawa Citizen today said a project for the remonetization of silver by means of a superbank of empire has been submitted to the government by J. F. Darling, director of the Midland Bank of England. The Canadian government, the paper said, is asked to take the lead in summoning an empire conference on the subject.

Mr. Darling is known as an authority in currency and has devoted much study to silver and its bearing on the present economic depression.

Children to Talk Round-the-World

Good-Will Day Messages Arranged for May 18; Borah on Program.

Round-the-world telephone conversations on world good-will day, May 18, will be participated in by six Washington school children chosen yesterday.

The telephone conversations have been arranged by Mrs. Florence Bockel, of the National Council for the Prevention of War and the World Federation of Education Associations. The ceermony will be held in the office of the Senate foreign relations committee, and Senator Borah, of Idaho, chairman of the committee, will take part.

Good-will day conversations will be exchanged with London, Ottawa, Canada, and Mexico and South American points. A unique message, originating in California, will be transmitted to Washington from Hartford, Conn., after traveling in a gigantic zigzig from State capital to State capital. The six school children are: Dorothy Burch, student at Notre Dame Academy; Dorcas Cole, Eastern High School; Robert Hild, Business High School; Coleman Holmes, Cordoza High School; Elinore Powers, MacFarland Junior High School; Ethel Robinson, Randall Junior High School.

Virginia Educator Seeks Ancient City

Fraser Will Explore Isle Off Greece in Search for Ithaca.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., May 12.—Dr. A. D. Fraser, associate professor of archeology in the University of Virginia, expects to sail for Greece from New York June 5 in company with Dr. E. L. Highbarger, of Northwestern University. They are due to arrive at Patras on June 17, and will spend the greater part of the summer in study and investigation in the vicinity of Athens and Megara.

Dr. Fraser expects to make observations of the methods of the modern peasant potters in Greece with a view to obtaining light on some of the problems connected with the manufacturers of ancient Greek pottery—a subject on which he has made contributions to archeological journals.

Dr. Fraser also will carry out a series of explorations in the Ionian Islands, on the west of Greece, in the hope of discovering the site of the city of Ulysses, the Ithaca of Homer's Odyssey.

Court Will Test Auto Tax Validity

Two Men in Harrisonburg Declare They Pay Five Car Assessments.

Special to The Washington Post.

Harrisonburg, Va., May 12.—Court action to test the validity of the Harrisonburg city ordinance, laying a city license tax upon automobiles owned by residents of the city, was taken today when James Lineweaver, owner and operator of a private car, and Weldon Berry, owner of a truck, appealed to a $10 fine for not having city tags on their vehicles.

The case will be carried to the Rockingham Circuit Court for the test. It may be carried to the Virginia State Supreme Court of Appeals if the opinion of the Rockingham Circuit Court upholds the ordinance.

The petitioners declare they pay five taxes on automobiles—the gas tax, the State license tax, city property tax, city license tax and State registration tax.

RAILS LEAD STOCKS IN MARKET SLUMP

Utilities and Industrials Stand Idle; Steel Closes One Point Lower.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Utility and industrial stocks stood idly by during most of today's market session and watched the rails go down. The carriers winced at New York Central's first quarter deficit and many of its members sought out the lowest levels in years, showing net declines of one to half a dozen points.

Final changes elsewhere favored the down side, but the volume of trading was so small that the losses reflected little more than the day's operations of floor traders who follow the well-beaten track of least resistance. The turnover shrank to 1,300,000 shares the smallest since February 3.

New York Central's $144,913 excursion into the red brought a quick break in the stock, which eventually sold off more than 4 ponits to the lowest since 1923. Its net loss was 4½. Missouri Pacific preferred lost 6½, Union Pacific 5 and Atchison 4, while Rock Island, Baltimore & Ohio, New Haven, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, and Southern Railway yielded one to more than two. Chicago & North Western rallied a point on the maintenance of the dividend rate.

Industrials Harden.

Industrials hardened around midafternoon when small early declines were fairly well regained, but inability of the rails to join the recovery encouraged a renewal of selling toward the close and there were net losses of about a point in U. S. Steel, Radio, American Can, General Motors, Chrysler, Bethlehem, and Texas Corporation. Auburn Auto slumped 9½ and Eastman Kodak nearly 3. J. I. Case profited by short covering based on reports that the dividend would not be cut and moved up 2¾ net. Johns-Manville was steady. General Electric met no recurrence of Monday's selling and held firm.

The 1 per cent call money renewal rate resulted in such substantial withdrawals that the former 1½ per cent level was restored shortly after midday. It was reported that nearly $100,000,000 in demand loans had been recalled by interior banks and corporations, which found little attraction in the lower rate after the ½ per cent service charge had been deducted. Time money again eased. Maintenance of the old deposits rates by clearing house members, in the face of the Federal Reserve Bank's reduction last week, caused considerable comment, but the generally expressed opinion was that the commercial banks would eventually cut.

The popularity of well-rated municipal securities was demonstrated in the sale of New York City's short-term stock, which went at a basis of just under 3 per cent, the most favorable basis the metropolis had obtained in about 30 years. The issue was quickly oversubscribed among investment houses.

Coppers Are Steady.

An increase in copper stocks during April had been anticipated, although production was off; hence it appears that the demand has been light. Reduction in crude oil output found the petroleum shares with the exception of Texas, firm. Coppers were steady despite the unfavorable interpretation placed on that industry's statistical position. "American Metal Markets," first of the steel reviews to report, said operations had dropped a point to 45 per cent, but that "with everything being shaken out so thoroughly the chances are particularly strong for an autumn revival."

Freight loadings in the week ended May 2 swung back into their seasonal advance, the gain being 16,019 cars over the previous week.

Wheat and corn advanced, although moderately. The former closed unchanged to ¾ higher on bullish Canadian weather and firmness at Winnipeg. Corn futures rose ⅜ to ⅞, reflecting small receipts and delayed farm activity in Illinois. Cotton worked quietly lower, losing 6 to 7 points net.

The Spanish peseta dipped under 10 cents on reports of further disturbances in that country. Sterling was a little easy, ruling around the rates which prevailed before the latest steps toward easier money here. The French franc was firm.

BOND SALES DIVIDED IN LOSSES AND GAINS

Rails and Foreign Issues Reflect Pressure; Again Gilt-Edge Loans Rise.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—The bond market went through a series of movements today, the ultimate effects of which were sharp declines in certain issues and a sizable increase in activity. Sales on the stock exchange aggregated $10,615,000 compared with $8,740,000 on Monday. Active early trading preceded a period of dullness about midday but selling pressure increased during the last two hours which caused many of the losses.

Railroad and foreign obligations reflected the late pressure clearly. Alleghany Corporation 6s of 1944, St. Paul 5s of 1975, Chicago & Northwestern series A 4s, Erie refunding and improvement 5s, of 1975, Illinois Central and Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans series C, 4½s, and series C 5s, M and the series A 5½s and series F, G, H and I 5s, of the Missouri Pacific made net losses of 1 point or more.

In view of the action of these bonds strength among issues of first class credit rating was significant. The following issues sold either at new 1931 high levels or equaled them. Union Pacific first 4s and 4½s of 1967, Pennsylvania gold 4½s of 1963, Norfolk & Western 4s of 1944, New England Telephone 5s of 1952 and the 4½s of 1961, Louisville & Nashville collateral 5s of 1931, Atchison general 4s and Brooklyn Union Gas 5s of 1945.

Further evidence of the demand for gilt-edge issues appeared in the sale of the $52,000,000 of four-year 3 per cent corporate stock of the City of New York. These securities were oversubscribed about 10 minutes after the subscription books were opened. They were offered by a syndicate headed by the National City Co., which bought them at public sale today at 100.0119, at 100.50.

Argentine bonds made the largest losses of the foreign group and established a number of new lows for this year. Net losses in this group ranged from 2 to 5 points. The rest of the foreign issues closed irregulary lower.

United States Government loans provided a bright spot, being consistently strong although trading in most of them was limited.

Industrial issues weakened also but the pressure on them was not so heavy as on most of the rails. Public utility obligations held fairly steady.

EYNON'S 77 CARD LEADS CHEVY CHASE QUALIFIERS

Scores in Tourney High In Rain With Only Three Under 80 on First Day

Lynch, of Argyle, and Nolan, Congressional, Near Lead.

Stars in Field to Tee Off Today as Qualifying Ends.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

ALTHOUGH nearly 175 golfers were scheduled to tee off in the first day of the qualification round of the Chevy Chase annual spring invitation tournament yesterday, only 54 cards were in the rack at the close of the day's play. All the other players represented a large company of disgusted and discouraged contestants, who struggled in vain through an all-day drenching rain. The whole story of the day is comprised in the simple statement that only three players were able to break 80.

Everett Eynon, champion of the Columbia Club, led the field with a card of 38—39—77, which was nothing to write home about but which was really a remarkable score under the handicap of the new ball and a soggy course.

J. J. Lynch, Argyle, came next with 41—37—78, while M. Parker Nolan, Congressional, came in under the 80 mark with 42—37—79.

Many Favorites Tee Off Today.

It will be different today with better weather conditions, and Max Marston, former national champion; B. Warren Corkran, Baltimore Country Club; Harry G. Pitt, Manor, who has won the tournament during the past three consecutive years; Miller B. Stevinson, Columbia, runner-up during the same period; C. Ashmead Fuller, Chevy Chase Club champion; Earl Naiden, former army champion; J. Monro Hunter, jr., Indian Spring, medalist in the recent Woodmont event; and Fred J. Beger, Shackamaxon, captain of the Georgetown University golf team, as a few of the high lights in a strong field.

Some idea of the adverse conditions which confronted the golfers yesterday can be gained by the fact that only three in the record-breaking field, Charles R. Morrow, Indian Spring; R. M. Gray Toronto, and Louis Fisher, Georgetown University, were able to play the long eighth hole in a par 5, while only five par 3s were recorded on the ninth hole and not one ball was driven from the ninth tee to the green.

11 on 8th Disastrous To Reeside.

On the other hand, high scores on several holes proved disastrous to the hopes of the would-be qualifiers, notably an 11 on the eighth hole by A. R. Reeside.

Five sixteens, 80 players, will qualify. At the close of yesterday's round there were eight players with 81 and under, and 44 were 94 and under. Last year there was a tie at 73 for the medal between Fred Hobiltzell, Toronto, and W. Bion Moore, Beaver Dam, the former winning in the play-off with 77 as against Moore's 80.

European Ring Body Votes for Schmeling

Brussels, May 12 (A.P.).—The European International Boxing Union, meeting here, today recognized Max Schmeling, of Germany, as the world's heavyweight champion and voted to recognize the projected bout between him and Young Stribling, the American heavyweight, as for the championship.

They rejected the projected match between Jack Sharkey and Primo Carnera as for any championship.

The union listed its other champions as: Light heavyweight, Maxie Rosenbloom; middleweight, vacant; welterweight, Jack Thomson; lightweight, Tony Canzoneri; featherweight, Bat Battalino; bantamweight, Al Brown; flyweight, Frankie Genaro. All are Americans.

Labor Warns Promoters Of Cleveland Hotel Strike

(Associated Press.)

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said yesterday promoters of the forthcoming Stribling-Schmeling first at Cleveland would be advised that a strike or lockout is in effect at a number of the city's leading hotels "so they may consider the advisability of transferring the fight to some other city."

Green said in a statement the Federation's executive council had determined upon that course, in order that the fight managers might consider changing the fight to a city "where the hotel managers pursue a fair and reasonable attitude toward their employes."

In the past year, he added, the hotel managers had refused to negotiate a settlement or submit disputed questions "to an impartial board of arbitration for decision."

Bobby Jones to Head Georgia Tech Alumni

Atlanta, Ga., May 12 (A.P.).—Robert T. Jones, jr., holder of all four of the world's major golf crowns, has been given another title.

His election as president of the National Georgia Tech Alumni Association was announced today. He had been vice president.

Bobby was graduated from Georgia Tech in 1922 with the degree of mechanical engineer. He also is a member of the alumni executive board and of the athletic association executive board.

Hafey, in Condition, To Join Cardinals

St. Louis, Mo., May 12 (A.P.).—Chick Hafey, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, was ordered to leave Danville, Ill., today for Boston to join the Cardinals, Vice President Branch Rickey announced. Hafey was sent to Danville, a Cardinal farm, by President Sam Breadon when he reported here and signed his contract after a holdout which lasted until the season was under way. Rickey said club officials were convinced Hafey was in condition for regular work.

Farrell and Sarazen To Embark Tonight

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen, both former holders of the United States open golf championship, sail tomorrow night for England on the Berengaria in quest of the British open title, to be contested over the carnoustie links in Scotland starting June 1.

Sarazen will be accompanied by his wife, while Farrell's mother is making the trip with Johnny to visit her birthplace at Mountrath, near Dublin. It will be her first trip across in 33 years.

Both Sarazen and Farrell have been close to winning the British crown. Sarazen was second to Walter Hagen in 1928 and Farrell was runner-up to the Haig in 1929.

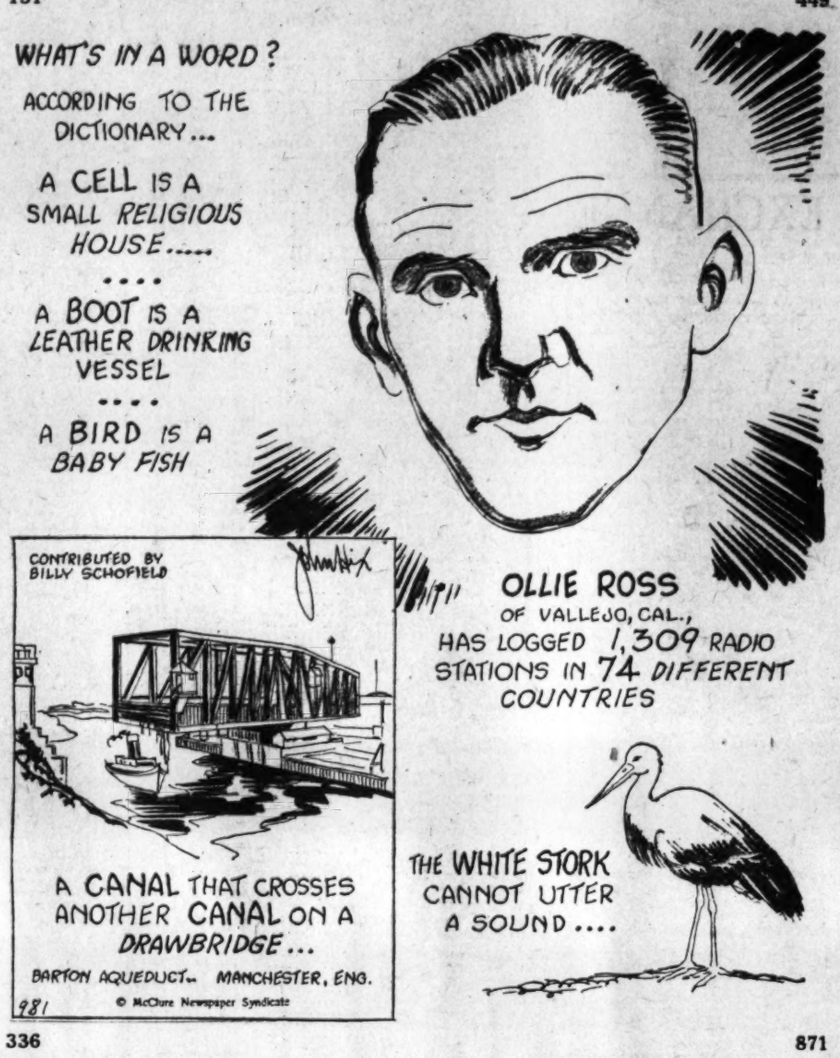
STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix



OLLIE ROSS, master of the radio dials, has brought in 87 more stations than there are listed. Log boks list 1,213 radio stations throughout the world; Ross logged 1,309, without including short-wave broadcasters. Explaining the 87 seemingly surplus stations, the Vallejo dialer says there are a good many stations not listed in the American log books. Every station received is verified by Ross.

He has tuned in radio stations on five continents in 74 different countries in a little more than four years of experimenting. All programs were received on an ordinary factory-built set with a loud speaker.

The faraway countries he has tuned in include Albania, Argentina, Austria, China, Czechoslovakia, Egypt, Finland, Great Britain, Hawaii, Iceland, India, Japan, Latvia, Norway, Siam, South Africa and Tasmania—and remember, Ross is in California. One of his latest is Station HIX in Santo Domingo.

The black and the white stork can not utter a sound, for they have no syringeal muscles. Some species of storks are able to make deep-throated sounds which are not caused by vibrations in the syrinx, but the true stork is dumb.

The double-decked canal at Manchester, England, is probably the only one of its kind in existence. Normally a canal flows over the draw which bridges the larger canal. Locks hold the water in the draw when it is turned in order to permit passage of large vessels in the canal beneath. Here it is possible for two small vessels to cross, one beneath the other, at the same time.

4 U. S. PROS QUALIFY IN ENGLAND

Turnesa, 142, Best of Americans at Southport.

By FRANK H. KING.

SOUTHPORT, England, May 12 (A.P.).—Four Americans, led by Joe Turnesa with a sparkling 142, today qualified for the $7,500 professional Southport tournament and will play 72 holes of medal play during the next three days with the other 96 qualifiers.

Turnesa, with a 69 today, again held the lead most of the day only to see the English star, Len Holland, with a 141, nose him out late in the afternoon for qualifying honors.

Horton Smith, Turnesa and Holland all shot 69s today and the qualifying barrier of 156 did not worry them.

Duncan Qualifies; Jolly Fails.

George Duncan, former Ryder Cup captain, who is fighting for one of the three remaining places on this year's team, barely got under the wire with his 156. H. C. Jolly, already named to the Ryder Team and win-

RED SOX BOW TO SORRELL, OF TIGERS

Blanked, 2-0, in Series Opener; Hayworth's Double Decisive.

DETROIT, Mich., May 12 (A.P.).—Sorrell showed the best brand of pitching he has demonstrated this year, and the Detroit Tigers defeated Boston 2 to 0, in the series opener today.

The Tigers got their runs in the fourth on singles by Stone and Owen and a double by Hayworth.

Sorrell pitched himself out of several bad holes, including one in the sixth when Boston filled the bases with none out on two walks and an error. He struck out the next man and forced two to fly out. Although Boston outhit Detroit 9 to 6, the big right-hander kept the Boston blows well scattered.

Old Line Cub Trackmen Meet Gallaudet Today

A track meet between Gallaudet College and the freshmen class of Maryland University provides the only attraction for local college sports followers this afternoon. This event, marking the close of the Gallaudet cinder-path season, starts at 3:30 o'clock on Hotchkiss Field, Seventh street and Florida avenue northeast.

On foreign fields, Maryland University engages its old rival, Virginia, in a baseball game at Charlottesville, while the Catholic University track squad bpposes St. Joseph's in Philadelphia.

Maryland easily conquered Virginia, 10 to 1, last month at College Park and has high hope of securing another win today to strengthen its hold on second place in the Tri-State League standings. The Catholic U. trackmen are out to register their fourth successive dual meet victory at Philadelphia.

Illinois Refuses to Stamp Londos or Lewis Champion

CHICAGO, May 12 (A.P.).—No wrestler will be allowed to come into Illinois and advertise himself as world champion until it is definitely decided just who is the world titleholder.

This was the ruling of the Illinois State Athletic Commission today after three hours of wrangling in an attempt to close a match between Ed "Strangler" Lewis and Jim Londos. The commission also ruled it would determine in the future whether to designate wrestling matches as "contests" or "exhibitions."

Lewis, with his manager, Billy Sandow, attended the hearing to press their challenge for a title contest with Londos. Neither Londos nor his manager were present, but were represented by Attorneys Albert Cook and Arthur Albert. The attorneys flatly refused Sandow's challenge on behalf of Lewis, contending Lewis must first defeat Hans Steinke, Ray Steele or Richard Shikat, before Londos would consent to wrestle him.

Sandow's check for $5,000, posted April 27 as a forfeit to bind a match with Londos, was ordered returned. Sandow declared Lewis had wrestled and defeated Londos fourteen times, and that the Greek mat warrior displayed cowardice in refusing the meeting.

Gen. John V. Clinnin, chairman of the Illinois commission, and president of the National Boxing Association, declared the N. B. A. did not recognize either Lewis or Londos as champion.

A's Take Lead By Downing White Sox

Grove Yields But 4 Hits in Third Victory, 5 to 2.

Simmons' Home Run Helps Macks to Top League.

CHICAGO, May 12 (A.P.).—The Philadelphia Athletics, by beating the Chicago White Sox 5 to 2 here this afternoon, took first place in the American League race, passing the idle New York Yankees. It was the first time this year the champions have held the lead.

Bob Grove held the White Sox to four hits and won his third victory of the season. The A's cinched the game in the third by counting twice off Pat Caraway.

Al Simmons in the final inning hit his fifth home run of the year into the left field stands.

Reds End Defeats By Split at Boston

Boston, May 12 (A.P.).—The Cincinnati Reds broke a losing streak of five games by taking the second game of a double-header from the Braves today, 3 to 2, after dropping the first, 4 to 2.

Ed Brandt, Braves southpaw, won his fifth straight game by holding the Reds to two runs in the opener and thereby surpassed by one game his record of wins for all last season.

Doubles by Harvey Hendrick and Pinch Hitter Cliff fHfleathcote supplied the Reds' winning run in the eighth inning of the second game. The other two runs were scored in the second on Ed Roush's freak double. Wally Berger lost an easy fly as a cloud of smoke from a passing train hid the ball from view.

Berger and Nick Cullop connected for home runs in the first game and Joe Stripp played a brilliant game for the Reds at third base.

Tribe's Slump Boosts Hope Of Nats

Brown Gets Call Today After Rain Delays Series Start.

Crowder Held Over; Indians Have Lost 5 of Last 6 Games.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Post Staff Correspondent).

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 12.—Postponed games always mean double-headers later in the season and, if there is one thing which players detest, it is these bargain-day bills which usually wear them to a frazzle on hot days and make baseball real work instead of play.

It was not this reason, however, which caused the Nationals to moan when today's scheduled opening fracas of a three-game series with the Indians was called off because of rain, but because the Tribe seems to be in the throes of a slump. In the ring game, a boxer is not supposed to hit his opponent while he is down but it is different in baseball. No mercy is shown and none is expected in the national game, it being a case of the survival of the fittest. The Nats have had their troubles this season, but are encouraged by having turned in two straight victories to gain the series edge over the Tigers.

Indians Have Lost 5 of Last 6.

The Indians were forced to idle yesterday, too, while previous to that they had lost five of the last six games, four of them in a row, including three of these to the lowly Boston Red Sox, so that the Nats feel that the Indians are on the run.

Of course, these slumps end as quickly as they come and whether or not that of the Peckmen is over will not be known until they take the field against the Nats tomorrow. Manager Walter Johnson had in mind using "General" Alvin Crowder on the pitching mound today but as Lloyd Brown will be ready to take his turn again tomorrow, the southpaw will get the call. He has been doing the best work for the Nats to date and he will be called upon in regular order.

Crowder failed to get off well and has yet to show even flashes of his best form. However, since Manager Johnson started calling on him for work in the batting drills, he has shown signs of gradual improvement and declares that he is close to winning form. "General" has been complaining of just a little lost zip on his fast ball and a slower than usual break on his curve. He took a long workout in Detroit yesterday and was quite enthusiastic over the progress made within the last week. Once Crowder gets going—and there is hardly a question but that he will soon—it will mean a great deal to the team.

Brown vs. Brown, Indicated Today.

Indications are that it will be a case of Brown vs. Brown tomorrow, for Clint Brown, young right-hander, is expected to draw the Cleveland pitching assignment, with Wesley Ferrell due to toil Thursday. Third place will be at stake in this series. The Tribe now holds the berth by a half-game margin over the Nats, who must take both decisions in the abbreviated set to do any gaining here.

Although Joe Kuhel, first base understudy to Capt. Joe Judge, now lives at Kansas City, Cleveland is his former home and he made his start on the sandlots here. Bill Sweeney, Red Sox first sacker; Frank Doljack, Detroit fly chaser, and Joe Vosmik, Tribe outfielder, also played amateur ball here.

Cy Young, one of the greatest pitchers in the history of the game, paid Manager Walter Johnson a visit in the locker room at the park today while the Nats were waiting for the game to be officially declared off. It was the first time that many of the younger players had ever seen "Old Cy," although they had heard plenty about him.

Pitcher Sad Sam Jones made a clean hit the other day and immediately put in an order for some special bats. They will be delivered when the club reaches Chicago and, after that, bingles may be looked for regularly from the melancholy one.

Ens Lays Pirates' Standing To Fact Rivals Were "Hot"

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer).

NEW YORK, May 12 (A.P.).—It isn't as if the Pittsburgh Pirates haven't been playing good ball, says their manager, Jewel Ens. They have, everything considered. But they have had the misfortune to run into a couple of clubs out West that didn't know their own strength.

It was blustery outside today, and Ens was in a reflective mood. He had time to figure out exactly why his Pirates have been unable to rise above .500 in the first month of the race.

"We just ran into St. Louis and Chicago when they were hot," he explained. "My team hasn't been hitting like it should. Traynor, here, and the Waner boys have been supplying almost all the punch. But that isn't why the Cards and Cubs beat us in ten out of thirteen games. They were going great, that's all."

Cards Fine Team, Pirates Agree.

The champion Cardinals, both Ens and his team captain, "Pie" Traynor, agreed, are going to be exceedingly tough to beat.

"They're a balanced ball club," said Traynor. "There isn't an outstanding star. They're all good. Why, this Sparky Adams is playing the game of his life at third base. He's hitting the ball harder than he ever did the lively one."

Today's postponement was particu-

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

ALL work and no plagiarism makes a dull column.

So I turn to the official figures for several items of interest germane to the pennant races and uproot a grist of frothy facts.

Chief among the notable developments of the season that strike me full in the countenance as I scan the standing of the teams is the lowly berth of Uncle Robbie's Brooklyns, ensconced in seventh place and escaping the musty depths of the cellar only by grace of the equally remarkable fact that the Cincinnati Redlegs have managed to win only three of their first 20 starts of the season.

Off their performance of last year when they led the league right up until the final two weeks of the season in a cataclysmic upheaval of the preseason dope, the lowly station of the Robins is a distinct shock to all Flatbush and the pop bottle season in Brooklyn may be expected to break out in a rash of hits any day now as Robin fans become surfeited with defeat.

The Boston Braves

Still clinging to the standing of the teams, looking up from the bottom and down from the top, I ascertain that in third place in the National League we have none other than William McKechnie's Boston Braves, cellar champions of a sort in their own right, but no door mat this season.

Inasmuch as Mr. McKechnie last spring allowed as how he didn't expect his boys to cut much of a figure in the pennant proceedings, the Braves appear to be showing gross disrespect not only for the other clubs in the league, but for the opinion of Manager McKechnie himself.

To blame in a great measure for the lofty perch of the Braves are a trio of the league's pitching Methuselahs, by name, Tom Zachary, Wee Willie Sherdel and "Socks" Seibold, whose aggregate age tops the century with a couple of years to spare.

Browns in Ruck

I can discern also that in the American League Bill Killefer is having his troubles steering the Browns out of the ruck. Out in St. Louis the sparse attendance is in keeping with the motif of the club's success this year, which is represented by six games won and twelve lost for a grand average of .333 that will solidify the position of any cellar contender if maintained for a few months.

The Browns are running a poor second in the battle for patronage with the Cardinals and when the St. Louis fans stay away from ball games they stay away in such great droves that visiting clubs are lucky to draw down enough to tip the guest batboy.

However, Mr. Philip De Catesby Ball, sole owner of the Browns, ranks next to Mr. William Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs in point of wealth among the big league baseball magnates and the sparsity of attendance at his club's ball games does not annoy him to the same extent that other owners would be affected. Unlike Mr. Wrigley, there is no telling how long the flavor will last.

Babe Ruth Leads

Hopping from the club standings to the batting figures, the short and familiar name of Ruth, like Abu Ben Ahdem, leads all the rest. The Nabob of Nudge has returned to the Yankees' line-up with great eclat and is smiting the dead ball with such frequency that his average is represented by .426, topping Al Simmons and Dale Alexander by a slim margin.

Ruth is trailing Hornsby, of the Cubs, Klein and Arlett, of the Phillies and Stone of the Tigers, in the home-run race with his four Homeric wallops, but he has missed seven of the Yankees' twenty games and the lead of his rivals can be wiped out in a single contest.

There is consolation for Ruth in the figures of Hack Wilson, mighty man of the Cubs, and the lad who lifted Ruth's crown from atop the Babe's generous brow last season. Wilson is struggling to keep his batting average above .300, and was hitting .302 in the latest figures, with only two home runs to embellish his record.

And Oswald Bluege

Speaking of homers, it is high time I mentioned a newcomer to the home-run race, our own Oswald Bluege, something of a nonenity in the Nats' early-season batting attack, who has come along with a rush in the past week and shows for his efforts four wallops of the specie.

Bluege, a right-handed hitter who finds it difficult to connect to the outer reaches of the left fields in the American League Parks, is sw

ROWE SEEKS M'ATEE AS JOCKEY FOR TWENTY GRAND

Kurtsinger's Last Ride Disliked

Shift in Jockeys for Derby Probable by Greentree Stable.

Twenty Grand, Ladder to Be Scratched if Track Is Muddy.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.
Special to The Washington Post.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 12.—The success of the fifty-seventh renewal of the Derby on Saturday hinges on a fast track, for if the going is muddy the Greentree Stable's Twenty Grand and Walter J. Salmon's Ladder will both be kept in their stalls.

In the advent of muddy going, Albert C. Bostwick's Mate, winner of the Preakness last week, will rule an overwhelming choice, as Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney's Equipoise failed to ship well from Baltimore, and is far from being the horse that was installed favorite in the "future books" a month ago.

Even should a fast track prevail, there may be a change in Twenty Grand's rider. It is understood that Trainer James Rowe is far from satisfied with the ride Charlie Kurtsinger put up on the son of St. Germans and Bonus in the Preakness and is making every effort to have Linus McAtee come on from New York to pilot Twenty Grand or Surf Board.

McAtee Uncertain Of Saturday Plans.

McAtee sent word today that he would have to wait another 24 hours before deciding whether he will come here or remain in New York.

Those in the know say that if Tom Healy, head trainer for C. V. Whitney, runs Boojum on Saturday in New York, Jack Joyner won't start Jamestown, thus giving McAtee a chance to come here to ride one of the Greentree's Derby eligibles.

Should Boojum's trainer decide to keep his charge in the barn, then Joyner will start Jamestown, which would mean that McAtee will stay in New York and forego his proposed trip here.

Trainer Rowe said today that if McAtee fails to arrive to ride one of his Derby hopes and the going is heavy, he will put Kurtsinger on Surf Board, with Louis Schaefer astride Anchors Aweigh, providing Walter J. Salmon's Ladder is scratched and Schaefer is open for a mount.

Jim Healy Loses Weight.

J. W. (Big) Jim Healy, who is handling Mate, has lost considerable weight since coming down from Baltimore. He states that he has been unable to sleep since Mate won the Preakness and from now on he will pass up stake horses in favor of selling platers.

Armed guards have been thrown about the stalls housing Mate, Equipoise, Twenty Grand, Ladder, Anchors Aweigh, Surf Board and St. Brieaux who are slated to defend the East's colors in Saturday's classic.

The Western candidates are not given any extra protection, for their owners are of the opinion that they can't whip their Eastern rivals. What's more there is nothing to be gained by tampering with a Western hope, therefore horsemen residing in this section of the country are resting easy while their Eastern brothers are losing valuable sleep.

Morstone Is Scratched Out of Derby by Block

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Clarence Buxton, trainer for Benjamin Block, today announced he would not start Morstone, son of Morvich, the 1922 winner, in the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

"Morstone came out of his race yesterday in good shape, but as he is a green horse, having run only three races, it was decided not to send him to the Derby. He will be pointed for the Withers mile at Belmont."

Morstone was beaten yesterday in the Ackroyd Handicap by Beau Jolie, a 9-to-2 shot, over a distance of a mile and 70 yards. He carried 124 pounds, 14 more than the horse that beat him, but 2 less than he would have to carry in the Derby at a mile and a quarter. He was unknown until a few days ago when he won a 6-furlong race in sensational time and sent his Derby odds down to as low as 8 to 1.

J. H. Whitney Pays $19,000 For Oh Susanna at Auction

83 Head of Camden Stable Bring $221,250 at Lexington Sale; Light Brigade, Satin and Hydromel Are Sold.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 12 (A.P.).—John Hay Whitney, son of Mrs. Payne Whitney, owner of the Greentree Stable, paid $19,000, top price, in the disposal sale of former United States Senator Johnson N. Camden's horse-breeding stock at Spring Hill Farm today, for Oh Susanna. A total of 83 head sold for $221,250, an average of $2,665.

Oh Susanna is a 9-year-old chestnut mare by the imported Light Brigade out of Satin and had won both the Latonia and Illinois Handicaps. She had earned $41,967 on the track before retirement. She was sold today with a black colt foal by Pocunal.

Bidding for Oh Susanna was the liveliest of the sale, which it was estimated 1,500 persons attended despite a heavy rain. Young Whitney staged a lively battle with several other bidders, including Mrs. T. H. Somerville, of Montpelier Station, Va., for the mare.

The second highest price of the day was $12,000 paid by William Dupont, brother of Mrs. Somerville, and owner of the Fox Catcher Farms. He paid it for Frigate Bird, a 3-year-old by Light Brigade—Pemfleta.

Both Light Brigade and Satin were sold today, the noted stallion going to S. V. Labrot, of Annapolis, Md., for $7,500. Mrs. Somerville got Hydromel, by Light Brigade out of Honey Dew, and winner of $57,220 in sixteen races, for $7,500.

Boots and Saddle's
(Reg. U. S. Patent Office)
—Churchill Downs Selections—
By J. B. SNODGRASS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 12.—With a drying-out track as the prospect for the day's sport at Churchill Downs, the claiming events received large lists, except the Shad Row Purse, an overnight affair, which features the card. This test, over the mile course, will bring together a select field of five 3-year-olds and upward to contest the major portion of the $1,500 purse.

The fourth event, a 6½-furlong dash, which attracted eight sprinters, will serve as the supporting feature. JIMMY MORAN, nicely weighted with 110 pounds, has trained briskly and appears ready for a winning effort in the headliner. The distance is in his favor, and with the slow footing should show the way to this band of sprinters. PLAY TIME, from the Southland Stable, finished second to Lady Broadcast after setting the early pace in his previous effort and figures to menace the top selection. NOSTAW, coupled with KADIAK as the Watson entry, are given the show call over PATRICIA MARIAN, the only other starter.

In the secondary event, CROFTON, a consistent sprinter, has turned in several fast trials and figures to hold this field safe. JUSTINIAN, from the Greentree string and winner of his last start at 6 furlongs, is the one to fear. MAD CAREER, the W. J. Salmon entry, is gifted with a high turn of speed and at the distance may prove troublesome.

FIRST RACE—A limit of 20 entries was received in the opening 5-furlong dash, fashioned for maiden 2-year-olds. TRIPLE THREAT has shown the most consistent form of this poor lot and must be accorded the place of honor. POLY P, a highly regarded juvenile, is reported a fast one and may prove troublesome. OLD JEFFERSON is the show selection.

SECOND RACE—A smart field of six speedy sprinters will be dispatched over the 7 furlongs of the second number. STOCK MARKET, owned by J. W. Parrish, and a winner at this track, finished second to Barrido in his recent outing and is selected to lead this field home. JEAN LAFITTE, a fairly consistent sprinter from the F. A. Carreaud interests, may falter in the going. DARK ENTRY has displayed speed in previous starts and should outgame SKIRL for the show money.

THIRD RACE—Another list of twenty was received in the 5 furlongs of the third heat, which brings together juvenile fillies under claiming conditions. STAGE MAID and PRINCESS VOLTA have shown exceptional trials and should finish in that order. FLASH O' WHITE is fancied by her connections and may develop a promising youngster. IMA HIGH ONE and OUR CHERRY COTE may break into the money.

SIXTH RACE—The sixth event fashioned for 3-year-olds exclusively, attracted a field of twenty to contest the purse over the mile and a sixteenth route. KING'S X appears best of those named to start and should experience little difficulty against this company. DIRECTLY has been freshened up by a brief rest and may be second. EAGLE BIRD, with 105 pounds, may upset the calculations. BANAL GIRL would appreciate a muddy track.

SEVENTH RACE—In the concluding mile and a sixteenth event, in which eleven of the older horses will parade to the post, GOLD RUSH is favored by the conditions, and with 110 pounds should lead from start to finish. WHISKERY, from the Morven stud, flashed speed in his last start to finish second, and should go as well here. DIXIE LAD holds the edge over WORKLESS for the show award.

MILLER COLT WINS DERBY TRIAL

Pittsburgher Defeats Spanish Play, Sweep All at Downs.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 12 (A.P.).—The Western candidates for the Derby had a trial race at a mile and one-sixteenth at Churchill Downs today and Pittsburgher again established himself as the West's Derby hope to defeat the East. The Eastern contingent, including the favorites, Twenty Grand, Mate and Equipoise, having arrived only yesterday, did not enter.

Pittsburgher not only defeated such likely Derby candidates as Spanish Play, which was second, and Sweep All, third, but showed he can run on a soft track.

Sweep All was the favorite, due to his good showing in recent workouts, and because Theodore Miller's big son of In Memoriam was not supposed to like a soft footing. When it was over a blanket could have covered the trio, but despite the narrow margin it gave Pittsburgher three victories out of five starts as a 3-year-old.

Time Is Fast on Slow Track.

The time for the mile and a sixteenth was 1:47 3-5, regarded as unusually good because of the slow track. There are six in the race, all Derby nominees. Prince d'Amour set the pace at first but retired on being collared by Sweep All after half a mile. Spanish Play raced close up along the back stretch and assumed a slight lead when it looked as though Sweep All was through. The giant Ptitsburgher's strides quickened and he took the lead but both Sweep All and Spanish Play were not through and were rapidly closing up at the wire.

Pittsburgher paid for $2 pari-mutuel ticket $15.62, $6.96 and $2.68, win, place and show. Spanish Play paid $5.56 and $2.63 and Sweep All paid $2.24.

Twenty Grand Breezes Half in 0:50 3-5.

The Greentree Stable's Twenty Grand was breezed over a half mile in 0:50 3-5 today, his first workout since arriving from Maryland. Anchors Aweigh went along with Twenty Grand. Surf Board was breezed the half in 50 seconds flat. Either Surf Board or Anchors Aweigh along with Twenty Grand is expected to be the Greentree entry Saturday.

Equipoise and Ladder, two other hopes of the East, were galloped today in preparation for a serious workout tomorrow or Thursday. Morstone defeated yesterday at Jamaica, has been declared out and will be pointed for the Withers.

Stories of Making Good —By C. M. Payne

Jamaica Feature Won By Renaissance, 8 to 1

Jamaica Race Track, N. Y., May 12 (A.P.).—Renaissance, a colt which proved a big disappointment a few days ago when heavily backed, was in a running mood today at odds of 8 to 1 and carried John J. Robinson's silks to a clever triumph in the Greenfield Claiming Stakes of 5 furlongs. The Brandon Stable's Brandon Mint was second, a half length off the winner and a like distance before G. D. Widener's Impeach.

Eight 2-year-olds competed over a good track with Zekeil, the 6-to-5 choice. The Rancocas youngster was away sluggishly and finished well beaten, although closing ground in the final furlong. Renaissance made the splendid time of 0:59 4-5, under Pascuma's capable ride.

300 SCHOOLBOYS TO ENTER "C" CLUB GAMES

Eastern High Formidable In Meet

17 Teams to Compete for Prized Trophy Here Saturday.

Woodberry Forest to Defend Laurels at Stadium.

By BOB CONSIDINE.

SEVENTEEN scholastic track teams, embracing a young army of performers, are today putting on the last finishing touches preparatory to participation Saturday afternoon in the thirteenth annual "C" Club meet, to start at 1 o'clock at Central Stadium.

More than 300 athletes will be seen in action in assaults on the long-standing "C" Club meet records. Eastern High, with a team of 40, is the largest single unit entered, with Tech a bit behind with 35.

The champion and runner-up of the 1930 meet will again be on hand, the entries of Woodberry Forest, of Orange, Va., and John Marshall, of Richmond, Va., having been received. Woodberry Forest will again bring a well-rounded team and promises once more to cop all laurels in the sprints. John Marshall, too, must be reckoned with again.

Eastern Strong
Contender.

With three meet championships already under their belts this year Eastern High stands as a strong contender this year. The team, while not ideally rounded out, has better than average exponents of the sport in Slye, Everett, Hutchinson and Sprinkel. Slye and Everett have been consistent point winners against almost every sort of competition. Hutchinson is again rounding into form after an attack of la grippe which followed his feats in the dual meet with Episcopal last month.

The capture of laurels in the C Club meet would be a sweet victory for Eastern, which, since the inception of the races, has been forced into the place and show positions. The nearest the school came to winning the meet title was in 1925,when the team was coached by Jack Collins. It finished then with second-place prize.

Big Staunton Team
Likely to Enter.

While nothing definite had been heard by the officials in charge late last night, the entrance of Staunton Military Academy wa sstrongly expected. The big prep school team, if it enters, will loom a strong favorite by reason of generally older and more experienced boys.

Central High, of Charlotte, N. C., absent from the ranks for four years, will again be seen in action Saturday. Swavely, too, is sending up a team, while Georgetown Prep, which was prominent in the recent Maryland and Catholic University interscholastics, will again be on hand.

The complete list of schools entered follows: Woodberry Forwest, John Marshall, Massanutten Military Academy, St. James, of Hagerstown; Gilman Country School, of Baltimore; Severn, Swavely, Forest Park, Central (N. C.), Georgetown Prep, Episcopal, Hyattsville, Langley Junior High, Eastern, Central, Tech and Western.

Richards Forces Tilden To Five Sets at Boston

Boston, May 12 (A.P.).—Bill Tilden's aggressive play gave him his second victory over Vincent Richards in their professional tilts series tonight before 9,000 spectators at the Boston Garden. Richards forced his former Davis Cup partner to the five-set limit before Tilden gained the match by scores of 6—3, 3—6, 6—1, 1—6, 6—3.

William-Mary Nine Bows to Harvard, 7—0

Cambridge, Mass., May 12 (A.P.).—Capt. Eddie McGrath's batting gave Harvard a 7 to 10 victory over William and Mary today.

After "Lefty" White passed three crimson batters in the first inning, McGrath cleared the bases with a long double. He rapped out a home run in the second, scoring McCaffrey, and his single in the sixth enabled "Red" McChale to cross the plate.

ner of the Roehampotn tournament a few days ago, was eliminated.

The eight players from across the Atlantic, with the exception of Marco Churio, who led the Argentine contingent with 150, played today's last qualifying round over the crisscross fairways of the Hesketh Club, where many greens are hidden away in the folds of the sand dunes and a treacherous wind necessitated the greatest care of every shot.

Kirkwood showed what could happon with a little careless play when he took nine at the tenth hole, putting three balls out of bounds on his way to the green, where he took three putts to get down.

In contrast to this display, Turnesa and Jose Jurado, captain of the Argentine squad, took birdie threes at this hole.

MAPP HOLDS V. P. I. FOES TO 1 HIT

Hurler's Own Single in 9th Beats Emory and Henry, 1-0.

Special to The Washington Post.

BLACKSBURG, Va., May 12.—Reggie Mapp, V. P. I.'s mound ace, reached out for fame here today with a great 1 to 0 victory oter Emory and Henry. The Gobbler star let the Wasps down with one hit, a double by Marshall in the fourth inning.

Mapp fanned six, fielded his position in sensational style, led the Gobblers' attack with two safeties in three times up and won his own game with an infield hit in the ninth. Only 28 men faced him and only 2 balls went beyond the infield.

Francis, big righthander of the visitors, also hurled a great game, repeatedly pitching his way out of tough situations. V. P. I. had men on base in five of the nine frames, and only by fleet base running by Hardwick managed to eke out the lone and deciding tally with two down in the ninth. Pinch hitter Fliess hit with one down. Hardwick, speed merchant of Poly's backfield, ran for him and stole second.

Mapp laid a slow roller toward first base and Hardwick, off with a big lead, slid across the plate a split second before Francis pegged the ball to Widener, Wasp catcher. Mapp now has pitched 27 consecutive innings without permitting an earned run from his delivery.

ENS SAYS PIRATES ARE IMPROVED CLUB

larly disappointing to Ens. He had planned to start his big right-hander, Edwin Brame, for the first time this season against Brooklyn. Brame, one of the Pirates' most dependable pitchers last year, has been out with influenza since the campaign began.

"If he's back in form he should help us a lot," Ens declared. "We've been getting fine pitching from Meine and Kremer and French, but I could use another sure-fire starter. When Brame gets going and Gus Suhr is able to play first base again, we'll give them a fit."

Suhr's Injury
Nearly Healed.

Suhr, one of the club's heaviest hitters, has been laid up for ten days with a twisted knee, but is about ready to return. George Grantham, regular second baseman, who has been filling in for Suhr, hasn't been hitting. Neither has Adam Comorosky, regular left fielder. But Ens figures both will snap out of it soon.

The plight of the Brooklyn Robins is as puzzling to the Pirate boss as it is to the Dodgers themselves.

"There's a club that ought to hit the cover off the ball, but my pitchers stopped them cold the last two days. There's no doubt in my mind that they'll get started soon. But when they do they'll be so far back they'll have a hard time ever getting up in the race.

"By the way, is there anything to this report that Hornsby is going to bench Hack Wilson and Hartnett and Stephenson? No. Well, all I can say is we'd like to play the Cubs with those three out of the line-up."

"Boy, wouldn't we," assented Traynor.

BOXING CARD TO PRESENT SCHWARTZ

Alex. Star Performs at Smoker; Celtics Meet Red Sox.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., May 12.—Billy Schwartz, Alexandria's leading fistic contender for light-heavyweight honors, will box at the smoker to be held at Lyceum Hall tomorrow night. Schwartz will spar four rounds with Soldier Burke, of Walter Reed Hospital.

These bouts are open to the Lyceum Club members and their friends and are scheduled to begin promptly at 8 o'clock. Besides the Schwartz-Burke match, several other tussles will be presented.

This is the first of a series of programs to be given at Lyceum Hall. The Rev. Hugh McFadden, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, is aiding in arranging the program.

Washington Red Sox, winners of seven straight games, will invade Alexandria on Sunday for a double-header with Charlie Corbett's St. Mary's Celtics at Ben Baggett's stadium.

Last season the Red Sox gave the Celtics a hard fight, only to lose out, 4-2. They are rated one of the strongest clubs in this sector and play most of their games on foreign fields.

Lefty Jewett, late of the Piedmont League, and Ben Speigel, former Technical High School pitcher, will hurl for the Jenkins clan.

The Red Sox, who have one of the heaviest hitting clubs on the sandlots, will present a strong line-up including two former Celtics, George Ortel, infielder, and "Buck" Freeman, outfielder, who played for a short time last season with the Washington American League Club in the Southern training games and also for a time with Chattanooga in the American Association.

Manager Johnny Travers, of the Virginia Juniors, today announced the following schedule for his team for the 1931 campaign, May 17, Nation-Wide, away; May 23, Brentwood Midgets, here; May 24, Capitol Heights Seniors, here; May 30, two games, Fairlawn Jrs. and Schwartz A. C., here; June 6, Oriole A. C., here; June 13, Cavaliers, here; June 20, Spengler Post, here; July 4, Brentwood, away; July 11, Fairlawn, away; July 18, Oriole A. C., away; July 25, Cavaliers, away; August 1, M. E. Cubs, away.

A meeting of the Virginia Juniors will be held Thursday afternoon at the shipyard field, at 5 o'clock. All players are requested to attend. Manager Travers stated today seven high school players will perform with the Virginia Jrs. after the close of the scholastic campaign. They are Jack Hudson, Dick Clift, Hugh Travers, Malcolm Carr Charlie Stump, L. Baber, Jimmie Bruin and Francis Gorman, who pitched for the Twins two years ago. The Virginia Jrs. seek a good first baseman and catcher. Players interested are asked to get in touch with Manager Travers.

Huter's Station Ball Team split even in a double-header yesterday. The boys won from Fort Hunt, 9-8 and lost to the Grafton A. C., 10-9.

Baseball and Tennis On Navy Card Today

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 12.—Baseball and tennis comprise the mid-week program of athletics at the Naval Academy tomorrow afternoon. On the diamond, the Middies will clash with William and Mary College, while the racqueters will clash with representatives of Washington and Jefferson.

Strong winds that kicked up a choppy sea hampered the Naval Academy varsity crew in its preparations for the triangular race on the Schuylkill Saturday with University of Pennsylvania and Harvard as the other contestants. The Middies are undaunted by the decisive defeat handed them by Syracuse last Saturday, and have high hopes of showing the way t othe Red and Blue, and Crimson sweepsters in the coming clash.

Capital Lacrossemen To Scrimmage Today

The Washington Lacrosse Team, pointing for its first match of the season, to be played against the Hopkins Olympic twelve May 23 at Griffith Stadium, will hold a scrimmage this afternoon at Maryland University. All players are asked to report at the gymnasium before 5 o'clock.

Following the scrimmage the squad will have dinner at College Inn and later will receive a blackboard drill under the direction of Coach Truitt.

Among the new candidates who are expected to appear today are George Madigan, Jim Kelly and Osmand Beck, all former Maryland Lacrosse Team regulars.

GAME TODAY IS VITAL TO EASTERN

Weak Western Nine Foe in Fray Delayed by Rain.

CONSONANT with the letter of the high school athletic rules, which call for the playing of postponed interhigh contests at the earliest possible date, Eastern and Western, stalled by rain yesterday, will tangle this afternoon at Eastern Field at 3:30 o'clock. It is the eighth game of the high school series and Eastern's last appearance in the schoolboy league.

A victory today will give the Lincoln Park School its fourth straight title and its sixteenth consecutive series victory, a record which promises to stand for many years in high school sports annals.

In order to play today Eastern had to request Episcopal High to move back the scheduled Eastern-Episcopal game to a later date. Western had no game scheduled. The day intermission has done little to affect the odds-on favoritism of the Eastern Team. So under-average has been the pitching and fielding of the Western Team this year that today promises to see Eastern improve its batting average in no small degree.

Lanahan to Hurl
Only as Relief.

Coach Guyon, of Eastern, probably will not start Dick Lanahan, his pitching ace. Bill Noonan is expected to start the game, with Lanahan ready to take up the work in case Western shows unlooked-for strength.

It will be a busy day for scholastics. Tech plays a toughened foe in the Maryland Freshmen at College Park in one of the day's features. Central meets Emerson on the Monument Grounds and Georgetown Prep engages Takoma-Silver Spring at Silver Spring in the other ball games on the books.

Western's tennis team will play the Maryland Freshmen on the public courts, since the College Park courts are not in playing condition.

A. A. U. MAT EVENT HERE SHIFTED

Sparsity of Entries Confines One-Day Meet to Saturday.

WITH an insufficient number of entries for a two-night tournament, as planned, District A. A. U. officials yesterday decided to hold all bouts in the amateur championship wrestling tournament on Saturday night at the Jewish Community Center.

Up to last night, nineteen individual entries had been received by Jim McNamara, chairman of the committee in charge. McNamara stated that five or six more would be sent in before Saturday. Had a heavier response been made to the call for contestants, he said, the tournament would have opened tonight for purpose of running off the preliminary rounds.

As previously indicated, the largest team entries were made by the Jewish Community Center and the Y. M. C. A. Other organizations represented in the entry list are the Boys Club, Maryland University and National Training School.

Weighing-in Ceremony
Saturday Likely.

The weighing-in process for all contestants will be conducted probably Saturday afternoon. Definite decision, however, on this matter will be announced within a day or two. The pairings are to be made immediately after the grapplers leave the scales.

Following is the entry list to date:

115 POUNDS—Phil Hartman, University of Maryland; Herman Iskow, Jewish Community Center; Bingess M. Hayward, Y. M. C. A., and Joe Shockley, Y. M. C. A.

125 POUNDS—Jack Koswosky, Jewish Community Center; Al Rinaldi, Boys Club.

135 POUNDS—Raymond Herner, Y. M. C. A.; J. Evans, National Training School, and P. Monini, Boys Club.

TO CARRY ON FOR KNUTE ROCKNE

The rough and ready Heartley "Hunk" Anderson, former Notre Dame gridiron star and assistant coach under the late Knute Rockne, who is to have actual direction of the Notre Dame football team, is shown with his wife in their home in South Bend, Ind., after learning of the appointment.

Diamond Dust

WILLIAM E. MILLER, local furniture dealer, has made possible the formation of a strong senior team which will compete this year in the Capital City League, the proving grounds of local and nearby baseball, which is sponsored by The Washington Post. The Miller-Roamer A. C. is the result of Mr. Miller's gift.

For the last three or four years Mr. Miller has taken time out from his business worries to sponsor sandlot teams, but has never been rewarded with a championship-winning combination. This year promises to tell another story.

George "Pepper" Thompson will manage the team this year. He has been more than successful in the past four years, having been at the helm of two title winners and two teams well up among the also rans.

"Pepper" has signed up a formidable array of college and high school players for participation in the league this year. McAboy and Fitzpatrick, regulars on the Eastern High nine, champions of the high schools, will be on the team. Other noted players are Adams and Turner, also products of Coach Guyon; Physioc, Chase and Miller, of the Maryland University Freshmen; Wood, Wheeler and "Little Knocky" Thomas, of Tech, and Robertson, But t.Reigelman and Maupin, all experienced players. Not to overlook Buddy Graves, mascot.

Among the names noticed last night, as the German's Bakery Nine deposited their contracts for participation in the Capital City League, was "Wee Willie" Simpson, who will do the major portion of the Bakery team's hurling this year. Simpson pitched well for the Kennedy A. C. last year.

The Northeast Insects defeated the National Seniors by the score of 6-5 yesterday by virtue of the playing of Vincent, who banged out a homer and a double in three trips to the plate. Alainos, pitcher, for the Senators, struck out 15 of the Insects.

The Ross Juniors will meet the Y. M. C. A. Seniors at 5 o'clock on Diamond No. 4.

The Hawk Nine is in need of players. Call Walter Woods at Adams 0686.

Rockville is going to play the Fredericksburg Elks Sunday afternoon at Fredericksburg. Manager Coupard, of the Rockville Team, requests that all his players meet at Seam's store at 10:30 o'clock.

The Bethesda A C. wants games for Thursday and Saturday, to be played at 5 o'clock. Call Manager Horace Gingell at Bradley 80.

The Schwartz Perfect Diamonds end their practice season Saturday with a game against the strong Nation-Wide Stores Nine, on the Alexandria High School Diamond at 3 o'clock.

One of those kinds of meetings which the boys never miss will be held tonight at the Phoenix Club when the Griffith Blue Coal players will be measured for uniforms. It starts at 8 o'clock.

Manager Glascoe of the Blue Coals is more than pleased with the way his boys have conducted themselves in practice sessions to date and has called a halt to all but one drill a week. Wednesday evenings at 5:15 o'clock have been named as practice nights.

The Washington Red Sox will meet the Bethesda Firemen nine Saturday afternoon on the Junior Order diamond at Cabin John.

In pointing for their game Sunday against the post team of Fort Washington, the Isherwood A. C. players will practice tomorrow at 5 o'clock on the Rosedale Playgrounds.

The Isherwoods have been strengthened for the coming season with the addition of Stone, catcher; Doyle, outfielder, and the Wade brothers, infielder and pitcher, respectively. The team will be seeking its third straight victory Sunday. Games with the Isherwoodmen can be obtained through Manager Matt Flanagan, Atlantic 1408-W.

The Menorah Junior Insects are on the lookout for games with insect teams. Call Manager Louis Evry, at Lincoln 1329.

Among the June weddings will be that of Miss Helen Robbins and Bill Virnstein, the stellar Stewart A. C. pitcher.

Washington Golf Club Elects Six to Board

Six men long associated with the affairs of the Washington Golf and Country Club were elected to the board of governors to serve three-year terms last night at the annual meeting of the Virginia Club. Those elected are W. G. Campbell, A. W. Howard, Dr. Thomas J. Rice, Fred D. Paxton, D. C. Gruver and R. J. Wise.

CITIZENS CRITICIZE ASSESSING SYSTEM

Burleith Group Urges Care in Jury Selection in Reviewing Decision.

Disapproval of present tax-assessing methods in the District was voiced in a resolution passed last night by members of the Burleath Citizens Association, meeting in the Gordon Junior High School.

This action was taken when it was announced that a review of a protest made to the District Supreme Court by the association that taxes for that section were too high and were based on inflated land values resulted in an opinion rendered by Associate Justice Joseph W. Cox that the cost of reassessment would exceed the difference in taxes.

While the association did not disagree with the court's ruling, but rather agreed to abide by it, the resolution which was passed declared that the citizens had been "incorrectly and incompetently assessed," and that "greater care should be taken in the selection of assessing juries."

J. Mark Trite, from the Citizens Alliance, spoke on national congressional representation for the District, and Ralph H. Campbell, from the 1932 bicentennial committee, spoke on cleaning up for next year's celebration. It was announced that the Burleith Garden Club would hold a flower show at the Mount Tabor Methodist Church May 26 and 27, and that the Burleith association would award prizes in this year's garden contests for the community.

Two Men Are Indicted After Robbery of $1

Two men were indicted by the Grand Jury yesterday for robbery, proceeds from which allegedly netted them $1. They were William Reed and William Collier.

They are charged with having held up William W. Saunders, jr. on May 4 at Fifth and Rittenhouse streets northwest. Saunders had only $1 with him. Reed is in custody at Silver Springs, Md., but Collier has not yet been apprehended.

Attorney Indicted On Forgery Charge

Dow Also Accused of Making False Certificate to Legal Document.

An indictment charging forgery and making a false certicate to a legal paper was returned by the District grand jury against William J. Dow, lawyer and notary public, yesterday.

The indictment, in two counts, charges that on July 2, 1928, Dow forged the name of Elizabeth R. Cornish, a widow, to a deed purporting to convey the premises at 213 Seaton place northeast to Perley J. Moore and Mary S. Moore. The second count alleges that the attorney falsely certified as a notary public that Mrs. Cornish had appeared before him and had acknowledged execution of the deed.

Charles B. Murray, assistant United States attorney, said Mrs. Cornish had told him she knew nothing of the making of the deed or the subsequent transactions until she was notified of a default in two deeds of trust that had been placed on her property. She brought civil suit March 30, to cancel the deeds of trust on her property. The suit is now pending.

Louis Johrden, Post Staff Photographer.

National Hospital Day was celebrated with considerable zeal throughout the city yesterday when hundreds of persons visited the institutions. Here, at the Homeopathic Hospital, is a group of mothers with their children who were born there. Miss Mary McMillan, superintendent of the nurses' home, is pouring tea for the mothers while the children enjoy milk and graham crackers.

TOWN COUNCIL SPLIT IN CAPITOL HEIGHTS

Charge of Irregularity in Purchase of Tractor Leads to Probe.

The town council of Capitol Heights has been split by charges made by Councilman Wallace Rawlings that the purchase of a tractor for the town was made irregularly. The transaction was intrusted to one of the councilmen.

An investigating committee, headed by the mayor, has been appointed to inquire into the matter. This committee will report to the council at a special meeting to be called later. The committee consists of Selig Posen, the mayor, and Councilmen Rawlings, Frank Lawrence and James Barrett.

Two of the councilmen, members of the road committee, offered their resignations after the charges were made, but no action on them will be taken until after the report of the committee. Charges also have been made that one of the councilmen is ineligible for office, as he owns no property in the town.

The Prince Georges County Commissioners yesterday received an offer of a third building in Hyattsville to house the police court and other county offices, in a letter offering the row of new stores on Rhode Island avenue between Johnson avenue and Ravenswood avenue.

The letter, from A. H. Seltenspinner, of Hyattsville, said that the owner of the stores would remodel to suit the needs of the commissioners. A rental of $470 per month was set, but the offer said nothing about the new jail to be maintained in connection with the building.

A delegation composed of Noah Joffe, J. J. T. Graham and A. J. Thomas also appeared before the commissioners to ask funds for construction of 8½ miles of the Lanham-Severn road. No action was taken, however, as the road building schedule for this year has been made up.

A bill to provide for State construction of the road failed of passage in the recent Legislature, and it was understood that the commissioners of Prince Georges and Anne Arundel Counties would build it out of their funds. The road would open up a new territory and provide an alternative route to Baltimore.

The commissioners gave orders to advertise the name of Clarence Bond for constable in Laurel district. He will be appointed if no opposition appears.

Another application for appointment to the police force was received, Howard Slater, constable in Berwyn district, asking for a place.

J. D. Smith, road supervisor, was ordered to build two culverts on the Beaver Dam road.

Another request for repairs to a road was received when William V. Mahoney asked for improvements for the route from the Marlboro pike to Dupont Heights. The commissioners were invited by Strawn-Turner Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to attend Memorial Day exercises at the Memorial fountain in Marlboro.

After a complaint from Joseph C. Chaney, State roads engineer, that county road tractors were damaging State roads, the board directed road supervisors to cooperate with the State commission.

A coroner's jury last night decided that Robert Jackson, colored, whose body was found early yesterday morning along the railroad tracks in Bladensburg, "came to his death from a skull fracture caused by a means unknown." Jackson, who was about 64, had a gaping wound in the back of his head when found. The body was found along the Shepard branch of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad by a train crew.

Aftermath of a case in police court several weeks ago, a suit for limited divorce was filed yesterday by Mrs. Olive B. Dove against Jesse P. Dove, both of Camp Springs. Some time ago the man was arrested and fined $10 for assault and battery on his wife.

The woman charges "systematic campaign of nagging and abuse," beatings and nonsupport for three years. He gave her money only once, on the death of their baby, when she received $50, she alleges. They have three living children, she says. She asks for custody of the children and alimony. Attorneys Ryon and Hassall appear for her.

Another petition, filed by Gerald J. Stroup, of Riverdale, through Attorney Bird H. Dolby, asks an absolute divorce from Hanna B. Stroup, of Chevy Chase, on grounds of desertion. He says that they were married in 1927 and that she left him in 1928. They have no children.

Lectures on birds and bird life are being delivered in Prince Georges County schools by Bertram G. Bruestle, a representative of the State game division and the National Association of Audubon Societies.

Perry Boswell, of Mount Rainier, recently reappointed to the county school board by Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, yesterday was reelected president of the board. It was decided to open the schools on September 8 for purposes of holding teachers' meetings.

The scholarship to the Maryland Institute, resigned by Edward Hatch, was awarded to Martha Gilbert, of Laurel. A protest against placing the new Marlboro colored school on the McNabb tract was received from nearby property owners.

A delegation from the Aquasco colored school informed the board that three acres of land near the school could be obtained at $100 per acre. The board will inspect the tract as a possible site for the new school in this district.

Hiker, Using Phone, Gets $60 in Gold

It cost Dr. E. Milburn Colvin $60 worth of old gold to make the acquaintance of a Baltimore-to-North Carolina hitch-hiker yesterday.

The stranger entered the dentist's office at 435 Seventh street southwest, announced that he was going South by highway "lifts" and asked if he might use the telephone. Dr. Colvin gave his permission and stepped from the room for a few moments. When he returned the itinerant was gone and so was the gold.

The dentist told police that the man was about 35 years old, 135 pounds, medium size, dark complexioned and was wearing a gray hat and dark suit.

Dulaney Cleared Again by Inquiry

Husband of Slain Man's Alleged Companion to Escape Trial.

The second grand jury investigation into the shooting of William Lumsford Huff ended yesterday much in the manner of the first investigation, with an "ignoramus" by the jury.

The case was re-presented to the grand jury by District Attorney Leo A. Rover upon the insistence of members of Huff's family. They wished the investigation to clear his name and, believing that the controversy could best be settled by a further grand jury investigation, Mr. Rover agreed to allow the case a second presentation.

Hurtha Ira Dulaney, father of four children, and husband of Huff's alleged companion on the night he was shot and killed, thus will avert a trial. The shooting took place in the Dulaney apartment on H street near Thirteenth street northeast.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY IS CELEBRATED

Nine Institutions Join in Receiving Visitors, in Spite of Rain.

In spite of inclement weather, the nine hospitals of the Community Chest group of organizations celebrated National Hospital Day yesterday, two putting on special programs, two more holding open house and the remaining fifive receiving visitors throughout the day.

National Homeopathic Hospital held open house from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning and from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, serving tea at the nurses' residence from 3 to 5. As usual at this hospital, the day was observed as a "home-coming" day for the babies born there during the last year, and a large number, with their mothers, were present. There was milk for the babies and tea and cakes for the mothers.

The weather made decided changes in the plans for a garden party at Children's Hospital. About 200 youngsters from the dispensary department attended the party and a group of children from Columbia Junior High School gave a play for the little ones. Refreshments were served and the hospital also observed open house for mothers throughout the day.

Columbia Hospital for Women held open house all day, welcoming mothers of "Columbia" babies who came back for a visit. A corps of nurses acted as guides.

Garfield Hospital held open house with a corps of nurses in attendance as guides.

George Washington University, Emergency, Georgetown University, Providence, and the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospitals did not have any program, but were open to visitors throughout the day.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT AIDS IN BOND FIGHT

Will Act as Counsel of Group to "Protect" Mayflower Security Holders.

Appointment of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt as general counsel for the independent protective committee named simultaneously to protect "the interests of holders of bonds and other securities sold by or through the American Bond & Mortgage Co." was made public yesterday.

Announcement was made in a letter addressed to holders of second mortgage bonds of the Mayflower Hotel Co., operators of the Mayflower Hotel here, one of various large properties in several cities financed by the American Bond & Mortgage Co., whose Nation-wide activities are being investigated by the Department of Justice.

The letter was signed by Mrs. Willebrandt and by members of the independent protective committee, who include Ernest C. Mulvey, Brattleboro, Mass., banker, chairman; Harry A. Brown, of Boston, secretary, and John D. Colgan, of New York City.

Delays Held Disadvantageous.

"Every day's delay permits the 'principal stockholders' to consolidate an advantage which only the most vigorous action on our part can overcome," the letter read.

"At the request of many bondholders of the above issue (second mortgage bonds of the Mayflower Hotel Co.) the independent protective committee has studied the reorganization plan proposed by certain 'principal stockholders' of the Mayflower Hotel Co. under date of March 25, 1931. We advise its rejection by all bondholders. We invite you to deposit your bonds with our committee for the concerted action which the amazing proposals in the plan make imperative.

"If you have already deposited your bonds, under the plan you should indorse the certificate of deposit and deposit it with our committee.

"The 'principal stockholders' who have taken it upon themselves to rush you into accepting a plan of reorganization without affording you an opportunity to have it studied by representatives of your own selection appear to include the American Bond & Mortgage Co. and some of its principal owners

Present Management to Stay.

"The plan calls for the continuance of the present management personnel. Before agreeing to any such proposal, the bondholders are entitled to ask how many members of the Moore family are to be carried on the pay roll of the Mayflower under the guise of 'management personnel;' how many individuals who cooperated in getting up the bond circular of 1928 are to be paid before the bondholders get any interest and how much has the present management personnel by its activities in the past and by its cooperation in putting out this amazing reorganization plan justified itself to the bondholders in any way as being sincere and directly interested in the welfare of the bondholders; can the bondholders sleep soundly in the face of the suspicion that they are being ground between two millstones—an upper one of 'management overhead' and a lower one of self-interested 'principal stockholders'?"

Police Hideout Brings Indictment of 4 Men

A police hideout on Rhode Island avenue near Twentieth street northeast, which enabled them to spot alleged liquor runners coming into the city from Baltimore and other points along that route, yesterday resulted in the indictment of four persons on charges of transportation.

They were, William Mattison Irwin, Alva Kines, Peggie Allen and Ralph Brady. The first two were in one car and the latter two in another. Both cars were seized within a short time of each other, and both were alleged to have contained liquor. The indictments charge violation of the national prohibition act.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

A PLEA TO BABE RUTH.

OH, Babe, when you are in the game
Please play more cautiously—
Remember yours is not the same
Old frame it used to be!

Avoid collisions on the field,
Rear end or otherwise;
No awesome bludgeon can you wield
Without your legs or thighs.

Don't try to see what you can bust
As over foes you climb;
But, if you feel you simply must,
Break one limb at a time.

Try not to dislocate a hip
While sliding to a sack;
Protect your carcass from each rip
And never break your back.

Be careful of your outside, Ruth,
And of your inside, too;
You've only one of each, in truth,
And they will have to do.

Your epidermis needs your care—
It always served you well;
It's wrong for you to try to tear
Away your outer shell.

Two legs are all a man can grow,
Which is a reason why
You shouldn't scatter 'em as though
You had a big supply.

* * * *

DON'T try to see what you can sprain
Or what parts you can break;
Be satisfied with little pain
And very little ache.

Don't topple on your spine, my son,
Or fall upon your face,
For you will find that neither one
Is easy to replace.

Be careful how you leap, my lad,
When fielding, for it seems
A broken neck can be quite bad
If carried to extremes.

Don't try to fly (it's quite absurd)
When dashing for the plate;
For you to think yourself a bird
Today is very late.

Don't leap with gusto through the air
To ape the Duncan art;
You wouldn't have much vim to spare
If you should come apart.

Don't strive so much to be a wreck—
Remember what I say:
It's bad for you to break your neck
Much more than twice a day.

TELEVISION PATENTS ACTION IS DISMISSED

Court Says Inventor Jenkins Was Within His Rights in Selling His Ideas.

Justice James Proctor yesterday dismissed in the District Supreme Court the suit brought by the Radio Service Corporation of America against C. Francis Jenkins, radio and television inventor, to compel the inventor to make an accounting for huge sums of money realized by him on the sale of his television patents.

The Radio Service Corporation claimed it held a contract with Jenkins for the development and exploitation of his patents regarding television. Justice Proctor held, however, that the written contract between Jenkins and the corporation had been allowed to expire in 1927 and that there had been no continuing agreement thereafter between the parties.

As a matter of right, therefore, he held, Jenkins was within his legal bounds when he negotiated with others for the sale of his valuable patents. The inventor then sold his rights to a new corporation known as the Jenkins Television Corporation. He has realized $2,000,000 already, it was shown, and the corporation has received approximately $15,000,000.

In the finding of facts, Justice Proctor said: "The writings by and between the parties and their coincident conduct are, in my opinion, consistent with the theory of good faith and honorable conduct upon the part of the defendant Jenkins."

Jury Indicts Two In Station Robbery

Success of Police Radio Cars Is Demonstrated in Holdup Case.

The speed with which the radio-equipped police cars operate was demonstrated yesterday when the District grand jury filed two robbery indictments against Richard Lowell Miller and Lee Bridewell Leaman.

They were arrested at Wisconsin avenue and Windom place northwest, May 3, as they were leaving a gasoline station after allegedly binding the attendant, Clarence Muse, and robbing him of $14.10. A radio car had been dispatched to the scene and the two men were apprehended as they left the place.

After their arrest they are said to have been identified by Henry T. Knight, of Aurora Hills, Va., as the two who robbed him of $43.33 April 18 at a filling station at New York avenue and First street northeast.

FARE LAW EVASION ALLEGED BY SCHOOL

Discrimination Is Charged to Traction Companies in Bill by Strayer's.

Discrimination against commercial schools and an attempt to evade the children's reduced fare law enacted by the last Congress are charged to the Public Utilities Commission in a formal bill of complaint filed yesterday by Strayer's Business College.

Declaring that the business school has approximately 100 pupils who are under 18 years of age, P. J. Harman, director, and Arthur J. Hilland, counsel, jointly allege that the recent order adopted by the utilities body regarding enforcement of the reduced fare law is illegal and contrary to the intent of the act.

The complaint points out that private schools, some of which cater to exclusive and wealthy patronage, are included in the list of schools prepared by the commission as eligible to obtain the 3-cent fare. It also cites the words of the act as upholding the contention that no school children were to be excluded from privileges of the reduced fare.

The issue, which will be considered by the commission at its semiweekly meeting Thursday, may be far-reaching. If the demand of the Strayer's Business College is heeded and the 3-cent fare is made available to its pupils, other commercial schools, it is expected, will make similar demands. If the demand is refused, the complainant will take the matter to court.

Either way the commission turns it probably will be confronted with vigorous opposition from two street car companies, whose officials have protested losses which they state the lines have suffered since the low fare went into effect. Testimony was offered at a hearing prior to enactment of the law that the cost of transportation for each passenger is more than 6 cents and that the street railways would stand to lose about 3 cents on each pupil transported at the reduced rate.

The Strayer Business College complaint goes quite exhaustively into its charges and includes testimony of Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chairman of the commission, and others to show that the understanding was that the 3-cent fare would be available to all school children.
